

President Leads in Nation's Tribute at MacArthur Casket

Crowds in Almost Endless Procession Through Rotunda

BY RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
WASHINGTON (AP) — From under the great dome of the Capitol, where his body was placed with heart-tugging ceremony, General of the Army Douglas MacArthur travels today on his last earthly journey.

President Johnson, who led the nation Wednesday in paying highest homage to the old general, does him further honor today.

The President arranged to go to Washington National Airport and how in respect as the flag-draped casket begins its air journey at 2:10 p.m. to Norfolk, Va., for final services and burial Saturday.

In between those ceremonies of official tribute, Americans from all strata of national life paid homage of their own in hushed procession through the Capitol rotunda where the body lay in state.

Visitors went through without interruption all night. The peak came about 6 p.m. when the stream was at the rate of about 60 a minute.

Tourists Present
It tapered off later, but even in the 5 a.m. chill there were never fewer than three persons walking past the flag-draped casket.

Some were obviously night-shift workers on their way home — nurses, waitresses, bus drivers and others.

Some appeared to be tourist families passing through Washington. There were children in some groups even in the small hours of the morning.

One contingent of deaf mutes filed by about 3 a.m., exchanging comments in sign language. The crowd picked up again after the sun was up. Apparently many people were coming through the Capitol before going to work.

One early group consisted of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and six of his children. Amid Wednesday's mists and drenching rains, history was enacted.

Journey By Train
Down from New York, where MacArthur had lain in state in the renowned old 7th Regiment Armory, the funeral train bore the widow Jean, the son Arthur, 28, and in a flower-banked baggage car, the simple GI-issue coffin. At three points along the route—Trenton, N.J., Odenton and Aberdeen, Md. — military units stood in solemn salute, their colors dipped and their bands playing such hymns as "Lead Kindly Light" and "Faith of Our Fathers."

Soon after the train came to a stop here, the President strode slowly into Union Station.

Rail Strike Will Restrict Mail Handling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department will restrict the movement of all but first-class mail in the event of a nationwide railroad strike.

The department announced today that the shipment of all second-, third- and fourth-class mail beyond 150 miles from the point of origin will be curtailed. First-class mail will be moved by all available transportation and airmail will continue to get top priority handling, Postmaster General John A. Gronouski said.

Second-class mail includes newspapers and magazines. Third-class mail consists largely of advertising circulars. Fourth-class mail is parcel post.

First-class mail will move by air only on an available space basis. Gronouski warned shippers of emergency parcel post items such as medicines to use first-class or airmail if the shipment is to go beyond 150 miles.

Shippers of perishable goods were urged to discontinue mailings at once pending further information on the threatened strike.

Swedish Colonel on Trial for Espionage

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — The espionage trial of Col. Stig Wennerstrom began today and in two minutes was closed to the public for national security reasons.

Wennerstrom, former Swedish air attaché in Moscow and Washington, is charged with passing military secrets to the Soviet Union for 15 years.

Brother's Appeal for Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., joined the Senate civil rights debate today with a declaration that John F. Kennedy's "heart and his soul are in this bill."

"If his life and death had a meaning," said the assassinated president's youngest brother, "it was that we should not hate but love one another; we should

Ground Bubbles but Fears of Volcanic Eruption Subside

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — The ground started bubbling up before the eyes of startled Anchorage residents, then water began gushing out.

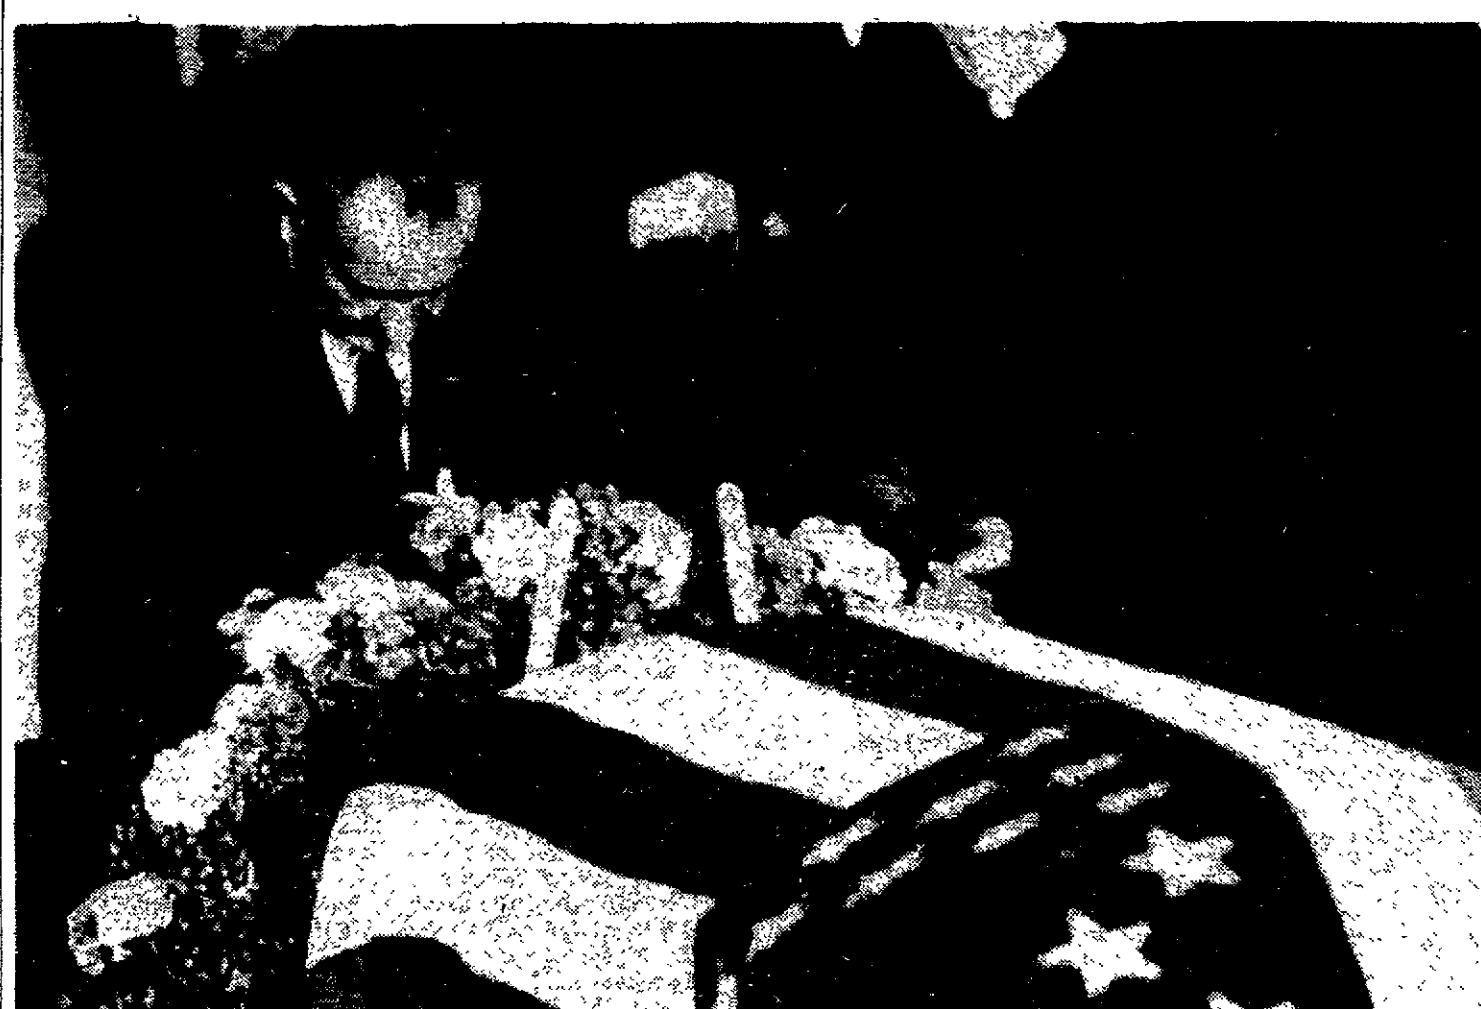

For those who had lived through earthquake and tidal wave damage, the new upheaval brought apprehension.

"I hope it isn't a volcano," said Mrs. Robert L. Hanson. It wasn't.

Roger M. Waller of the U. S. Geological Survey, said underground water pressure probably had built up in the spring thaw and pushed up the soil until it fractured and bubbled out Wednesday.

The result was a bulge about 50 feet across. Residents said the ground had risen 10 feet, pushing up trees as it went.

Emergency Talks Pressed in Effort to Prevent Rail Strike

Wirtz Wants to Continue Negotiating to Midnight Deadline if Necessary

BY NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor L. Willard Wirtz pressed emergency negotiating sessions today in an effort to head off a nationwide rail strike at midnight.

After a night session running into the early morning hours, Wirtz met with union representatives again at 10 a.m. EST. Railroad negotiators were to join the session an hour and a half later.

The labor secretary indicated that he planned to keep negotiations going "right on through" to the strike deadline if no agreement was reached.

He had reported "no progress" when the night session ended at 3:15 a.m.

H. E. Gilbert, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers who was absent from yesterday's sessions, came to the 10 a.m. meeting.

200 Roads Involved
Gilbert declined comment on the prospects of averting a strike. "I just got here," was his answer to questions from newsmen.

Charles Luna, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen was expected this afternoon.

Five unions and nearly 200 railroads are involved in the dispute.

As the all-night sessions ended, Wirtz indicated that President Johnson was gravely worried about the prospect that a

Governor and Aides Work on Road Program

Hope to Speed Up Construction but Without New Taxes

MADISON (AP)—Gov. John W. Reynolds has begun work on a new program to accelerate highway construction in Wisconsin, and hopes to have the proposal ready by the time the Legislature returns on Monday.

The governor called his staff and members of the State Highway Commission together Wednesday, less than 24 hours after voters had rejected by a 7 to 1 margin in a referendum a proposal to raise gasoline taxes one cent a gallon to pay for the roadway buildup speedup.

Saying the vote was against taxes, not against roads, the governor and those at the meeting discussed an accelerated program that would require no tax increase, and the possibility of hurrying road building by borrowing against anticipated federal funds.

Need Remains, Grasse Says
Harvey Grasse, chairman of the highway commission, said "there is still the same need for highway program there was before the vote."

Howard Koop, head of the Department of Administration, said "nobody in his right mind could say that the voters are seven to one against highway construction. The governor still thinks it is needed and wants to do something about it."

Rail Strike Will Work Hardship On Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Wisconsin industry will be hit hard if a national railroad strike goes into effect at 12:01 a.m. Friday, rail officials said today.

In particular, the heavy machinery firms in the Milwaukee area, would be crippled seriously, since it would be virtually impossible to ship by truck.

Railroads handle about half of all the freight in the state, according to M. R. Long, Wisconsin division superintendent of the North Western Road. He said other carriers could not possibly take up the slack.

Long said food supplies would not be seriously affected. A grocery said food wholesalers have inventories adequate for two or three weeks. Milk is shipped entirely by truck in Wisconsin but many perishable foods are shipped to the state by both truck and rail.

Belgians Plan Talks To End Medic Strike

Government Calls Conditions Ripe to Conclude Walkout

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Premier Theo Lefevre's government announced today it is opening negotiations at once with Belgium's 12,000 doctors and dentists who have been on strike for nine days. The announcement said conditions were ripe for ending the strike.

Interior Minister Arthur Gillson sat down with leaders of the 12,000 physicians and dentists. Both sides minimized the importance of the meeting, saying it dealt primarily with emergency medical arrangements that are functioning during the strike.

The government radio said, however, that something is moving and that the two sides might get to the heart of the dispute.

Some strikers, particularly general practitioners in rural Flemish areas, resumed house calls and seeing patients in their offices.

Strike leaders in Brussels declared, however, that the doctors would fight on to prevent implementation of changes in the socialized medical law which would set a scale of fees for treatment of persons covered by the state health insurance system and open doctors' treatment records on such patients to government inspection. Each side waited for the other to make the first move to reopen negotiations.

Premier Theo Lefevre's Catholic-Socialist coalition government was so confident of eventual victory that it began looking for some way to save the faces of the doctors and not leave them permanently embittered.

Government sources said the Cabinet was bound to stand fast because it would risk a general strike if it surrendered to the doctors.

Some striking physicians have taken up temporary residence in France, West Germany, Luxembourg and the Netherlands.

A few have threatened to stay away if the controversial act is not watered down or scrapped. The strike is in its ninth day.

General Election For British Will Be Held in Fall

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home announced tonight the British general election will be held in the fall.

A statement from the prime minister's office did not set a precise date, but it is expected to be Oct. 8.

The statement said: "In order to remove present uncertainties about the date of the general election, the prime minister thinks it right to inform the country of his decision not to ask the queen to dissolve Parliament before the autumn."

Gov. Scranton Isn't Candidate For Nomination

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton today made what he described as "one final effort" to convince supporters that he is not a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination. But he did not close the door irrevocably because "no American has the right to take that position."

At a news conference, Scranton said he would, if the GOP convention deadlocks, accept a draft that is "not engineered."

However, the governor said he wanted to make it crystal clear that he is not interested in the nomination for himself and that he is not playing a cagey game to secure it when the Republicans meet in July to pick a candidate at San Francisco.

Scranton said the reason for this unusual news conference was that he was becoming increasingly worried about the number of people who have been rallying behind his possible candidacy.

Gemini Launching Success U. S. Getting Ready for Manned Space Shot

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The United States today moved confidently ahead on its second manned space program, Gemini, following the success of the first unmanned flight.

A Titan 2 rocket propelled a two-seat Gemini spacecraft into orbit in an almost perfect launching. The rocket lifted off only one second behind schedule, but a launching official claimed the range clock must have been wrong because the countdown was completed without even a one second delay.

Project Director Charles Mathews of the Manned Spacecraft Center said the flight gave the Gemini team confidence to proceed toward a second unmanned flight and a manned orbital trip this year.

The second flight, set for late August or early September, is to hurl a spacecraft on a ballistic flight to test all systems, atmospheric re-entry and recovery.

The first manned mission calls for two astronauts to ride a Gemini capsule on a three-orbit flight, hopefully in November or December.

The opening Gemini shot tested structural integrity of the spacecraft, ability of the Titan 2 to place the capsule in a precise orbit, and aerodynamic compatibility of the rocket-capsule combination.

Maj. Gen. Ben I. Funk, commander of the Air Force space systems division, termed the launching a "storybook sort of flight" in which everything seemed to go right.

Engineers estimated it would require several days to analyze the data, but preliminary study indicated all objectives were achieved.

Nikita Launches Bitter Attack on Chinese Leaders

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Premier Khrushchev accused the Communist Chinese today of "irresponsibly playing with the destiny of millions of people."

He predicted their "spasmodic efforts to subordinate world communism will end in shameful failure."

In one of his strongest statements on the Peking regime, Khrushchev told a Soviet-Hungarian friendship rally concluding his 10-day visit to Hungary.

"Under the cover-up of Marxism-Leninism, the Chinese leaders are trying to push the Communist movement into a swamp of great-Chinese chauvinism."

"Their adventurous policies weaken the fight against imperialism. But their spasmodic efforts to subordinate the Communist movement will end in shameful failure."

2 Prominent Judges In Oklahoma Accused Of U. S. Tax Evasion

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Federal indictments have charged two prominent judges, who together have served 56 years on the Oklahoma Supreme Court, with evading a payment of $25,000 in income taxes.

The indictments returned Wednesday by a federal grand jury named Justice Earl Welch, long a leader in Oklahoma Indian affairs, and supernumerary Judge N. S. Corn.

Welch, 72, is senior member of the state's highest court with 32 years continuous service. Corn, 80, went into semiretirement in 1958 after 24 years as a Supreme Court justice.

Both judges are Democrats.

Maiden Speech
It was the maiden Senate address for the young senator and he conceded he spoke on the legislation with some hesitation for "a freshman senator should be seen, not heard; should learn, not teach."

He said in his prepared remarks that he had planned to make his first speech on issues affecting industry and employment in his home state "but I could not follow this debate for the last four weeks — I could not see this issue envelop the emotion and conscience of the nation — without changing my mind."

Kennedy, whose other brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, helped draw up the rights proposals, said he believed "the basic problem the American people face in the 1960s in the field of civil rights is one of adjustment."

"It is the task of adjusting to the fact that Negroes are going to be members of the community of American citizens, with the same rights and the same responsibilities as every one of us."

Brazilian Congress May Exclude Leftists

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Military and congressional leaders agreed today on a sweeping law to purge extreme leftists from Brazil's Congress, government and armed forces and sent it to Brasilia, the capital.

The new law was demanded by the generals who overthrew President Joao Goulart last week. It was reported that, as drafted after a series of meetings in Rio de Janeiro, the law would temporarily suspend rights guaranteed by the constitution.

Election of a new president was delayed until Friday or Saturday because of the negotiations on the antisubversion measure.

MacArthur Anecdotes Recall Times He Was Exposed to Danger

The General Never Showed He Considered Death Possible

BY RELMAN MORIN

In July 1945, during the Allied attack on Balikpapan, the great Borneo oil center, Gen. Douglas MacArthur and an Australian officer were standing on a hill studying a terrain map.

Suddenly, a concealed Japanese machine gun chattered.

Bullets began kicking up dust around the spot where they stood and clipping leaves from the trees nearby.

MacArthur continued to stare at the map. Moments later, he folded it carefully and handed it to the Australian officer.

As they walked down the hill, he said: "By the way, I think it would be a good idea for a patrol to take out that machine gun before someone gets hurt."

This is the final article of a four-part series.

MacArthur Story

There are many such incidents in MacArthur's story.

If he knew the meaning of fear, or ever considered the possibility of death, he never showed it. He exposed himself to danger in battle like a reckless platoon leader, although as commander in chief, he was by no means "expendable."

After the Inchon landings in the Korean War, MacArthur took one of these "see 'em" trips. He said he wanted to look around Inchon and Wolmi-do, the island that sits in the harbor like a cork in a bottle. Fires still were burning on both, and occasionally there was gunfire as the Marines mopped up.

Adm. Arthur Struble, commander of the naval task force that supported the landings, ordered up his barge. MacArthur stepped into it with him. Several correspondents piled in behind them.

Left Snipers
When they retreated, the North Koreans almost invariably left snipers behind. Using the Japanese trick of the Pacific war, the snipers hid in "spider fox holes"—that is, a hole covered with a trap door. Their special quarry was an American officer, especially a high ranker.

MacArthur asked to be taken close to the sea wall at Inchon, and then that of the barge circle near Wolmi-do.

He came within easy range for enemy riflemen, or even for a grenade thrower.

On the destroyers riding at anchor in the harbor, gun crews waited tensely. They were ordered to "cover" the barge, but there was nothing to shoot at unless the Korean Reds fired first. And by that time it might be too late.

"We sure heaved a sigh of relief when that barge moved away from here," a young Navy lieutenant told me, later. "MacArthur must be nuts to take chances like that."

Hazardous Trip
He took an even more hazardous trip on the morning when the "home by Christmas" offensive kicked off.

This time, he flew deep into enemy territory.

After receiving firsthand reports from the Army corps commanders that day, he ordered his pilot, Capt. Tony Story, to warm up his plane. We all expected to start back to Tokyo.

Instead, one of MacArthur's aides passed the word: "The general wants to go up and take a look at the Yalu."

Yalu River
A blank, frozen expression settled over the officers' faces, the expression so typical of soldiers setting out on a dangerous mission.

The Yalu River was the boundary between Korea and Red China. Communist bases on the river, and the territory between there and the 8th Army, bristled with anti-aircraft. Moreover, Communist MIG fighter planes frequently swept out of the skies to duel with American fighters or shoot up positions on the ground.

As MacArthur's plane headed northwest, American jets came into formation flying "cover."

The combination—an unarmed transport with a fighter escort—was a sure sign. It spelled out "VIP" to the Communists.

Eventually, the river came in sight.

On the banks were two cities, Sinanju and Sinuiju, both ringed with anti-aircraft and protected by Red fighter aircraft.

Lost Interest
MacArthur glanced casually at them. He seemed to lose interest in the terrain when his plane reached that point.

Then, instead of heading back toward the 8th Army lines, he instructed Story to fly eastward along the river. The plane banked sharply.

Shortly after, the fighter cover left it. The plane droned along—at a snail's pace, it seemed—following the river, across the bleak, chopped-up mountains on the border.

MacArthur's eyes were riveted on the ground. He was looking for Chinese troops. As it turned out, they were down there in large numbers, but well-concealed.

The rest of us kept scanning the sky for the sight of enemy fighters.

None appeared. As the plane finally banked again and turned away from the danger zone, an officer said, "That's what I call thumbing your nose at the enemy."

Griseofulvin Can Lick Certain Types of Fungi

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: You recently had an article concerning the drug griseofulvin and mentioned its use for fungus infection of the nails.

I have a friend who contracted this ailment or something similar. He said the army diagnosed it as a fungus infection. The treatments gave negative results. He will not see a doctor, he's had the condition for about 20 years and thinks nothing will help him. My friends and I are trying to convince him that griseofulvin may help.

—H. G. Z.

Griseofulvin is an antibiotic which attacks fungi. Most antibiotics attack bacteria but have no effect on a fungus infection. This is the only one, to my knowledge, which attacks fungi at all.

But it does a fantastically good job in the right cases.

It is not just for fungus of the nails. Fungus infections can attack the feet, the ears, the scalp—ringworm being an example—or any other area.

When the nails are affected, you can't expect quick results. It will be several months before the old nails grow out and are fully replaced by new ones. But the important thing—if you defeat the fungus infection, and keep it conquered until the fungus-laden nails have disappeared, then you've got the problem whipped.

There are people who have suffered for 20 years and upward, and who then got rid of the trouble in a matter of a few weeks or months.

Prescription Drug
It's a prescription drug, so you must have a doctor prescribe—and, incidentally decide whether to use the drug at all. One must be sure the infection is due to a fungus.

Some types of fungus disappear quickly. Others withstand the drug. The trick is to know which is which.

There's no reason to expect the average physician to be able to distinguish one type from another, unless he happens to have studied this difficult subject.

But a dermatologist usually can, because that's his specialty. There will be some cases in which he can't be sure, but in a great many he can give a reliable forecast of what to expect.

This is not a brand new drug. It has been in use for perhaps half a dozen years or so, which is sufficient to show that it is safe, and that it is effective with some fungi and not with others.

The drug is taken by mouth. The amount must be carefully calculated.

People who gave up 10 or 15 or 20 years ago should try this, provided their doctors identify their cases as suitable. Whether Mr. H.G.Z.'s friend will benefit, I can't say. But I hope he has the kind of fungus that will yield.

Dear Dr. Molner: I recently had a colostomy. Will you recommend a book about it that might help? —F. J. W.

KAUKAUNA—Members of the Kiwanis Club have approved a donation to assist in the sixth grade camp program as set up in the public schools.

Each year sixth graders participate in a 3-day camping-learning experience at Green Lake. Parents of children must pay a small fee to cover some additional cost in the camp-out and the Kiwanis donation will be used to help finance needy children to the affair. This year's camp trip will be held late in May.

A film strip, "The Man Who Wears the 'K,'" was shown. It describes the function of the club on a local and world wide level. Lt. Gov. Donald Jury will be guest speaker for the April 21 meeting of the unit.

Study Shows Difference in Cancer of Nuns, Lay Women

BY FRANK CAREY

PALM BEACH SHORES, Fla. (AP)—An unprecedented study of the health records among thousands of Roman Catholic nuns throughout the country indicates that the incidence of cancer—and distribution of its site of occurrence—among nuns is different "from that of their fellow women of America."

The evidence suggests the difference is due to their way of life.

This was reported today to the sixth annual seminar for science writers sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

Death Study

Dr. James T. Nix of New Orleans, La., said the study was aimed primarily at collecting and verifying the cause of death of nuns from 262 communities with a nun population of 116,173, during 1963.

It was felt, he said, that "comparison with known data on the cause of death of lay women over 20 years of age in the United States will clarify the relationship of celibacy, abstinence from alcohol and cigarette smoking, and other environmental factors to the type of cancer causing death in women."

Describing today's report as preliminary, Dr. Nix said it is based on 1,116 deaths among the 116,173 nuns, and a study of various other things such as the frequency of lung cancer and of gallstones.

Confirm Impressions

Among the findings:

1. A confirmation of previous, undocumented impressions that nuns rarely get cancer of the cervix, the entrance of the womb. The theory is, said Dr. Nix, that this infrequency of cervix cancer can be attributed to celibacy and virginity.

2. Deaths from cancer of the breast, womb and ovary were relatively frequent, however, with their number possibly explainable, the doctor indicated, by a life without pregnancy and breast feeding.

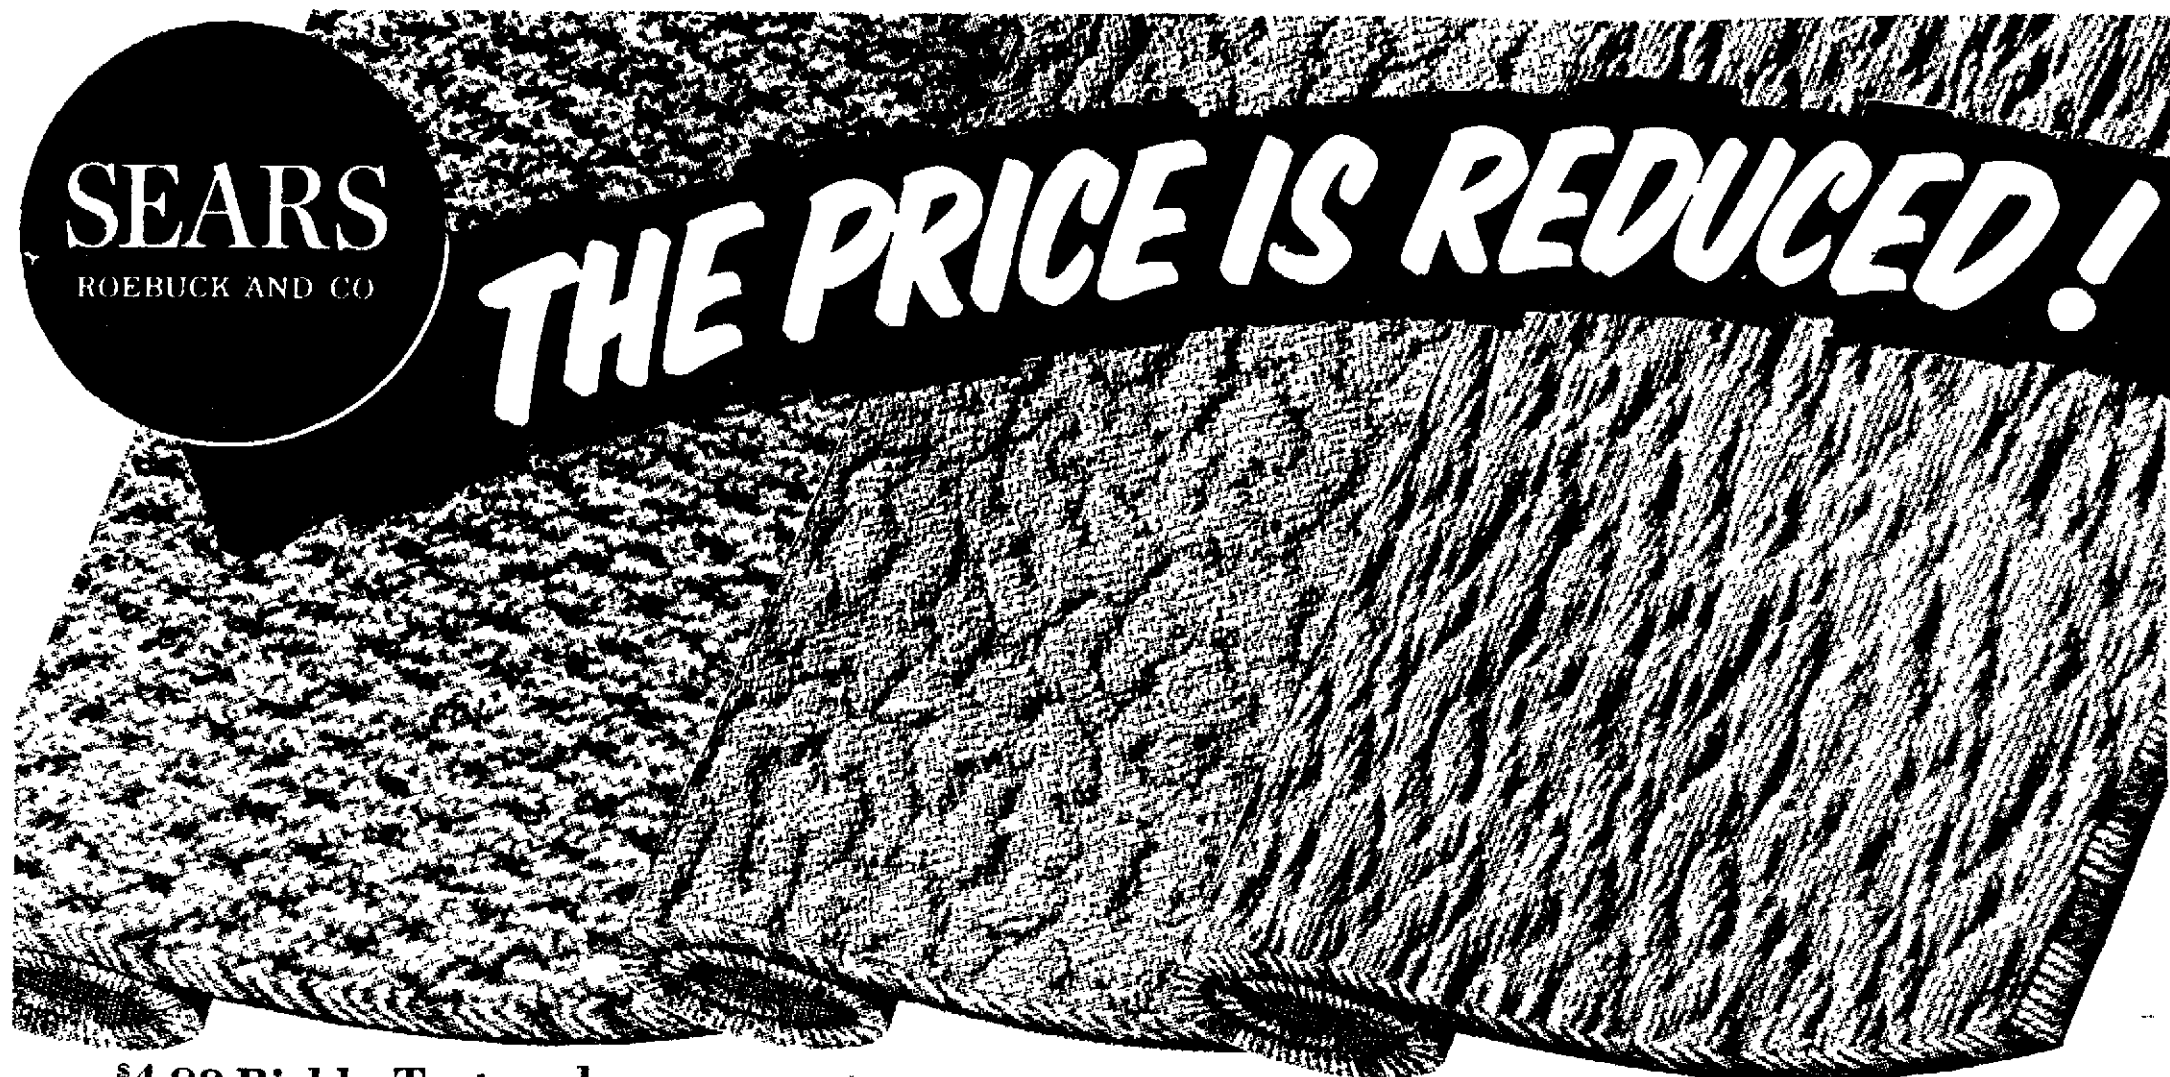

3. A pilot study of lung cancer incidence—undertaken among a population where cigarette smoking is forbidden and "exposure to smoke is largely limited to vigil lights and kitchen ranges"—showed only 33 cases of this disease among 100,000 nuns admitted to 500 Catholic hospitals over a 10-year period. "Primary carcinoma of the lung is less frequent in nuns than in the general population," Nix said.

A New "Card-Dialer" telephone that dials telephone numbers automatically, is now available for residence use. The new telephone, introduced by Wisconsin Telephone Company, utilizes pre-punched plastic cards for faster and more accurate dialing.

Self-Dialing Home Phone Introduced

Uses Pre-Punched Plastic Cards to Work Automatically

A new telephone that "dials itself" is being introduced for home use by the Wisconsin Telephone Company. The "card-dialer," previously available only for business telephoning, has been modified for home use says Richard Van Sistine, Appleton manager.

"By utilizing pre-punched plastic cards, the new telephone is able to dial itself, adding speed and accuracy in reaching frequently called telephone numbers," Van Sistine said.

"After placing the pre-punched card into the slot at the top of the telephone, the caller merely lifts the receiver and pushes the start lever. The automatic dialing system does the rest."

Business Use

The "card-dialer" is basically the same telephone that was introduced to Wisconsin business organizations in 1961. The only difference is that the business-type "card dialer" is equipped to handle several telephone lines, while the home-style model serves a single number.

"The new telephone should be especially helpful for people engaged in church and civic activities, and those who frequently call the same telephone numbers," Van Sistine said.

"It makes calling easier and more convenient because it eliminates the chance of mis-dialing a telephone number, as well as the need for maintaining a complete, personal telephone directory."

In order to keep the pre-punched cards in alphabetical order, a handy storage file is built into the phone.

Commission Delays Decision on Park Sale

MENASHA—Members of the city planning commission this morning delayed action on the sale of Racine Park for one week until the municipal building committee meets and makes a recommendation on a site for a new municipal building.

The council is scheduled to act on an offer by the Menasha Development Corp. tonight to purchase the land. Council, if it acts, will have to do so without a commission recommendation. The corporation offer expires tonight.

Public Works Director Robert Poss said it is possible the land may be put up for bids, with selection of a purchaser based on what development will be offered.

Political Pros Are Befuddled by Vote

Explanations for Wisconsin Balloting Has Hollow Ring

BY JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Befuddled political pros are wondering what's happening with the American electorate. Something is going on, but they're not sure what.

When the segregationist governor of Alabama walks off with about 35 per cent of the vote in a Democratic presidential primary in nearly all-white Wisconsin, the politicians have all kinds of explanations but most of them have a hollow ring.

Depending on their own position, the politicians attribute the vote to: Republican crossovers, Wallace's appeal to states' rights conservatives, opposition to civil rights, expensive advertising campaigns and local issues. There is some feeling that maybe the voters are just independent-minded this year.

The political pros are already shaken up by the bad guesses most of them made in the New Hampshire Republican primary. In that contest Henry Cabot Lodge, the man who wasn't there, won a write-in runaway over such on-the-scene battlers as Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

The popularity of a non-candidate who is working for the Johnson administration 10,000 miles away and who hasn't taken a position on a political issue since 1960 simply doesn't fit into recognized patterns by which the pros exist.

Nor does the relative success of the effort of Alabama's Gov. George C. Wallace to demonstrate northern dissatisfaction with civil rights legislation.

Washington's Democratic strategists were conceding Wallace 10 per cent of the vote before Tuesday's election.

Favorite Son
Wisconsin Gov. John W. Reynolds, elected head of a favorite son delegation, pledged to support President Johnson for the Democratic presidential nomination, had said in advance that a vote of more than 100,000 for Wallace would be "catastrophic."

After Wallace polled 261,000 to his own 508,000, Reynolds called the outcome satisfactory. He added that it only showed "what we've known all along, there are prejudiced people in the North as well as the South."

The White House got into the matter with Press Secretary George Reedy's interpretation that the outcome was "not in the slightest" a repudiation of the administration's civil rights program.

tion, carrying a black homburg in his hand. Head bowed, he moved along the great course, between lines of servicemen with presented arms, to the train. The First Lady was with him, garbed in black.

Then, the procession through Washington's famous streets. On the same caisson that bore President John F. Kennedy, the general's casket rode. And there too was Black Jack, the ceremonial Army horse, with empty saddle.

Up the broad steps of the Capitol, their polished boots moving in slow, perfect union, the military pallbearers carried the casket, to the rotunda.

There the chaplains of Senate and House eulogized the general. The Rev. Frederick Brown Harris, Senate chaplain, recalled for the audience of diplomats, Supreme Court judges, Cabinet members and other dignitaries, MacArthur's accomplishments in peace as well as war.

Speaking of the general's stewardship as occupation commander of Japan after World War II, Dr. Harris said: "Scorning any imposed humiliation, with dignity and understanding he rebuilt a conquered nation out of the ashes of defeat."

The President placed a wreath of red, white and blue flowers at the foot of the coffin. It was a huge wreath and a tall officer in full dress helped carry it.

Then, the general public came by the thousands, despite increasingly chilly weather

Sessions Continue in Effort to Avert Strike of the two union chiefs became important.

"It is a complication that I had not fully anticipated," the secretary said.

Facing the government—and the railroad-riding public—was a 12:01 a.m. Eastern Standard Time Friday strike deadline.

That's when J. E. Wolfe, chief management negotiator said after the Illinois Central walkout—nearly 200 railroads will post new work rules.

And that's when the unions say some 200,000 workers will walk off their jobs.

The dispute centers on the railroads' proposed changes in wage structure, job classifications, length of train runs and other working conditions.

The rules changes have been under negotiation on a national level since their consideration last year by the courts and Congress.

The unions tried to bypass the stalled national negotiations by seeking talks with individual railroads, but this was balked as the industry maintained a united front.

Each side blamed the other for stirring up the new crisis. Wolfe labeled the Illinois Central strike as "continued irresponsibility" on the part of the unions.

Spokesmen for five operating unions replied that if there is a coast-to-coast strike it will be the fault of the railroads for imposing the rules changes on a nationwide basis.

The railroads maintain that obsolete work rules are costing them millions of dollars a year unnecessarily. The unions say wage structure changes proposed by the industry would amount to pay cuts of 30 per cent or more for many union members.

Woman, Deaf and Blind, Is a New Citizen of U. S.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—Mrs. Aslaug Vaiealand, 50, neither heard nor saw the ceremony that made her an American citizen.

But Mrs. Vaiealand, who is deaf and blind, wanted no special favors. Mrs. Vaiealand came to the United States five years ago from Norway.

When Federal Judge A. Sherman Christensen offered to waive the repetition of the oath of citizenship Wednesday, Mrs. Vaiealand tearfully told him she wanted to participate in the ceremony.

As the judge read the oath, a friend interpreted it by tapping in sign language on Mrs. Vaiealand's hand.

NFO in 'Show Of Strength' At Mayer Plant

MADISON (AP)—Police towed away three trucks and rounded up four escaped hogs Wednesday during a demonstration at the Oscar Mayer and Co., meat processing plant.

The demonstration was "a show of strength" by the National Farmers Organization (NFO), according to Charles Arno of rural Whitewater, a member of the Rock County NFO unit.

About 150 pickets marched at the plant's livestock receiving gates, kept open by 30 police officers. The trucks were towed away when owners declined to move, telling police they were unable to decide whether to accept prices offered by the firm.

The NFO staged other demonstrations at the Mayer plant last winter. There were company-organization talks after the earlier NFO activities but spokesmen said none was requested Wednesday.

The demonstrations have been part of the NFO's campaign to win master contracts with processors of all types of agricultural products.

Nixon Against Any Concessions to Reds

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said today that surrender of the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu to the Chinese Communists could be the straw that would break the camel's back of resistance to communism in South Viet Nam.

Nixon, ending a two-day visit to Nationalist Chinese President Chiang Kai-shek, said "the free world cannot afford to surrender another inch of territory, particularly in Asia."

Actor Gets Permission To Tap Fund

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor Mickey Rooney has received permission to tap a $120,000 trust fund for $90,000 to pay overdue federal and state income taxes.

Rooney wasn't supposed to touch the fund until he was 60, but Superior Judge Ben Koenig ruled Wednesday the 43-year-old actor needs the money now.

The fund and another the same size were established in 1940 by Rooney's mother.

NEW YORK (AP)—Columnist Walter Lippmann says the Republican party probably will nominate Richard M. Nixon or Henry Cabot Lodge for president, but may turn to Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania.

Lippmann, noted political commentator, said Wednesday night on a television interview ("CBS Reports") that Scranton is "the man I think has the greatest promise as a public man in the coming years."

NEW YORK (AP)—A Harlem widow claims Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., has transferred property in Puerto Rico to his wife's relatives to avoid paying a $46,500 judgment to her.

Mrs. Esther James won the judgment in a defamation suit charging Powell had accused her of collecting graft for policemen.

In a new suit filed Wednesday in New York, Mrs. James asked $250,000 against Powell, claiming he transferred a house worth $50,000 to Mr. and Mrs. Gonzalo Diago, uncle and aunt of his wife, without financial consideration.

Snow Flurry Delays First Lady's Plane

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson arrived in New York today after her plane was delayed briefly before landing at La Guardia airport by a snow flurry.

The President's wife speaks at the first anniversary luncheon of the Eleanor Roosevelt Memorial Foundation. She planned a tribute to her predecessor in the White House before a gathering of some 2,500 women.

Mrs. Johnson is to fly back to Washington sometime in early evening.

Six Counties
In six counties former Vice President Richard M. Nixon carried in 1960, Morton said Wallace got only 18 to 23 per cent of the Democratic vote. In the 14th Milwaukee ward the late President John F. Kennedy carried by 84 per cent of the 1960 vote, he said Wallace got 30 per cent.

The pros are relatively certain that Wallace is going to wind up at the August Atlantic City convention with Alabama's 38 presidential nominating votes and a relatively few from other dissident states in the south. They can forecast without any qualms that Johnson will be overwhelmingly nominated.

Gen. LeMay Extension With Air Force Is Causing Some Curiosity

WASHINGTON (AP)—The reappointment of Gen. Curtis E. LeMay for another abbreviated extension in his job as Air Force chief of staff is stirring curiosity in the capital.

The White House announced Wednesday that LeMay—who does not see eye to eye with the Defense Department on some aspects of airpower—has agreed to a request by President Johnson that he remain in his post until next Feb. 1.

When his first two-year term as chief of staff approached completion last year, President John F. Kennedy reappointed LeMay for one year, with the expiration time this summer. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara had recommended to Kennedy that LeMay be given only a one-year reappointment instead of a full term.

The official explanation for the new reappointment by Johnson is that this will carry LeMay through to the point where he will have completed 35 years service and be eligible for retirement instead of dropping back to a lesser post somewhere in the Air Force.

Cause of Strike Threat

Proposed Changes in Railroad Work Rules

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here are the principal work rules changes involved in the railroad strike threat:

Wage Structure
The railroads are proposing extensive revision of the complicated pay structure under which employees are now paid on a basis of combined mileage and time worked.

The carriers contend the present pay structure results in unduly high pay in some cases, particularly on short train runs. They further contend that their proposal, including changes recommended by two special presidential boards, would actually result in pay increases for about three-fourths of the employees involved.

The unions argue that the change in pay structure would result in pay cuts of up to one-third for some employees.

Road and Yard Service
The carriers want to change present job classifications to give them greater flexibility in assigning road crews to yard work and vice versa. Road crews would be most affected by this change.

Self-Propelled Vehicles
The railroads want to eliminate some workers who are now required under present rules to man self-propelled railroad equipment.

Interdivisional Runs
The railroads would lengthen the distance that some train crews have to travel before being relieved.

The net effect of the changes would be potentially to eliminate many thousands of jobs. There are no reliable estimates on exactly how many jobs would be eliminated because their impact on individual railroads would vary.

The wage issue also involves counter demands by the union to revise present rules regulating overtime, holiday pay, night differential and overnight expenses away from home.

1954 MacArthur Interviews Reveal Thoughts on Korea

Great Britain, U. S. Blamed For Failure With Communists

BY LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — Two 10-year-old interviews with Douglas MacArthur published as the general lay in state have revived memories of the bitter Korean War dispute which ended his military career.

The two interviews were given in January 1954 to Bob Considine of Hearst Headline Service and to James G. Lucas of Scripps - Howard newspapers, and were withheld until MacArthur's death. They were published in copyrighted stories Wednesday.

In a memo on the interview, Lucas quoted the famed old warrior as blaming British "perfidy" and Washington "harassment and interference" for failure to crush the Communists in Korea.

Lucas Story
According to the Lucas story, MacArthur became convinced he was the victim of a conspiracy in which the State Department was showing his communications with Washington to the British, who in turn relayed these to the Chinese Reds.

A British Embassy spokesman denied the charge, saying: "British Commonwealth troops were serving in Korea at the time and it is unthinkable that the British government would endanger the lives of their own troops by passing information to the Communist Chinese as alleged."

A State Department spokesman declined comment "on this purported statement" by MacArthur "at any time and particularly at this time."

Decisive Victory
Considine said MacArthur told him "he proposed to win a decisive victory in Korea by the employment of 500,000 Nationalist Chinese, an atomic attack on the enemy's air and supply bases in Manchuria, and the spreading of a huge belt of radioactive cobalt across the northern frontier of that battle scarred land."

Considine quoted MacArthur as saying:

"Of all the campaigns of my life the one I felt most sure of was the one I was deprived of waging. I could have won the war in Korea, in a maximum of 10 days, with considerably fewer casualties than were suffered in the so-called truce period."

"The enemy's air (power) would first have been taken out. I would have dropped between 30 to 50 atomic bombs on his air bases and other depots strung across the neck of Manchuria."

MacArthur Plan

The Hearst writer also quoted MacArthur as saying he almost convinced President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower on Dec. 17, 1952, to adopt an undisclosed plan by MacArthur to end the cold war but was frustrated by the late John Foster Dulles who was to become Eisenhower's secretary of state.

Although it was former President Harry S. Truman who ended his military career in a dispute over the Korean War, the Scripps-Howard story said MacArthur paid grudging respect to Truman as "a man of raw courage and guts. The little bastard honestly believes he is a patriot."

A spokesman for Truman said Wednesday the former president would make no rebuttal and was sticking to his praise of MacArthur, upon his death, as "one of the great military men in our history."

General Relieved

Truman relieved MacArthur of his Korea command on April 9, 1951, in an order which climaxed a series of rows between the general and Washington headquarters. After Peking sent in troops, MacArthur proposed expanding the military effort to Red China's "coastal areas and interior bases." Truman and U.N. allies favored limiting the campaign in Korea.

The Lucas story quoted MacArthur as saying "those fools in Washington" prevented his winning the Korean War with his plan for bringing in Nationalist Chinese troops and sowing a 5-mile-wide belt of radioactive cobalt along the Yalu River after defeating the Red Chinese to permanently seal China off from Korea.

Abundant Cobalt

MacArthur reportedly said the United States had cobalt "in abundance" as a by-product — presumably from atomic weapons manufacture — and the radioactive belt would make it suicidal for an army to try to cross it.

The story said MacArthur was told of British "betrayal" by a field commander, Lt. Gen. Walton Walker, but "said he became convinced he was the victim of a conspiracy" only after he had ordered Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer to bomb the Yalu River bridges after the Chinese intervened.

Just as the bombers were about to take off four hours later, MacArthur was quoted as saying, his order was "peremptorily" countermanded by Gen. George C. Marshall, then secretary of defense.

Truman Memoirs

Truman has written in his memoirs that quickly upon receiving a message from Stratemeyer that MacArthur had ordered bombing of a Yalu bridge connecting Korea with Manchuria, the President conferred with Secretary of State Dean Acheson. Acheson in turn had checked with various State and Defense Department officials, including Dean Rusk, then assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs. (Acheson declined comment on the Lucas story.)

Truman said Rusk, now secretary of state, had "pointed out that we had a commitment with

Peking Asks Laotians To Stop Quarreling

TOKYO (AP) — Red China called on the three quarreling factions in Laos to unite behind their neutralist premier, Prince Souvanna Phouma.

A joint communique issued at the conclusion of Souvanna's visit to Peking said the two parties agreed that the correct way to bring peace, independence and neutrality to the kingdom is to apply the 1962 Geneva accords.

In effect, this was a public call on the pro-Communist Pathet Lao group, headed by Souvanna Phouma's half-brother, Prince Souphanouvong, to drop its opposition and work with the premier.

The British not to take action which might involve attacks on the Manchurian side of the river without consultation with them."

So only an hour and 20 minutes before the planes were to take off, Truman said, a message was sent to MacArthur banning all bombing of targets within five miles of the Manchurian border until further orders. MacArthur obeyed but replied the limitations would have "disastrous effect."

Savannah Drydocked For Cleaning After Year of Operation

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — After a year of little activity, the nuclear ship Savannah is in drydock undergoing a general clean-up.

The sleek ship, the world's first atomic-powered merchant vessel, was moored here nearly a year because of labor problems. During that time her bottom became encrusted with barnacles and paint began chipping.

The Savannah is scheduled to leave next week for Houston, New Orleans, Baltimore, Boston, New York and Germany and England.

Soviets Say Chinese Violating Frontier

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union accused Red China Wednesday of systematically violating the Soviet-Chinese border.

A statement issued by the government news agency Tass said: "The Chinese side has for some time continuously and systematically been violating the Soviet-Chinese border, often in a crude and provocative form."

Attitude May Reflect A Growing Affluence

Russia May Have a Practical Reason For Being Less Belligerent, Reckless

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — Premier Khrushchev's desire for goulash explains why a man in this country can be radical at 19 but conservative at 45.
He had nothing to lose at 19, but a lot at 45: A house, wife, kids to put through school, ambitions to be company president and a pension if he lives long enough.
As Khrushchev said in a jibe at the war-minded Red Chinese who defame him for not being war-minded enough: "We didn't fight the revolution in order to live worse."

Goulash was his way of saying he prefers prosperity to revolution. It's a reflection of Russia's growing affluence, which is a good, practical reason for being less belligerent and reckless.

Like the man of 45, Khrushchev isn't anxious to risk a nuclear war which would wipe out all the Russians have struggled to achieve—a better life—since the Bolshevik Revolution of 1917.

This makes the Russian-Red Chinese split in a very deep sense a difference between the haves and the have-nots of communism.

The Russian masses in their revolutionary days, like the Chinese now, didn't have much to lose but their lives and must have felt, as their acceptance of communism showed, that anything was better than nothing. In time this may prove true with the poor of Latin America and elsewhere for, where there are impoverished millions and the wealthy few resist reforms, communism has an excellent talking point.

Two Generations
Now after two generations of work and privation the Russians, as a nation and individually, through the acquisition of possessions have won a sense of domestic security, a condition that can dampen revolutionary ardor.

At least it can by this reasoning: Revolution disturbs, peace preserves.

This doesn't mean, and Khrushchev's words can't be interpreted as meaning, the Russians have become too placid to encourage revolt where it suits them if the revolt doesn't risk all-out war.

While he has preached all-out war, he considered as acceptable the so-called "liberation movements" which can take in everything from guerrilla wars to uprisings.

The Soviet leadership has to feel, by its doctrine, that the best world is a Communist one, and the sooner the better. But even here the leaders must have some misgivings about believing it totally.

They have learned from their unhappy experiences with those renegades from Soviet control—Yugoslavia, Albania, Red China—that a Communist world might not necessarily be a peaceful one after all.

Such divisions in a Communist world might put Moscow in a new jeopardy, but this time from its ideological brothers instead of from capitalism.

This is what Red China would like, judging from its hostility to Moscow now, and what she apparently has been seeking in her attacks on Khrushchev and her appeals to the Russian satellites to cut loose.

Ironie Condition
This condition has its own irony: If Red China became the center of a Communist world, no doubt, judging from Russia's troubles with her one-time allies, there would be fresh divisions and hostility to Peking.

The reason: Nationalism has been a stronger force than communism, even within the Communist states. So long as this is true, and it shows no signs of diminishing, it will assert itself to the disadvantage of Red harmony.

Construction Work At St. Elizabeth To Begin in Spring

Two New Units Are First Phase
Of Project; Bid Opening May 4

Construction of the first two units of St. Elizabeth Hospital's $7.3 million expansion program will start this spring.

Specifications have been let out to contractors for bidding on the total program. Bids will be opened May 14, and construction will start as soon as possible after that.

First units to go up in the five-year program will be a five-story wing south of the present main entrance and a one-story unit, with a smaller second floor section, to the east of the present building. Construction is expected to take 20 to 24 months.

Also planned are razing of the building to the north and construction in this area of an addition with a three-story convent and a one-story section for auxiliary services. Extensive remodeling of the present main building is planned.

Connect to Wing
Existing chapel and laundry areas will be connected to the new north wing.

The expansion program will increase the hospital's number of patient beds from 200 to 300. Remodeling of the present building will be the final phase of the building program, with the exception of some renovation in the new south and east wings. Patient services will continue without interruption during the construction. Sister Kathleen, hospital administrator, said occupancy might be cut slightly at times but will be kept as high as possible.

Psychiatric Section
The expansion plan includes a new 50-bed psychiatric section, located on one floor of the new south wing and in a remodeled area of the present building. This department will include occupational therapy rooms, a private lounge, kitchenette and laundry. The hospital's present psychiatric section has 17 beds.

A federal grant of $542,000 has been approved under the Hill-Burton Act for the psychiatric department and for a percentage of the cost of related service departments.

A total of $1,181,000 has been pledged in the hospital's expansion fund drive. The Franciscan Sisters, who operate the hospital, have donated an additional $600,000. The finance committee of the advisory board is studying possible ways of obtaining the additional funds.

Expansion Planning
Berners, Schober and Kilp, Green Bay architects, did the expansion and remodeling planning.

The proposed new unit east of the present main building will house diagnostic and clinic areas, the first aid room and emergency entrance, X-ray, laboratory and physical therapy departments and a portion of the medical records offices.

In the center of this one-story addition will be a smaller second floor area for the labor and delivery rooms. This area will

City May Halt Employee Pay During Recovery From 2nd Job Injury

Appleton employees who become injured in a second job will not receive their regular city salary during their convalescence, a proposed city policy will state.

The personnel committee is preparing a policy which will place a city employee on leave of absence if he is injured while working at a second job. The city will continue to pay portions of the employee's fringe benefits.

The policy is expected to be debated by councilmen at their Wednesday meeting.

Kaukauna Wants to be Site For 4-Year UW Extension

Mayor Bayorgeon Asked to Write University's Board of Regents

KAUKAUNA — Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon was authorized Tuesday night to contact the University of Wisconsin Board of Regents to have Kaukauna considered as the site of a possible four-year University of Wisconsin extension.

Ald. George Simon (3rd) suggested the mayor write the regents and explain why Kaukauna should be considered for a four-year school instead of Green Bay.

Aldermen voted to apply for a federal grant to assist in modernization and improvement of the sewage treatment plant as recommended by the Donahue and Associates engineering firm. The firm is investigating the needs of the Kaukauna plant and have indicated total cost of improvement would be $683,050, but with federal aid the cost to local taxpayers could be reduced to $478,135.

Two bids were received for a truck-mounted loader. Aldermen voted to purchase the equipment from Nor Equipment Co., Oconto Falls, at a bid of $3,685. Five bids were received for a truck, but action was delayed pending review of specifications by the city engineer.

The city engineer was instructed to prepare specifications for the paving of Main Avenue from 11th to 17th Street. A motion to include Hendricks Avenue, Arthur Street and Bel Air Court was delayed when the council deadlocked on the motion.

City Clerk Karl Marzahl was authorized to contact the Army Corps of Engineers to find out what could be done to improve and beautify government property near the Grignon Home to help enhance its attractiveness.

Aldermen authorized the sandblasting of a portion of the swimming pool at a cost of $120 and the installation of a 4-foot cyclone fence at White City Park at a cost of $150. The health and recreation committee was authorized to study White City Park to determine the feasibility of a baseball field, and Riverside Park to study the need for a new boat dock. Recommendations will be returned to the council.

City Atty. Donald Green was instructed to draw up an ordinance covering sump pump and water hookups in future construction projects and requested to get an opinion from the League of Municipalities governing the number of election workers used by the city.

A request from the police department for building a shelter for dogs or other animals was referred to the legislative committee.

The resignation of Ronald Bichler from the police department was accepted. Police Chief Harold Engerson was authorized to advertise for a replacement and two men to serve as summer relief officers. A petition from residents in the Town of Buchanan, south of 10th Street, for annexation was referred to the planning commission.

Approval was given, through the recreation department, to appropriate $300 to help sponsor a Junior American Legion baseball team this summer. Money not used is to be returned to the city.

Valley Fair Shopping Center to Celebrate Its 10th Birthday

Valley Fair Shopping Center will celebrate its 10th birthday today through Saturday.

Free birthday cake will be served by store managers in the mall during the observance from 6 to 9 p.m. today, 3 to 6 and 6 to 9 p.m. Friday and noon to 5 p.m. Saturday.

Other features of the anniversary celebration include a display of 600 original oil paintings by Wisconsin Arts and International, and the presentation of the 10 finalists in the Miss Appleton pageant.

The girls will be presented and interviewed in a special program in the central court at 2 p.m. Saturday. Don Smith of the Appleton Junior Chamber of Commerce, pageant sponsor, will act as master of ceremonies. Organ music starting at 1 p.m. Saturday will be by Frank Stanella.

Plans for the 10th anniversary celebration were made by the Valley Fair Shopping Center's Merchants Association. New officers of the organization are Robert Schoonover, president; Beryl McClurg, vice president; Glenn Kvalley, treasurer; Aaron Dix, secretary, and Kermit Lilja, immediate past president.

Electric and Water Utility
Jobs Explained

Kaukauna Mayor
Reveals Projects
To Common Council

KAUKAUNA — Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon Tuesday night informed the common council of a series of projects and purchases contemplated this year under the authorization of the Electric and Water Utility Commission. The projects are recommended by Norbert Rhinerson, utility manager.

Items approved in the electrical branch includes an overall study of present and future electrical needs at a cost of $13,500; mercury vapor lighting conversion in Kaukauna, Little Chute and Combined Locks at a cost of $15,000; substations and switch structures at various plants at a cost of $140,000; conversion of various feeders and substations, $25,000; construction of a 34.5 KV pole line to Little Chute, $30,000, and purchase of two mobile radio units and base station, $1,800.

Other electrical projects planned include new distribution construction on the northeast side of Kaukauna at a cost of $15,000 and a Combined Locks Paper Co. line at a cost of $5,000. Major items have been approved for bidding and construction by the Public Service Commission, the first steps in a $500,000 program to construct transmission, distribution and substations facilities to supply the power needs of customers during the next 10 to 20 years.

Water Department Jobs
Water department projects contemplated for 1964 are not as extensive as electrical improvements, but all are new area projects or to reinforce and upgrade the water distribution system.

Major projects include a $15,000 appropriation for 900 feet of 12-inch main on Island Street from Oak Street to the south side of the Tailrace Bridge, and a $13,000 project for installation of 1,350 feet of 10-inch main on County Trunk OO from Highway 55 to Tobacco Street. Other projects total $23,000 and include engineering services, extension of minor mains, completion of water tower maintenance and painting and other projects.

Street Project Requires Closing
Of Memorial Avenue Bridge for Month; Cost Set at $425,000

Originally programmed for 1965, reconstruction of Badger Avenue (U.S. 10) and a portion of S. Memorial Drive will begin June 22, Public Works Director Robert W. Bues said today.

The $425,000 projects, which include widening and resurfacing of the Prospect Avenue-Memorial Drive intersection, will force closing of the Memorial Drive bridge from June 22 to July 21.

"After July 21, it is anticipated the bridge will be open to traffic up to and through the Prospect Avenue and Memorial Drive intersection," Bues said.

Details of the major construction were settled Monday at an emergency meeting of the city's coordinating committee with representatives of several municipal and public utilities in attendance.

Federal, State Funds
Badger Avenue and the intersection reconstruction calls for the city to pay 15 per cent of the pavement costs, plus all sidewalk replacement and land acquisition. Federal and state funds will cover 85 per cent of the cost of surfacing and widening the road.

Plans call for widening Badger Avenue to 48 feet by the construction of new curb and gutter, and resurfacing with asphalt. The estimated cost is $255,000 with the city paying $57,000.

The improvement of S. Memorial Drive will consist of a complete concrete pavement removal and replacement with a total of 52 feet, the work estimated to cost $169,000, including $42,000 in city funds.

Detour routes have been prepared and will be announced soon.

Contract for the project will be awarded by the Wisconsin Highway Commission May 26 with construction to be scheduled over a 120-day period.

Detour Route Maps
Bues said maps of the construction area with various detour routes are available at his office, and have already been distributed to various utility and emergency services.

The two-part project will consist of constructing Badger Avenue from West Wisconsin Avenue (State 96) to S. Memorial Drive, and S. Memorial Drive from the Fox River bridge to Lawrence Street.

Explaining why the street improvement is starting earlier than anticipated, Bues said the scheduling of other projects now will also commence at an earlier date.

At the coordinating committee meeting, provisions were made to assure that all detour routes will be kept free of construction activities.

Detour on State Street
Bues said one of the proposed detour routes will extend over a portion of N. State Street in the vicinity of the Franklin-Washington Streets intersection.

He said the Washington-Franklin extension will proceed "at an accelerated pace" in keeping with orders of the Wisconsin Public Service Commission to have the project finished in 1964.

The Badger Avenue-Memorial Drive project will force postponement of two other projects until late in the summer. The Lawe Street bridge was to be closed soon for repairs and construction of storm sewer from the Fox River east to East College Avenue.

A year ago the city was thinking of proceeding with the Prospect-Memorial intersection widening its own. However, Bues' and the council's street-sanitation committee asked for a delay to see if Appleton could qualify for state-federal aids, which it did.

Rail Worker Hurt in Mishap

J. J. Spoerl Crushed
By Equipment at Neenah Crossing

NEENAH—An Appleton man identified by hospital and police authorities as James Spoerl, 2019 N. Oneida St., was rushed to Theda Clark Memorial hospital shortly before noon today after he was crushed between a traffic bar and a switch control apparatus a few feet from the Chicago Northwestern railroad depot at Commercial and Clyburn Streets.

Hospital authorities report his condition as very critical.

The accident apparently occurred as Spoerl, a signalman for the railroad line, was working on the crossing traffic signal box. A witness to the accident said an approaching train caused the road crossing barricades to turn on and the barricade crushed Spoerl against the switch box.

Chamber Building Plans Progressing

Appleton Businessmen Hear
Chairman's Progress Report

Final plans are being completed for an Appleton Chamber of Commerce building, Chairman Gus Zuelke told the businessmen's annual dinner meeting Wednesday night.

He said at a recent meeting committee, "we were assured of $35,000 from just four firms." He said, "With this enthusiasm and encouragement, we are now sure we can erect the building and give the chamber a permanent home. I will see that a detailed report will be made to each member.

Directors Named
Action at the meeting included naming five directors. They are J. W. Glaeser, H. C. Prange Co.; Allan C. Mulder, Miller Electric Manufacturing Co., Inc.; D. R. Morrissey, Morrissey and Lang Co. Inc.; Walter L. Rugland, Aid Association for Lutherans; and John B. Torinus. Post-Crescent editor.

Zuelke said the Appleton chamber has passed rigorous standards of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and been accredited along with eight other Chamber organizations.

"Essentially," Zuelke said, "this accreditation gives recognition to a well developed and balanced program for community improvement."

The chamber president said the organization has made "great progress toward accomplishing our organization goals."

He cited "improved air service and port facilities," parking facilities "improved through the

Ad Sales Not Connected to Phone Firm

A New York-based firm using telephone listings in the Fox Cities area to sell advertisements for a directory is not connected with the Wisconsin Telephone Co., officials said today.

It was reported several persons in the area received statements for $27.50, the cost of a listing in a directory.

"Lest people get the impression this is for our Yellow Pages section of the phone directory, we are alerting residents and businessmen that this has no connection with our company," a spokesman for the Wisconsin Telephone Co. said.

The firm making the mail solicitation does not say in what type of directory the listing will be.

Similar solicitations have been reported in other parts of the state, prompting officials of the Wisconsin Telephone Co. to issue a blanket statement to disavow connection with the New York firm.

Old-Fashioned Lovelorn Advice Gone With Bathtub Gin, Ann Landers Tells

Post-Crescent Columnist Speaks
At Chamber of Commerce Dinner

BY JEAN OTTO
Post-Crescent Women's Editor

The same keen wit and delightful humor that Ann Landers daily spills into her Post-Crescent column, brought cascades of approval and appreciation from Chamber of Commerce members and guests at their annual dinner Wednesday evening at the Conway Hotel.

The old-fashioned advice to the lovelorn column of 25 years ago has gone down the drain with bathtub gin, Miss Landers said. The deluge of mail received every day asks advice on many subjects other than love. People today, she commented, want more of everything except calories and taxes. Every letter received, no matter how illiterate or trivial, receives a personal reply. She believes that anyone who takes the time to write deserves an answer.

Miss Landers is quite clear about taking her work seriously. She doesn't write to "roll 'em in the aisles". Her column is designed to help people with problems. If it makes them laugh occasionally, so much the better. Humor makes advice seem less pompous. She is sharply aware of the responsibility that comes from the faith placed in her, and, saying it is impossible to be an oracle, knowing everything about everything, turns to experts for answers.

Professional Advice
Professional advice from lawyers, doctors, businessmen and psychologists are as close as her telephone. She does not try, she says, to substitute for the clergy, the doctor or anyone else. Hundreds of times a month she urges writers to seek professional aid from those who can help with alcoholism, marriage counseling, mental health facilities or legal aid, all in the writer's local community.

Giving advice to the readers of the 565 newspapers in which her column appears is a major undertaking. Her staff of nine, working at the Chicago Sun-Times, includes one woman who does nothing but open mail. She spends $25,000 a year on postage, stationary and other basic expenses. She spends 10 or 12 hours a day on the job.

The diminutive speaker says she loves her work. If she didn't, she wouldn't do it. "My husband works full time now and I don't have to make a living." Writing a column is a fascinating and exciting business, she explains. She hears from just about everyone—people on suburban estates and in city slums, the intelligent and the unbelievably ignorant, the funny and the heartbreaking. Letters come from the poorly educated and those so deft with the language she must look up the words.

Letters from low income writers are the most honest, she said. They send frank and earnest cries for help. Every batch of mail contains a surprise, she said. Her writers are the "most warm-hearted, irascible, critical

Miss Ann Landers was the guest of the Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce Wednesday evening at their annual dinner meeting. The syndicated Post-Crescent columnist told how the operation of writing her advice column is carried out, and cited some of the problems she believes vital in America today. Above, talking after the program, are Gus Zuelke, Chamber president; Richard Van Sistine, vice president, Miss Landers and John Reeve, past president. Miss Landers will speak to Fox Cities high school students today.

Politicians Differ on Meaning of Primary

Reynolds Received All Tangible Prizes From Wisconsin's Democrats

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Spokesmen for civil rights groups agreed Wednesday night the size of the vote received in Wisconsin's presidential primary by Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace showed their organizations must work harder.

But among political figures, there were almost as many different answers as there were contributors to the discussion of the quarter of a million votes given the segregationist governor.

All of the tangible prizes in the Democratic primary went to Wisconsin Gov. John W. Reynolds, a favorite son pledged to President Johnson.

Reynolds received 508,597 votes, according to the unofficial Associated Press count, and won the entire 46 votes Wisconsin will cast at the Democratic national convention. Reynolds got 47.8 per cent of the total vote and about 65 per cent of the Democratic vote.

25 Per Cent
Wallace received 251,148 votes, or about 25 per cent of the total and 35 per cent of the Democratic ballot.

Another 294,724 votes, or 27.6 per cent of the total, went to unchallenged Republican favorite Sen. Rep. John Byrnes of

Green Bay, who will receive the state's 30 votes on at least the first ballot at the Republican national convention.

Wallace's total was 2½ times the figure Reynolds had anticipated he might get from "fanatics and bigots," and it was 10 times the number of votes Wallace said he might get. He had centered his campaign on attacks on the pending federal civil rights bill and claims that the federal government was encroaching on private lives.

Meet Wallace

Wallace was met by a high school band playing "Dixie" and 3,000 cheering well-wishers who waved Confederate flags and banners as he returned to Montgomery Tuesday night.

"I assure you," he told the crowd, "the leadership in both parties and the liberals in Washington have had their eyeteeth shaken."

He also appealed for support for his slate of candidates for unpledged electors in Alabama's Democratic primary May 5. He is sponsoring the unpledged ticket which has refused to promise in advance to support the Democratic presidential nominee.

In reaction from Washington, the White House said Wednesday night the Wallace vote was "not in the slightest" a repudiation of the administration's civil rights program, according to presidential press secretary George Reedy.

Primary Outcome

White House sources appraised the primary outcome and said two out of three votes in any situation is good and one to which there certainly would be no objection if that were the nationwide average in the upcoming presidential election. Johnson has not yet announced his candidacy.

Postmaster General John Gronouski, a former Wisconsin tax commissioner, said the results were a resounding triumph for Reynolds "and for the progressive liberal programs he advocates." Gronouski returned to Wisconsin to join the Reynolds campaign last weekend, and read a telegram from Johnson who saluted the Wisconsin governor as a patriot and leader.

Bill Endorsed

Gronouski said Wisconsin voters "strongly endorsed the civil rights bill" by giving 75 per cent of their support to Reynolds and Byrnes. "The people of Wisconsin voted against bigotry and racism by a 3 to 1 margin—That is the most significant and heartening fact about Tuesday's primary."

Democratic Rep. Clement Zablocki said many voters fell for Wallace's "lies" about the civil rights bill. He said that in addition to support from "misinformed voters," Wallace also was backed by "radically bigoted ultraconservatives."

Democratic Sen. William Proxmire said Wallace "lost" and "lost big."

Open Primary

Sen. Gaylord Nelson, also a Democrat, said in a statement issued for the Senate that many Republicans took advantage of Wisconsin's open primary law and crossed over into the Democratic race to vote for Reynolds. He said this was a warning that if Republican officials opposed civil rights, many in the party would not go along.

Rep. Henry Reuss of the 5th District in Milwaukee said "Republican irresponsibility clearly played a part in the Democratic primary."

Wisconsin Republican Chairman Talbot Peterson said at Appleton the vote for Wallace was a "crushing defeat" for Reynolds and President Johnson "no matter how they try to explain it."

Byrnes said he didn't think "there was any great civil rights significance in the primary results." And Rep. Melvin Laird, R-Wis., denied Republicans had voted heavily for Wallace. He said most Wallace votes were cast in the strongly Democratic precincts in Milwaukee.

SEC Planning Controls on Floor Trading

FDA Recommends Prosecution for Drug Distributors

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

CONTROLS: The Securities Exchange Commission announced Wednesday it plans to place rigid controls on floor traders in the New York Stock Exchange.

The announcement apparently ended a long argument between the exchange and the commission, which had criticized floor trading as "a vestige of the private club atmosphere" that marked exchanges years ago.

New Rules

The proposed new rules, accepted by the exchange, would prohibit a broker from trading for his personal account while executing orders for his customers.

If normal procedure is followed, the new standards would be formally adopted about May 15 and would become effective 30 to 60 days after that date.

KREBIOZEN: The Food and Drug Administration has recommended to the Justice Department that distributors of Krebiozen be prosecuted, a spokesman said Wednesday.

In the long and heated controversy over the drug, its sponsors claimed it was effective in combating cancer. But the FDA announced in September that its studies had identified Krebiozen as nothing more than creatine, an amino acid plentifully available from meat in the normal diet. The agency said it found it was ineffective in the treatment of cancer in animals.

In November, the agency cited the product's principal sponsors for alleged interstate shipment of Krebiozen under false claims and other misrepresentations, giving them an opportunity to show cause why they should not be prosecuted.

U.S.-RUSSIA: President Johnson is described as having noted with some satisfaction a "more normal situation" in American-Soviet relations.

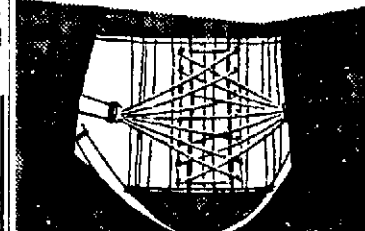

This word was relayed to newsmen Wednesday by U.S. ambassador to Moscow Foy D. Kohler after he had a 50-minute meeting with Johnson.

Kohler cited as an example of more normal relations the recent cultural exchange agreement and negotiations on an American-Soviet consular conventions.

More Than $140,000

Fund for Victims of Thresher Has Grown

WASHINGTON (AP)—When the 129 men of the submarine Thresher went down with her to an ocean grave a year ago they left behind almost 200 grieving children — and a lot of people who remembered.

A fund was started to help educate the children and on big and little contributions has grown to more than $140,000 under the guidance of a New England woman with deep roots in American history.

Christened Submarine

She is Valentine Hollingsworth of West Beach Hill, Beverly Farms, Mass. She is the mother of five children and as a great-granddaughter of Alexander Hamilton she christened the Polaris missile submarine Alexander Hamilton two years ago.

Mrs. Hollingsworth, who started the fund collection with a goal of $500,000 was honored Wednesday in a surprise ceremony at the Pentagon.

H. Nitze gave her a certificate of appreciation for her "ambitious, unselfish dedication and driving zeal."

The "lion's share of the assistance has come from the Navy, not just our Navy but the Royal Navy, the Royal Canadian navy and the Japanese navy," Mrs. Hollingsworth said.

A British navy bandmaster wrote a song in tribute to the Thresher's dead and all proceeds from the copyrighted song goes to the fund.

The fund to send the children to college is for those of both the Navy personnel aboard and the several civilian technicians in the Thresher when she failed to surface from a test dive off Cape Cod.

There are 194 children now, 11 of whom were born after the nuclear submarine sank, she said.

House Passes 2 Bills Wanted by Johnson For This Election Year

Food Stamp Program Was Part of 'War on Poverty'

WASHINGTON (AP)—From the sometimes fractious House of Representatives, President Johnson had two legislative plums today.

They were: The big and controversial wheat-cotton subsidy bill; a top priority election year measure on his desk and ready for his final signature.

House approval of the food stamp program, a key part of his declared "war on poverty." This goes to the Senate, where it must await action in the dim future after the civil rights bill is disposed of.

Hot Session

The House acted on both measures after a hot, bothered and bewildering session that began at 11 a.m. Wednesday and didn't end until 12:44 a.m. today.

The food stamp plan passed handily by a 229-189 margin in spite of a long campaign of delaying action by Republican opponents. It got the support of 216 Democrats and 13 Republicans, while 183 Republicans and 26 Democrats were opposed.

But the wheat-cotton bill was a cliffhanger, approved 211 to 203. A switch of five votes would have changed the outcome. That vote came well after midnight under a procedure that limited debate to one hour and banned any amendments.

A tense hush came over the chamber as the last stragglers were being recorded in the "well" of the House, a circular area in front of the speaker's chair. Suddenly, Republican leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana demanded that the well of the House be cleared, a rule seldom invoked.

Speaker John W. McCormack of Massachusetts replied mildly that the Democrats should get a turn after a group of Republicans had recorded their votes. He told the remaining Democrats to step back a pace and continue.

A torrent of boos came from Republicans, a measure of the feeling that had built up during the long session. Veteran observers in the press gallery could not recall a similar occurrence.

GOP Charge

Republicans charged that big city Northern Democrats had entered into an "unholy alliance" with Southern conservatives, trading their support for the food stamp bill in return for support of the cotton-wheat bill.

The food stamp program expands and makes permanent a pilot operation. Under it, needy families would buy food stamps with the portion of their income they would normally spend for food.

The stamps would be redeemable at the grocery for more than the cash paid in, and would buy just about any food item. The idea is to increase the variety and food value for poverty stricken families, some of which are now getting a direct dole of surplus food stocks owned by the government — powdered milk, dried eggs and the like.

Truce Called In Cleveland's School Dispute

Special Group Will Study City Problem With Integration

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—All sides in a civil rights dispute have agreed to a two-week truce that includes appointment of a special group to study Cleveland's problem of school integration.

The agreement, hammered out Wednesday night at a seven-hour City Hall meeting, will end all demonstrations and picketing and new school construction. It may be extended an additional two weeks if all sides show progress is being made toward resolving a situation that resulted in one death and violence this week.

Mayor Ralph S. Locher helped work out the agreement at a closed-door session with top city, school, civic and civil rights group leaders. He announced the truce terms.

End Sit-in

Some 125 civil rights demonstrators, outnumbered by police, ended their long City Hall sit-in without incident after they heard the announcement. They had waited in the lobby while their leaders met in the mayor's private chambers.

They cheered and applauded loudly as they heard the terms of the truce.

The demonstrators had gathered at noon at school board headquarters to pay tribute to the Rev. Bruce W. Klunder, 27, a white Presbyterian minister, who died Tuesday when a bulldozer ran over him at a school construction site. They then marched to City Hall.

Earlier Wednesday, Common Pleas Court Judge John V. Corrigan had issued a temporary order banning further construction, picketing or trespassing at the site of the new Lakeview public elementary school on the East Side.

FORD TOTAL PERFORMANCE WINS ATLANTA "500" FOR 3RD YEAR IN A ROW!

Latest win gives Ford 11 out of last 12 NASCAR 500 milers!

ATLANTA, April 5: In a blazing exhibition of total performance, ace driver Fred Lorenzen piloted his specially modified '64 Ford to a stunning victory in the Atlanta "500" before a cheering crowd of 75,000 spectators.

This victory marks the 11th time that Ford has captured a NASCAR stock car event of 500 miles or more starting in May, 1962.

In the past two years, tough, dependable Ford-built cars have carved out an incredible history of victories in virtually every kind of automotive event possible—from stock car races to economy runs, from rallies to endurance tests.

This is the dramatic way to show that Fords have changed... and the sure way to be certain they keep on changing.

Ford enters special cars in open competition, in addition to its extensive laboratory and test track programs, because competition provides an intensity of testing that no proving ground alone can provide.

The lessons Ford has learned in racing have already led directly to such refinements as a stronger rear axle, streamlined "fastback" styling, better brakes and an improved ignition system.

Because Ford enters open competition, the cars at your Ford Dealer's are stronger, better handling, safer and thrifter in the long run. They're built for total performance.

25 Students to Give Papers At Junior Science Academy

District Event at Lawrence to Decide Names of State Entrants

Twenty-five area high school students will present scientific papers at the northeast district meeting of the Wisconsin Junior Academy of Science in the Lawrence College Science Hall Saturday.

The symposium, from 8:15 a.m. to 4 p.m., is one of seven district contests from which winners are selected for the state competition in Wausau May 2. Chairman for this contest is Robert Davidson, Kimberly High School teacher. Presiding over the contest will be George Sylvester and Kay Davidson, Kimberly High School students.

The students' papers cover a broad range of scientific topics from "Plasma, the Fourth State of Matter" to "Ultraviolet Light's Effects on Bacteria." Three winners to represent the district at the state meeting, three alternates and three honorable mention winners will be named. All winners will receive a subscription to a scientific magazine.

Valley Schools
Students from Appleton, Fox Valley Lutheran, Xavier, Kimberly, Oshkosh Lourdes, Manitowoc Lincoln and Sheboygan South high schools will participate.

Students will present their papers at 15-minute intervals from 8:30 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. and 1:15 to 3:45 p.m. in the following order:

Robert F. Nowacki, Lourdes, "Testing the Kendall System of Developer Classification;" Claudia T. Shapiro, Manitowoc Lincoln, "What Effects Will Ra-

cedures and events actually encountered by adult scientists.

Students must select a suitable problem for investigation, develop and master techniques to solve the problem, formulate conclusions and report the results. Reports take the form of an oral presentation with a time limit of 15 minutes, including time for answering questions.

Each presentation will be judged by three or more qualified persons. Criteria of judgment are scientific thought, scientific value, originality, technical skill, thoroughness and presentation, worth 10 points each; continued interest, time limit and practicality, worth 3 1/2 points each. A perfect score is 70 points.

Northwestern Chemical Society will present prizes to the top two winners.

Appleton residents cast 15,417 votes in Tuesday's election, 73.7 per cent of the registered voters.

The percentage is the highest since November, 1960, when 21,110 persons, or 86.5 per cent of those eligible, voted.

City Clerk Elden Broehm said today the Tuesday totals are unofficial until the board of canvassers meets next week. There were 20,918 persons registered to vote.

In other post-election developments: —Broehm announced that all candidates and committees must file expense statements with his office as of 5 p.m. Tuesday.

—Mayor Clarence Mitchell sent a notice to alderman cancelling an informal meeting which had been set for next Tuesday night to review rules and orient aldermen-elect.

County GOP Begins Drive For Members

"Project pyramid," the spring membership campaign of the Outagamie County Republican Party kicked off today with the mailing of 1,300 pyramid-shaped letters asking County GOP members to help build membership ranks.

John MacDonald, 1615 Orchard Drive, county Republican membership chairman, said "Project pyramid means progress: progress toward GOP victories through a record membership in 1964. Rather than ask individuals to work long hours selling memberships in quantity, we are only asking each present member secure two more. We feel certain that every Republican will be willing and able to help in this way to build our 1964 membership pyramid to record heights, for memberships now, mean votes tomorrow."

Membership goal has been set at 2,400, 10 per cent of the Republicans in the County voting in the last national election.

A chart has been set up at GOP headquarters in the Conway Hotel to record the progress of "project pyramid."

to introduce new members and review rules.

—A special board of canvassers will be appointed at next Wednesday's meeting to make an official count of the votes cast in this week's city election.

—Four new aldermen, the mayor, clerk, treasurer and assessor will take their oath of office at the April 21 meeting of the common council. At that time the council will be organized and committees appointed for the year.

—On Wednesday, May 6 the new council will have its first regular business meeting.

Mitchell said he saw no reason to have a meeting Tuesday and another Wednesday. "We can get our regular business out of the way and review the council rules in one night," Mitchell said.

Broehm sent meeting notices out today.

Policy Would Limit Convention Junkets

Appleton Personnel Committee Drafting Proposal to Control City Officials' Trips

Junkets to state and national conventions by city of Appleton every three years unless there are "special circumstances" by if a policy being drafted by the city's personnel committee is approved by councilmen.

The policy would allow city officials to attend one national convention every three years as a participant in a program. Officials would have to choose the convention of their choice within a 500-mile radius of Appleton. This would practically eliminate all trips to both coasts and Florida or Texas and keep the official in the Midwest.

Some departments spend as much as 70 man days per year at conventions at meetings with expenses totaling as high as $1,700.

Under the proposed policy, a paid employee who has more city official could take only one responsibility would be allowed up to a maximum of 10 days per year to attend conventions. Lower-paid employees with less responsibility would be allowed five days away from the job. The committee is prepared to submit a salary chart to outline what officials receive the maximum junket and what employees receive the minimum.

Officials who want to attend conventions and meetings must prepare a request for attendance 30 days in advance of the meeting so that the approvals of the personnel committee and the common council are received. All convention expenses will have to be budgeted.

Ann Landers Speaks At Chamber Dinner

sharp-tongued, lovin'est cross section in the world."

Three Types of Readers
Miss Landers says she has three kinds of readers—the perpetually irritated, who object either to the problem or the advice; the secret, who never admit they read but always know what the column says, and the slavish, who frankly admit they never miss it.

About half her mail comes from men, most of whom fall in'to the secret reader group.
They write because they are worried, and almost all are worried about one thing — women.
They are concerned about their mothers, their mothers-in-law, but usually their wives or their girl friends. Often it is a combination of the last two.

Men's attitudes toward her column have greatly changed in the last 10 years, she said. They tell her she sounds as if she knows the score, and then go on to say that they are successful in business but their personal lives are a mess; they can run a board of directors, but can't cope with their kids, or they can communicate with others, but not with their wives. They are so busy making a living, she says, they have failed to make a life.

One of the most telling and tragic features of our times, Miss Landers believes, is the lack of American integrity. She cited the TV quiz scandals, saying we should mourn not for the cheaters, but for the average person who saw nothing wrong with the cheating.

Thousands of Quizzes

People face thousands of such quizzes every day in supermarkets. One-fourth of us will not steal anything, she said; one-fourth will steal everything, and the rest vary according to temperament and the chances of not getting caught. In only a handful of colleges today is cheating not a common practice. Students can buy lecture notes, final exams and doctorates for a given price. Executives travel first class when the company foots the bill, tourist when they pay their own way. Those who wouldn't steal from their friends think nothing of taking a half-empty day from an employer.

About one-fourth of Miss Landers' mail is from teen-agers, and presents a good idea of what young people are thinking about. She is often asked, she said, whether teens today are worse than when their parents were growing up. She cannot say they are the same. They have the same urges, but the opportunity for mischief provided by the automobile has changed everything. It is a chance to get away, it provides status and is a portable bedroom. More kids get in trouble at an earlier age today than ever before.

Unmotivated, unproductive, disturbed kids are the result of parents' unhappy marriages and too much money. All kids get out of gifts is the habit of receiving, she said. Too many know the price of everything and the value of nothing. If she could give American parents one bit of advice, Miss Landers would tell them not to give their children everything. Let them want and let them earn. They'll respect both parents and themselves for it. Teens are still children, and they need to be told 'no.'

"Teen-Agers and Sex"
She believes her book, "Teen-Agers and Sex" serialized in the Sunday Post-Crescent, the most important thing she has ever done.

Before she began her advice column nine years ago, Miss Landers, in private life Mrs.
Jules Lederer, said she had no idea how many stumbling, frightened people needed help; how many dragged their migraines and ulcers to work with them, how many homemakers drink alone and how many men and women cannot get through a day without tranquilizers.

Life is tough for everyone in one way or another, she commented, advising that no one envy a neighbor. "You never know what goes on behind closed doors and drawn curtains."

She compared life to a grindstone, saying that whether it polishes or reduces to dust depends on what the person is made of. Trouble is the great equalizer, the common denominator of living that makes a person grow up and identify with others.

Everyone wants love, recognition, acceptance, peace of mind and peace in the world. These will come only from loving and understanding the inner man,
Miss Landers concluded.

Correction

A headline which appeared in Wednesday's Post-Crescent incorrectly said incumbent 12th ward Supv. Glenn Pelton asked for a vote recount in the ward's supervisor election Tuesday.

The story correctly said that Robert Rougeau, who lost the election to Pelton by five votes, had asked for the recount. Pelton had 465 votes to Rougeau's 460.

The Post-Crescent regrets the error.

No Parking Signs That Used to be, Then Weren't, Will be Once Again

Winnebago County Crews Will Return Four Markers, Add More on Road Near Beer Bar

"No parking" signs that used to be, but then weren't, will be back where they belong on Outagamie - Winnebago County Trunk BB near a teen-age beer bar.

The four signs in Outagamie County which disappeared on the back of a Winnebago County highway truck Wednesday morning are being replaced today by the crew which is adding four more signs to the south-side (Winnebago County) side of the road.

Authorities of two counties were somewhat confused Wednesday when an Outagamie County patrolman saw the signs being removed by the highway crew. The area has been the scene of a mild police crackdown of illegal parkers who frequent the Crystal Lake Beer Bar on the Winnebago side of the roadway.

Morrissey's Orders
County police and sheriff officials of both counties knew of no reason the signs should be removed. One official in the Winnebago County Highway Department which has maintenance responsibility on the roadway and its signs said he knew the signs were coming down, but he did not know why.

Leon Morrissey, highway commissioner in Winnebago County cleared the air somewhat Wednesday afternoon when he revealed he had been the one who had ordered the four signs taken down. He said at the time he thought the signs were no longer needed.

Morrissey said that the signs had been placed on the Outa-gamie County side of the roadway at the request of Outa-gamie County officials last winter when ice skaters parked on the road and used a nearby skating rink.

He assumed, due to the lack of ice skaters, that the signs were no longer needed. He ordered the signs down.

Last week, however, police began an intensive crackdown of parkers putting their cars on the roadway to go into the teen-age tavern nearby. About a half dozen motorists were arrested and have received fines up to $25.

Sheriff Not Aware Sheriff Richard Lowell of Winnebago County Wednesday when he learned the signs were removed said he was not aware of the order, but was disappointed because the signs were a good
"tool" in enforcing the no parking ban on the south side of the road. Outagamie County police patrol the north side of the roadway, Winnebago police patrol on the south side. Parkers reportedly have been parking on both sides of the road.

Sheriff Calvin Spive of Outa-gamie County said he planned to look into the situation. County police were not aware that the signs were to come down and Outagamie County Highway Commissioner Clarence Brown-son said he knew of no reason the signs were to be removed.

Return Today
Morrissey later changed his order when he learned that police had arrested the violators on the roadways. He said he was not aware of the continuing problem. He ordered the signs replaced on the north side of the highway, then ordered four more signs for the south side of the road.

The signs are to go up today.
County police on both sides of the line planned to continue an enforcement of the no parking on roadway bans even though the signs were not present. State laws forbid placing car wheels on the concrete while the car is parked.

There do not have to be signs warning of the violation.
Authorities said the signs are merely "reminders" to the motorists and are placed at certain places for convenience.

Meanwhile, Outagamie County highway crews this week have placed no parking signs on W.
Spencer Street in the Town of Grand Chute near a recently-opened teen-age beer bar, the Country Aire.

Hires Attendants
Mrs. Bernice Fischer, owner of the tavern, said that several customers at her tavern were ticketed for illegal parking on Easter night, the night the club opened. She said she has learned that some cars blocked the entrance to her 20 acre parking lot and that latecomers could not get into the lot. The lot has room for about 1,000 cars.

Mrs. Fischer said she went to the courthouse when she heard that there had been tickets issued, and hoped to be able to pay the fines. She learned, however, that the violators had to appear in court being as they were under 26 years of age. The violators received fines of $20 and court costs of $5. Mrs. Fischer said she thought the fines would run about $1 or $2.

Mrs. Fischer has hired two car attendants to work in the lot and prevent jamming of the entranceways.

Ask Change In Inspection Departments

All Divisions Would Operate Under 1 Director

Reorganization of Appleton's several inspection departments into one division has been recommended by the common council's welfare-ordinance committee.

Eleven council members attended the meeting in city hall at the request of Ald. R. P. Groh (8th), committee chairman, to review several reordined municipal ordinances.

The committee indicated it will recommend the council create a new post—director of inspections—to be in charge of one department which would include the plumbing, building, electrical, heating and weights and measures inspectors.

Inspectors now operate out of their own departments. There was no objection to the proposal.

Groh said once the council

Appleton Youths Lead State Model Legislature Delegation

Robert Taggart Will be Governor; Beth Mounts Is Assembly Speaker

Appleton will take the reins in the state capitol this week-end.

With Robert (Chip) Taggart as governor and Beth Mounts as Speaker of the Assembly, the Appleton delegation will hold an influential political position in the model youth legislature which will convene in Madison Friday and Saturday.

Sixteen Appleton teen-agers will try their hand at the inner workings of state government in the YMCA-sponsored Youth in Government program.

Probing at serious problems, the Appleton "legislators" will introduce bills to establish a mandatory jail term for drivers convicted of driving while under the influence of alcohol, to make any illegitimate birth after the first an illegal act subject to a $500 fine or one year in jail, to lengthen the governor's and lieutenant governor's terms to four years and require that they be affiliated with the same party and set up more stringent testing requirements for drivers' licenses.

Lower Voting Age

Showing their own interest in the political arena, the young people also will introduce a bill to reduce the minimum voting age in Wisconsin from 21 to 18 years of age.

Duly-elected state legislators—some of them will be on hand to help the teen-agers with governmental procedures—may well head the debate and decisions of the model legislature. Legislators throughout the coun-

Senate and Assembly. The two houses then will read and refer bills to committees, which will hold hearings during the afternoon.

The House and Senate will reconvene Friday evening after the governor's banquet at the Park Motor Inn. The governor's reception at the Madison YMCA and a dance will follow the evening session.

Morning and afternoon legislative sessions are scheduled for Saturday. Taggart will speak at 4 p.m. Saturday to conclude the model legislature meeting. He will sign or veto bills passed by the legislature, and explain his reasons for any vetoes.

State Delegates

About 150 Tri-Y and Hi-Y and Hi-Y members from throughout the state will participate in the Youth in Government program. They prepared for the legislative session at a prelegislative meeting in Madison at which they learned parliamentary procedures and jargon. Oshkosh Assemblyman William Steiger, R, is chairman of the program.

Bills to be introduced by the Appleton "legislators" are:

- The bill to reduce the mini-

—The bill on illegitimate births, to be introduced by Jean Sitterson.

—The bill to amend the state constitution concerning the governor and lieutenant governor, by Caren Chumbley.

Other Bills

—A bill to make a 30-day jail term mandatory for drivers convicted of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol, by Malcolm McIntyre.

—A bill to require that each driver take a written driver's test, an eye and reflex examination and a road test every 10 years, by Nicholas Retson.

—A bill to make it mandatory that all drivers who are 60 years old or older or will become 60 within six months take the standard road test, and that they take it again every five years, by Jay Tilkens.

—A bill to make the period from noon to 3 p.m. on Good Friday a legal holiday, by Judi Werner and Kerry Ashman.

—A bill requiring that all tree-trimming work, other than that done in public parks and parkways, be done by private contractors, by Sandra Schuh.

U. S. Asks for Allied Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is determined pressing its divided European allies to provide more backing and support for its fight against Communist aggression in South-east Asia and Latin America.

The diplomatic strategy being followed by the Johnson administration on this and other disputed issues within the alliance is to bypass countries like France or Britain on questions where major disagreements exist and to form a united front with all the countries which are willing to cooperate.

These points of U.S. policy and strategy toward the North Atlantic Treaty Organization emerged clearly from a speech delivered to the Overseas Press Club in New York Tuesday night by Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Korean Politician Sues President and Aide in Tokyo Pact

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—An opposition politician filed a criminal suit Wednesday against President Chung Hee Park and his right-hand man, Kim Chong-pil, accusing them of collaborating with an enemy state.

Kim Choon-yun, a national assemblyman from the Liberal Democratic party, accused the two of receiving more than $130 million from Japan—a charge he has made before—and with making "humiliating concessions" in the Tokyo talks to normalize relations between Japan and South Korea.

The talks were suspended on Monday because of South Korean student demonstrations against them last week.

Young Hobby Club Have a Live TV Guessing Game Right in Your Home

BY CAPPY DICK

If several friends drop in for an after-school visit, play this TV guessing game. Make the preparations ahead of time so you'll be ready.

Cut a piece of cardboard or corrugated board large enough channel number, turn off the sound and turn on a program. Now ask your friends to identify the program in progress. They must do this by watching whatever action is revealed in the two small panels. Maybe a cowboy's head or foot will give a clue.

When a player thinks he knows what the program is, he shouts his guess. If he is wrong, he is out of the game. If and when a program has been identified, switch to another channel, leaving the sound off, and continue the game. (Copyright, 1964)

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

THE HARDEST THING IN THE WORLD IS TELLING THE TRUTH! RIGHT OR WRONG?

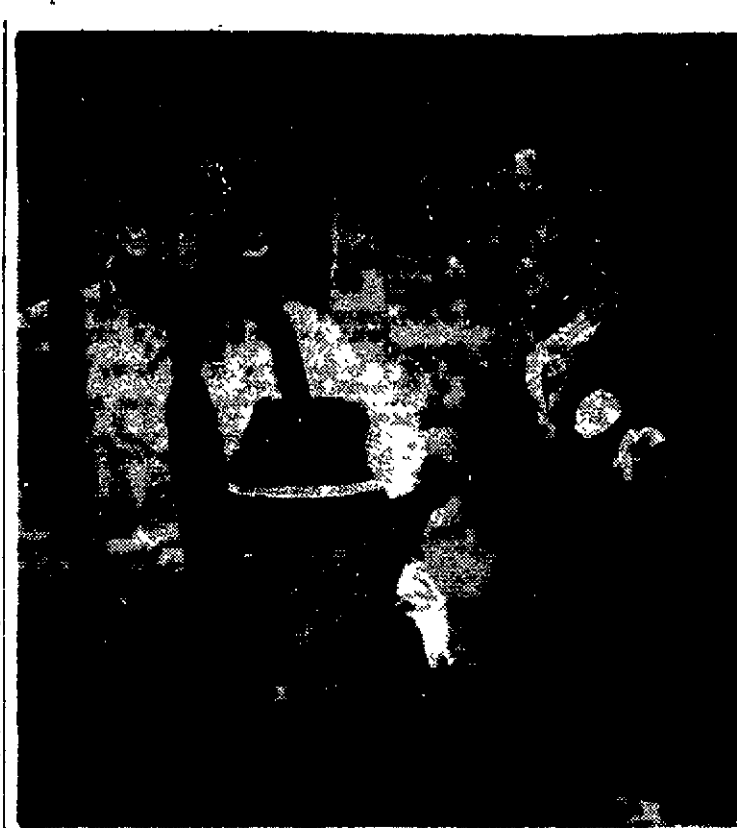

Wrong, say most students of human nature. It's often much harder to know what the truth is. For instance, what is the real reason you "just can't stand" the girl who has run off with your boy friend? Everybody else thinks that it's jealousy. But you don't. You think that she really is all the bad things you say about her. When feelings are strongly involved, knowing what the truth is can be much harder than telling it. Prove this to yourself by reading the booklet, "Manage Your Feelings and Emotions." A copy is yours for 25 cents and a stamped, return envelope sent to "Let's Explore Your Mind," in care of Appleton Post-Crescent.

Do teen-agers start smoking at younger ages now? Yes— No— Yes, a number of studies indicate that they do. One out of six 13-year-olds has begun to experiment with smoking. By 14, one out of four, and by 18, one out of every two has the smoking habit, according to Dr. Carl Seltzer of Harvard. Girls do not lag far behind boys in the early adoption of smoking. But boys seem to be more consistently heavy smokers. Between 1952 and 1962 there was a highly accelerated shift to earlier ages for starting to smoke. Will 1963 reverse the trend? We wonder.

How do you explain pregnancy to a child? How do you satisfy a child's curiosity when he says, "Mommy, why are you getting so fat?" The solution is simple. Send for "How to Tell Your Child About Sex." Written in easy-to-read, everyday language, this booklet is a must for every "expecting" family. It's yours for 25 cents and your name and address, sent to "Let's Explore Your Mind," in care of Appleton Post-Crescent.

African Tales Featured on The Nurses

BY TV SCOUT

9-10 (Channel 2) — "The Leopard Killer" on The Nurses has an interesting idea and a beautifully absorbing performance from William Marshall as a leopard-like tribal chief who is second deputy minister of defense in a new African Nation.

7-7:30 (Channel 11) — The Donna Reed Show pokes fun at people who become such close friends one couple can't ever go any place without the other.

7-8 (Channel 2) — Rawhide repeats an episode in which trail boss Gil Favor (Eric Fleming) suffers an attack of nerves brought on by job pressures.

7:30-8 (Channel 11) — My Three Sons has another pleasant episode. Robbie's teacher, the "witch doctor" who can see what her pupils are doing without turning around, breaks a leg and a pretty young substitute (Jan Norris) comes in.

7:30-8:30 (Channel 4-5) — Dr. Kildare takes a look at the responsibility of a hospital towards a patient. Douglas Fairbanks Jr. runs a private hospital which refuses to help a little girl suffering from pneumonia. Kildare (Richard Chamberlain) is on the scene (he has been making a play for a nurse there), and after the child dies at Blair, he makes remarks that get him slapped with a slander suit.

8-8:30 (Channel 11) — Ensign O'Toole repeats a delightful episode with plenty of comedy and warmth. The plot is simple: the boys on ship are trying to raise money for a Korean orphanage. The late Dick Powell makes a funny guest appearance.

8-9 (Channel 2) — "The Case of the Illicit Illusion" on Perry Mason is not a bad mystery, if you are prepared to pay very close attention to the relationships of all the characters involved. Mona Freeman has most of the evening's problems. Obviously, to the audience, someone is trying to drive her insane. Eventually she is a suspected killer.

9-10 (Channel 4-5) — The perambulating Perry Como Show is in Minneapolis for a live show from the University of Minnesota. Perry introduces Keely Smith who solos two songs, then joins him for a musical instrument medley. Peter Nero plays and Bob Newhart does his "Nobody will ever play baseball" routine.

Association Organized to Promote Use of Highway 55

An association to promote the improvement and use of State Highway 55 and to protect its scenic value has been organized.

The association's immediate goal is the improvement of Highway 55 through Menominee County. The highway is now part of the Hiawatha Pioneer Trail, and members feel the part which lies in Menominee County is in such poor condition that it discourages tourists and persons from central and southern Wisconsin from using it.

Areas represented at the organizational meeting were Mole Lake, Pearson, Pickerel, Lily, Hollister, Langlade and White Lake. Also at the meeting were the Antigo Area Chamber of Commerce and the Langlade County Area Tourist and Recreation Association.

The association is expanding to include all areas from the start of State 55 at Nelma on the Brule River south through Argonne, Crandon, Menominee County, Shawano County and along the east side of Lake Winnebago to Fond du Lac.

Carl Jackson, Pickerel, was elected chairman of the organization, and Norm Knoll, Pickerel, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Jackson said the association is not seeking a superhighway or a four lane freeway, but wants Highway 55 to be maintained as a good secondary highway that would be attractive to tourist travel into northeastern Wisconsin.

Areas represented at the organizational meeting were Mole Lake, Pearson, Pickerel, Lily, Hollister, Langlade and White Lake. Also at the meeting were the Antigo Area Chamber of Commerce and the Langlade County Area Tourist and Recreation Association.

Keller Denies Request to Have Case Retried

A former Hortonville man serving a term in Waupun State Prison on charges of forgery has lost an attempt to have his court case retried in Outagamie County Court Branch 2. A motion for retrial was denied Wednesday by County Judge Gustave Keller.

Attorneys for Cornelius Van Voorhis, 38, father of five children, said they are considering whether to appeal to a higher court. Van Voorhis was sentenced April 26, 1963 to up to four years for cashing two forged checks amounting to $90.

Van Voorhis requested that he be retried because he felt he had not been advised of his rights to retain an attorney when he appeared in court last April.

In denying the motion for a retrial, Judge Keller cited Van Voorhis' past record and said that it showed "that the defendant is an individual who is presently well aware of his rights and was aware of his rights in April of 1963." Judge Keller said Van Voorhis' awareness is the result of "direct, personal and unforgettable experience with the law."

Salad Favorites...All in One Cookbook

Mrs. Charles Wruck, right, Clintonville High School home economics teacher, and three members of the school chapter of Future Homemakers of America discuss sales strategy for the new cookbook on salads. Mrs. Wruck and 10 other home economics teachers in area high schools have recipes published in the book and most FHA chapters are selling the book to raise funds for various club activities. The Clintonville High students are, from the left, Karen Teske, Amy Fredrick, standing, and Sandra Knutt. (Laab Photo)

Collection Includes Recipes of 11 Home Economics Teachers

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

There's an interesting new cookbook on salads and appetizers available in the Fox Valley area... it's full of Wisconsin recipes with every one of the 2,000 recipes in it a favorite of a high school home economics teacher somewhere in the United States. To make the cookbook even more interesting, 11 of those teachers are from our own area high schools... Seymour, Chilton, Brillion, Clintonville, Waupaca, Marion, Shiocton, Shawano, Wild Rose and two from Wittenberg High.

Student members of various Future Homemakers of America chapters are selling these attractive cookbooks right now. The cost is a low $2.95 considering the quantity of those well organized salad recipes. Besides, proceeds from the sale boost each member's FHA points in the club record book and raise funds for chapter projects. Most of the groups are planning to help finance delegates to the state convention through the cookbook sale.

The sale has become an annual event, really. This 1964 salad edition matches two earlier books in a trilogy... one on meats and a second on desserts. They all have a spiral binding and firm cardboard covers in attractive color.

This salad book really covers the field. Name the salad and you can find it. The book starts off with several pages of what I call "sensible salad talk" on how to dress a salad, how to make the right choices and several excellent guides, even including a specific calorie count.

So for some good eating, the recipes from teacher favorites in our own area are chosen for today. Many of them are gelatin salads, but there also are two similar fruit salads, a wonderful Onion-Dill dip and a Pennsylvania Dutch dressing that is superb with fresh spinach or lettuce leaves.

STRAWBERRY CREAM SQUARES

Mrs. Beverly Wruck
Clintonville High School

2 pkgs. (3-oz.) strawberry gelatin
2 cups boiling water
20 ounces frozen strawberries
2 cups crushed pineapple
3 ripe bananas, finely diced
1 cup nuts
1 cup dairy sour cream

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add strawberries, stirring occasionally until fruit thaws. Add pineapple, bananas (firm ones as well as ripe) and nuts. Pour half mixture in 8 x 8 x 2 pan; chill until firm. Spoon an even layer of sour cream over firmly chilled gelatin layer. Stir and gently pour remaining gelatin over sour cream, chill until firm. Serve in squares alone or on lettuce or other greens.

If desired, the nuts may be combined with the sour cream instead of the fruit-gelatin mixture. Also, the use of bananas and nuts is optional and both may be omitted. Another variation is the combination of sour cream with cream cheese, if desired, measure half cup sour cream and half cup of cream cheese to make the required cup. Recipe makes about nine servings.

PARTY SALAD

Mrs. Lois Sadogierski
Waupaca High School

1 pkg. (3-oz.) lemon gelatin
2 pkgs. lime gelatin
4 cups boiling water or pineapple juice-water mixture
8 ounces cream cheese
2 cups grated American cheese
2 cups cottage cheese
1 can crushed pineapple, drained (No. 2½ can)
½ pint whipping cream

Dissolve lemon and lime gelatin in water or mixture of heated water and pineapple juice. While mixture is still warm, add cream cheese and mash with fork until dissolved. Refrigerate. When partially congealed, add remaining cheese and crushed pineapple. Whip cream; fold into mixture. Pour into oiled salad mold. Refrigerate until firm. Turn out onto platter bedded with greens or serve with other garnishes such as cucumber slices and radish roses or fruits in season. Recipe makes 16 servings.

PINEAPPLE ICE CREAM SALAD

Mrs. Karen Christensen
Seymour High School

1 pkg. lime or other flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 pint vanilla ice cream
1 cup crushed pineapple
½ cup finely cut nutmeats

style entertaining... as does this pretty Party Layer Salad. Bright-colored tomato aspic with bean sprouts forms a base for the tangy cheese layer. This is a combination which offers a two-tone color appeal with twice as much eating enjoyment. Definitely eye-catching, this salad fits successfully into any company meal, and it owes its success to convenient-to-use canned food ingredients.

1 tablespoon finely chopped onion

1 envelope unflavored gelatin

Today's Etiquette

WEDDING PROBLEMS

Dear Louise: Is there any set hour for a candlelight wedding in church? Our wedding will be attended by the immediate families. For such a small number, could I have two attendants? For our small reception for about 50 people, I plan to serve wedding cake and coffee. Is that enough? I would like to use paper plates for it sure would save on the dish washing. Do you think it would be all right? Louise Davis Answers:

Candles are all right for a church wedding at any time for they are symbolic rather than decorative. By all means have the two attendants. Cake and coffee would be the minimum for refreshments but I hope you will consider adding finger sandwiches and/or canapés. For such a special occasion. I advise china plates. This will be your greatest day, so let somebody else worry about the dish washing!

GIFT OBLIGATION

Dear Louise: When a person receives an invitation to a wedding and reception and does not attend because of unforeseen circumstances, is one still obligated to send a gift? Louise Davis Answers:

Absence from a wedding and reception doesn't automatically cancel the gift sending. Those invited are supposed to be friends of the bride's or bridegroom's family and send gifts on that basis rather than on the invitation.

Dinner Dance to Open Season at FV Golf Club

KAUKAUNA — Activities will be resumed at the Fox Valley Golf Club with the annual tee-off dinner dance at 7 p.m. Saturday, the first social event of the new season.

The golf season will not open officially until after the new pro, Don Erdmann, arrives on April 15.

25th Anniversary Marked by Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Berkham, 621 W. Marquette St., will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary at an Open House Sunday from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the lounge of the First English Lutheran Church.

Barbara Hutton Wed to Prince In Mexico

CUERNAVACA, Mexico (AP) — Barbara Hutton is a bride for the seventh time and a princess for the third. She married Vietnamese-French Prince Doan Vinh Tuesday night.

The 51-year-old Woolworth heiress wore a green Southeast Asian gown with gold trimmings and had her feet painted red in deference to her bridegroom, a tall, 48-year-old chemist and artist.

About 30 guests were invited to the twilight ceremony at Miss Hutton's $3-million, Oriental-style home at nearby Jiutepec, an Indian village about 60 miles south of Mexico City.

Son Attends Rite

The bride's son, Lance Revell, 27, came from California for the wedding.

Mayor Felipe Castrejon Castrejon of Jiutepec conducted the civil rites.

The couple reportedly plans to leave next week for a honeymoon in Honolulu, where Miss Hutton has another mansion.

Doan, a lean, athletic-looking man, said he had been married and divorced once but gave no details. Miss Hutton was divorced from husband No. 6, German-born Gottfried von Cramm, in 1960.

Miss Hutton has never wed an American in her seven marriages spread over 31 years. Her other six marriages all ended in divorce.

Program Presented By Miss Mortell

"A Salute to the Handicapped" was the program presented by Miss Genevieve Mortell for the Gamma Beta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Monday evening. Miss Mortell is a business service counselor for the Wisconsin Bell Telephone System. She showed slides of special equipment designed by Bell Telecapped. Mrs. Sam Prasher, 1235 W. Eighth St., entertained the group at her home.

Elected recording secretary to fill a vacancy was Mrs. John Spratt.

New members will be installed in the Ritual of Jewels December 20. Mrs. Don L. Koepke, 1006 E. Frances St., will be hostess.

Mrs. Donald Ourada Heads Altar Society

Mrs. Donald Ourada was elected president of the St. Paul Christian Mothers Altar Society at a breakfast Sunday morning in the parish hall. Officers who will assist her are Mrs. Edward Kamps, vice-president; Mrs. Donald Reitzner, treasurer, and Mrs. John Miron, secretary.

WSCS Elects New Officers

WITTENBERG — The Women's Society of Christian Service Wednesday elected new officers. Mrs. Grover Meisner is president; Mrs. Rudolph Hanson, vice president; Mrs. Henry Capple, secretary, and Mrs. Ray Michelson, treasurer. They will be installed at the May meeting.

Mrs. Marlin Hanke, outgoing president, presided as plans were made for the annual spring baked goods and rummage sale April 18 at the Legion Hall beginning at 10 a.m. Members were reminded to attend the district WSCS meeting at Green Bay April 8.

Your Problems

Wife Bitter at Little Success; Considers Future of Even Less

BY ANN LANDERS
 DEAR ANN LANDERS: From the beginning of our marriage my husband has been restless, shifting from one job to another. Karl has taken night school courses, correspondence courses and what have you — never finishing anything. I have lost count of Ann Landers the jobs he had in the last 25 years.
 Karl has a pleasing personality and a great many friends, but I resent having had to work from the day we were married. There were times when I carried the total burden because Karl was "between positions." This never seemed to bother him.
 Our children were grown and on their own. What I want to know is this: Do you feel I should insist that Karl make a success of something and take care of me as other husbands do — or should I leave him and make a new life for myself? We are now going through one of those periods when I am working and he is not. —Oys-Gashpilt and kisses. This has been going on for years.

 Sometimes I think she is mad at me for something I said or did and I can't figure out what it could be.
 Her reactions are so unpredictable she makes me nervous. Now I dread running into her.
 You seem to be the lady with all the answers. Do you have an answer to this one? —Frozen Emma Dear Frozen: I know the type. One day they fall on your neck as if you were a long-lost relative. The next day you get a chill like you are coming down with malaria.
 These swings are symptoms of a sick personality. Don't take it personally. You don't have a problem, your friend does.
 DEAR ANN LANDERS: My sister started college last fall and everyone in the family looks forward to her letters. Yesterday she wrote about a mixed pajama party—for both boys and girls. Yes, they actually wear pajamas. Instead of chairs, mattresses are provided—in keeping with the theme. My sister didn't attend such a party but her friend did.
 The sororities sponsor these mixed pajama parties according to my sister. They are becoming very popular.
 My folks are shocked, and frankly, so was I. It seems to us that no respectable girl would attend such a party. Am I square and out of date at 23? I can scarcely believe it. Please tell us what you know about this. Can it be that things are moving that fast? We'd like to know. Chickie
 Dear Chick: Sorry, but I don't believe sororities sponsor mixed pajama parties.
 If I am uninformed I'd like to know. May I hear from my college readers? How is it where you go to school?
 Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Sheinwold Wrong Ruff Is Rough

It is quite reasonable for the defenders to look for ruffing tricks, but they must seek the right trick in the right hand. Our opponents helped us win the national team championship last month when they tried for the wrong ruff.

East won the first trick with the ace of clubs and shot back the seven of diamonds. This foolish play got him nowhere.

The bidding indicated that South had at least nine cards in the major suits. The opening lead indicated that South still had the king of clubs. Hence South could have only two diamonds at most, and East could not expect to get a diamond ruff.

West took the ace of diamonds and returned a diamond, expecting his partner to ruff. This defense gave South time to start the trumps, and the fortunate position of the cards made it easy for declarer to draw trumps and set up his spades.

Wrong Switch
East made the wrong switch when he led a diamond at the Perfection Salad won third prize in a cooking contest around the turn of the century. It has since become an American classic. Cut-up raw vegetables are encased in a sparkling unflavored gelatin mold.

Here's the Recipe That Fooled Fannie Farmer

Way back when homemakers hustled around in bustles and the pompadour was considered a snappy hair-do, Fannie Farmer erred.

In 1905, the dean of American cookery was among the judges of a recipe contest run by a manufacturer of unflavored gelatin. The event was notable only in that the first and second prize recipes are lost to oblivion—and the third prize recipe became such a rousing success that it now may be termed an American classic.

The dish in question is Perfection Salad, a delectable mold made with crisp raw vegetables encased in sparkling unflavored gelatin. It ranks with tomato aspic as a national favorite, and just about every newspaper, magazine and basic cookbook in the country has run the recipe — including Miss Farmer's famous cookbook.

The third prize of the contest, a sewing machine, was awarded to Mrs. John E. Cooke of New Castle, Pa. When she submitted the recipe for Perfection sugar and salt. Add one and one-half cups ice water, vinegar and lemon juice. Chill until mixture mounds when dropped from spoon. Add remaining ingredients and turn into four-cup mold or individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish plate with salad greens. Recipe makes six servings.

July Wedding Planned by Engaged Pair

Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Gebheim Sr., 502 E. Summer St., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Dianne, to Richard Boeselager. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Boeselager, 425 E. Summer St. The bride-elect is a student at Appleton High School. Her fiancé is assistant manager of F. W. Woolworth store at LaCrosse.

The couple plans a July wedding.

PERFECTION SALAD

- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
- 1 cup cold water
- ½ cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1½ cups ice water
- ½ cup vinegar
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1½ cups finely shredded cabbage
- 1½ cups chopped celery
- 2 pimientos, cut in small pieces

Sprinkle gelatin over cold water in saucepan. Place over low heat; stir constantly until gelatin dissolves. Two to three minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in second trick. There was a ruffing trick for the defenders, but not for East and not in diamonds.

It was very reasonable to suppose that South had a five-card spade suit. Few experts will open a four-card spade suit headed by Q-J. (In this case, as it happens, South and North were using a bidding method that promised five-card majors, so East could be sure that South had five or more spades.)

East should have led the ace of spades and then a low spade after getting the first trick. When declarer leads trumps, East must step up with the ace of hearts to lead a third spade. The ruffing trick defeats the contract.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes. You hold: S A 10 6, H A 8 5, D 7 5, C A 9 8 5 2. What do you say?

Answer: Bid two clubs. You cannot afford to jump to three spades since you have only three-card support for spades. Bid your own suit and await developments.

FEED HIM — TENDERLY!

When the ladies call Lillian Mackesy for advice for the home, Lil' — who is no lovelorn columnist — merely suggests "feed him . . . tenderly" then proceeds to provide the inspiration with the literally hundreds of delicious menus and recipes she offers our readers annually. In her "spare time," Mrs. Mackesy takes us back "100 Years Ago" for a daily review of Wisconsin history.

This is just another one of the many ways a newspaper serves the thousands of families (over 41,000 in our case) in the communities it serves. Hand the newspaper to any member of the family . . . he'll find something in it for him from the comics and a review of teen-age activities, to an editorial opinion on human rights or foreign affairs. A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

Loveliess cogitate endlessly about what to wear for a special occasion, but they seldom give a thought to their carriage. Yet it is a garment they have to wear every day. And how often it does appear a thing of rags and patches, so neglected that it spoils the appearance of its wearer and her fashions. Clothes must have the support of good carriage. Otherwise they look as shapeless as when suspended from a hanger. One's figure also requires an assist from carriage. Fine proportions are carriage. Fine proportions are due in no small measure to a faultless stance.

By overcoming shoddy posture, it is possible to gain an inch in height and lose two inches in the waist and hips. To prove the point, try this experiment:

1. Slump and measure your waistline.
2. Stand as though a ribbon pulled you skyward—draw neck out of shoulders and waist out of hips, contract abdomen and tuck hips under body.
3. Holding the position, measure again and you will discover a reduction of one or more inches.

If you wish to carry the experiment a step further, use the same tactics to measure your height. A great plus for pulled up and pulled-in posture, once you make a habit of it, is that you actually do become taller and slimmer.

Perhaps even more vital is the boon in good carriage to personality. A woman who walks tall — proudly — cannot be thought lacking in personal stature.

You can diet until you become feather-light and still be hip-heavy. Reduction in the hipline is assured only by exercise. For a set of quick and effective ones, send for my leaflet, Hip Reducing Routines. Write Mary Sue Miller in care of Appleton Post-Crescent, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and five cents in coin to cover handling.

the head. Use them also at the sides to get a deep full wave.

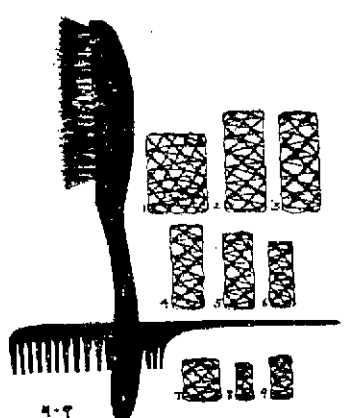

2. Long small bouffant: great for the page-boy or flip-up especially when you want the sides fuller and fluffier. For best results, turn all rollers under.
3. Long medium bouffant: for crown fluff or short temple curls around the face.
4. Large long slim: these rollers make narrower waves. Used mostly on lower sides. This size also comes in soft foam rubber to sleep on.
5. Medium long slim: use for back setting or for sides.
6. Small long slim: use these for any area of the hair you find hard to roll up. Also good for hair-line curls.

The last three small rollers are the shorty sizes and are handy to have for those little ends of hair that get out of control and need tiny rollers. The middle one is great for the nape of the neck.

Bring the Family in for a treat—OPEN FROM 4 P.M.

Coffee, Sugar Prices Affect Family Costs

NEW YORK (AP) — Rising prices of coffee and gyrations in the price of sugar mean more to the average family than increased prices of steel and aluminum products. And so do any boosts in commutation or other transportation costs and any increase in medical fees or hospital insurance.

So nervousness over a possible widespread increase in the price of goods and services is being evidenced increasingly. Nor does it help to learn that Britain, having prospered mightily after a cut in taxes, is now threatened with inflation, as are the increasingly affluent European nations.

The United States also is trying a tax cut to boost economic growth. And the pundits, both on Capitol Hill and in banking and industry, are assessing its possible effects on the prices of commodities. These have stayed remarkably stable in recent years.

Upward Trend

The upward trend in the cost of living has been traced rather to the increased charges for services and the greater costs of distribution of goods.

The Joint House-Senate Economic Committee is of two minds about the effect of the American tax cut. The $11.5-billion slash, meaning additional consumer buying power, will just boost economic growth but won't set off another inflationary trend—so says the Democratic majority. The Republican minority says the size of the cut is "likely to result in a buildup of inflationary pressures."

If this pressure develops it could come from several things. A big buying spree could build up demand for goods to a point where industries currently regulated by competition would be free to raise prices.

Or the pressure could come from labor's announced intentions to ask for larger pay increases this year inspired at least in part by the jump in 1963 corporate profits—put at 10 per cent over 1962, with the increase in the 1963 fourth quarter over the third coming to 22 per cent.

Wage increases, tied in with greater buying demand, might result in higher production costs being passed along to the consumer in the form of higher prices.

Finally, those who fear inflation charge that the price-wage spiral might be given an additional whirl by government financial policies. What is feared is a combination of tax cuts, increased government spending, Treasury deficits, and easy money policies that could spell monetary inflation. The argument is that any marked increase in the supply of money and credit could inspire price boosts and wage demands, eventually wiping out any advantages from cutting federal income tax rates.

Russians Fill Their War Victims' Cities With Monstrous Monuments

BY JIM BECKER

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Sometimes you wonder why we worry about the Russians all the time.

Just take a look at the statues and buildings they've stuck up all over Eastern Europe, and you realize they can't be that smart, after all.

You would think anyone would have better sense than to shoot up a country and then disfigure the landscape with statues showing the local people just how they did it.

Well, wouldn't you?

The Russians don't.

Take Berlin, for example. Or Warsaw. Or Vienna. The Russians are supposed to be trying to win friends in those places, too.

First they set up a government in East Berlin that is so popular they finally had to build a wall to keep the people from running away.

Meanwhile, they put up a lot of wedding cake buildings that would be condemned by the board of good taste in any civilized community. And the buildings started falling down before the plaster was dry.

Inspiring Just to show what nice fellows they are, in West Berlin they tossed up a hideous stack of concrete festooned with statues of Russian soldiers and tanks busily blowing up the town.

That must be pretty inspiring stuff to people who are trying to put the place back together again.

And Warsaw. It was one of the most shot-up towns in World War II, so the Soviet contribution to the rebuilding effort was a 300-foot tower that looks like the Los Angeles City Hall with concrete icicles hung all over it.

Ugliest Monument The Poles, who are very civilized, say that the tower has the best view in Warsaw, because you can't see the tower from there.

As an added touch, the Russians tossed in the world's ugliest monument, a little gem about the size of Grand Canyon, showing the Soviet army coming to the rescue.

This makes real sense to the Poles, who know that the Russians waited across the river until all the non-Communist leaders got killed off fighting Germans.

Bronze Horror

And then there's Vienna.

After the war, while the Viennese were busy putting the opera house back in shape, the Russians were down the road hammering out a little concrete and bronze horror in the center of one of the world's most beautiful cities.

It shows a Russian soldier about 15 feet tall, holding a big flag and stomping on Vienna. There are rows and rows of cement columns, shutting off the view of a lovely square.

And before the Russians would sign a peace treaty, the Austrians had to agree to keep the monument all neat and tidy, forever.

You might say that it serves them right for losing the war. When our side moved in, we just brought money.

CHEVELLE by Chevrolet

It's got young ideas about size, style and power

It's fun to drive a car with young ideas. Even more enjoyable when it's a Chevelle, built by Chevrolet. Because then you're driving a car with youthful styling and frisky performance plus the features that make Chevelles so practical to own.

Chevelle's sociable size makes it especially appealing. It's shorter than big cars, so it's easy to handle and park. But that's hard to tell from the inside, because there's so much comfortable room for people and so much luggage space.

Apart from its bold, exciting lines and luxurious interior, Chevelle will climb a hill or pass on the highway with a wide margin of safety. A choice of engines makes sure of that.

Now's a wonderful time to get the most fun from a new Chevelle. Because springtime is Trade 'N' Travel Time at your Chevrolet dealer's. You can choose from eleven elegant Chevelles, including convertibles, wagons, sedans and Super Sport models.

Trade 'N' Travel Time is a great time to test drive one of these beautiful Chevelles. And if it gives you young ideas about how best to enjoy a vacation this year, don't be surprised. That's just another good reason for seeing your Chevrolet dealer now.

Retail Prices Held Down by Competition

BY SYLVIA PORTER

It's common knowledge that revolutionary changes have been taking place in retailing. That retailers' competition for our spending dollar is the fiercest in history, that downtown areas have been fighting a life-and-death struggle with shopping centers. What does it all mean to us, as consumers and workers?

Porter

This interview with Robert C. Kirkwood, president and chief executive officer of the F. W. Woolworth Co., oldest and largest of our nation's variety store chains, highlights some vitally significant points.

Q. Porter: How is the "retail revolution" affecting consumers?

A. Kirkwood: The competition, which is tougher today than ever before in history, is helping to hold down prices. It also has resulted in a greater selection and better quality of foods under one roof.

To get and hold customers, retailers are making the comfort and convenience of the shopper a matter of paramount concern. Store decor has been improved. Self-service from more attractive merchandise displays has made shopping faster and easier. Parking facilities are more readily accessible. More convenient shopping hours are enabling the family to shop together.

Personnel Shortage

Q. Porter: What does the competition mean to us as workers?

A. Kirkwood: It has created an intense shortage of managerial and executive personnel. The drive in retailing for good prospects is second only to that in the engineering field. As retailing undergoes revolutionary changes in the distribution of goods, expands and diversifies, it is mandatory for retailers to recruit trainees for management positions. Our company keeps recruiting teams on the go throughout the year visiting college and university campuses, and right now we have more than 2,300 in our management training program.

There are tremendous career opportunities in retailing today. In fact, those who complete a training program successfully can look forward to responsibility, financial compensation, pensions and benefits equal to or better than those at a similar level in industry.

Shopping Centers

Q. Porter: How can downtown shopping areas continue to compete against the still growing suburban shopping centers?

A. Kirkwood: Downtown areas can compete with suburban shopping centers if civic and business leaders meet the challenge with appropriate action—and by this I mean modernization of shopping facilities, exciting promotions and events, adequate parking areas and a realistic approach to traffic control.

Those who contend downtown areas are becoming obsolete should examine what Denver's Downtown Master Plan Committee has done to solve traffic and parking problems and to modernize. To illustrate our confidence in the future of downtown shopping areas, we enlarged our downtown store in Denver to an unprecedented 174,000 square feet, making it the world's largest Woolworth's fall.

store. In Omaha, we also expanded and refurbished in co-operation with that city's outstanding revitalization program.

Q. Porter: Will the trend toward larger retail stores and "one-stop" shopping eventually eliminate the variety store?

Consumer Loyalty

A. Kirkwood: Definitely not. The impression that retailing will develop into one gigantic super-store may be created by the fact that retailers are continuing to overlap into merchandise lines traditionally handled by others. But the variety store, like the food and drug store, is an established outlet with strong consumer loyalty. The techniques in merchandising and pricing are different from most retail outlets. The tremendous volume and range of merchandise carried in a variety store would be difficult to absorb. While variety stores are adding new merchandise lines, expanding and upgrading other lines, they continue to carry the staple items customers expect them to carry.

To indicate how wrong the impression is, there are in the U.S. today 21,000 variety stores with a combined volume of more than $5 billion a year. The cleavage between variety and other types of retail merchandising will remain sharp and distinct.

Illinois Man's Opinions On Education So Strong He Became Teacher

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — A man who gave up an established career in business now will realize a life-long ambition to teach school.

John Bustard, until five years ago, was a paint and varnish store operator in California. Now he is a teacher at Thomas Paine School.

"My wife and her brother and I used to have hot discussions about techniques and theories of elementary education," Bustard said.

"They told me that since I had such strong opinions on the subject of teaching I should become a teacher."

Bustard entered the University of Illinois College of Education in 1958. He received a degree in 1960 and began teaching that fall.

Tight Vote Favors
LA Over Giants,
Cards, Braves in NL

BY MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers will again win the National League pennant after a tight, three-way struggle with San Francisco and St. Louis while the New York Yankees run still another American League pennant up the flag pole with considerable ease.

That's the script authored for the 1964 season by the 294 sports writers and broadcasters voting in The Associated Press' annual pre-season baseball poll. The voting indicates the Dodgers will nip the Giants and Cardinals, becoming the first National League champion to repeat since Milwaukee in 1957-58. At the same time, the Yankees will be emphasizing their supremacy over Minnesota and Chicago en route to their fifth consecutive American League pennant.

The mixed opinions about the pennant chances of the Dodgers, Giants and Cardinals were reflected in a tight vote that left only 300 points separating the teams after they drew some 7,500 in the balloting on the basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, nine for second, etc.

The Dodgers edged the Giants for the top spot by only one first place vote and a mere 62 points. The Dodgers were named the top team on 102 ballots and drew 2,634 points. The Giants received 101 first-place votes and 2,572 points.

The Cardinals, without Stan Musial for the first time in 22 years, nevertheless received solid support with 52 first-place votes and 2,318 points.

In the American League, the Yankees re-emphasized their respect they command. The Yankees rolled up 205 first-place votes and 2,826 points.

That was some 400 points more than Minnesota's home-run hitting Twins, who grabbed 39 votes for the top spot and 2,375 points. The Chicago White Sox finished third with 28 first-place ballots and 2,276 points.

The predicted final standings:

American League
New York	Minnesota
Chicago	Detroit
Baltimore	Cleveland
Boston	Los Angeles
Kansas City	Kansas City
Washington	Washington
National League
Los Angeles	San Francisco
St. Louis	Milwaukee
Cincinnati	Cincinnati
Philadelphia	Philadelphia
Pittsburgh	Pittsburgh
Chicago	Chicago
Houston	Houston
New York	New York

Officials of Redskins Turn Down 2 Offers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Washington Redskins' officials, after a two-hour huddle, announced Wednesday that all offers to purchase the National Football League club were rejected.

Officials said they had no further comment.

Previously two $7 million offers for the club had been reported. One was from a group headed by George L. Ohrstrom of The Plains, Va., and the other from Harry G. Sells, Washington attorney representing a syndicate.

who played only six innings this spring, left for Chicago Wednesday night and will rejoin the team for Tuesday's American League opener against Baltimore. General Manager Ed Short sent Ward ahead of the team so he can undergo treatment for a pulled thigh muscle. Charlie Smith will take Ward's place in the opening day line-up.

Viking Tennis Team Opens Slate Saturday

Meets Set at Knox, Monmouth;
3 Lettermen Back

The Lawrence College tennis team will open its season Saturday with dual matches against Knox College and Monmouth.

The Viking netmen meet Knox at 9 a.m. in Galesburg, Ill., and travel to Monmouth, Ill., for an afternoon affair with the Scots.

Coach Ron Roberts, in his first year at the helm of the Viking tennis squad, has selected his top five candidates for the meet. The sixth berth will be decided upon completion of a playoff match between Nick Vogel, a junior, and Dick Woy, a senior.

Three lettermen are among the prospects currently striving for berths on the 1964 net edition. Art Voss and Pat Jordan were Nos. 23 during the 1963 season and Jon Keckonen was No. 5 last year.

Vie for No. 1 Spot

Voss and Jordan will meet for the No. 1 spot before Saturday's matches. Both are seniors. Dave Cooper is slated for the third spot with junior John Bertron expected to perform as the fourth man.

Keckonen will remain in the fifth spot, with the victor of the Woy-Vogel affair notching the sixth berth.

Voss and Jordan are expected to team up for the No. 1 double team, with either Bertron, Cooper or Keckonen comprising the other doubles unit.

11 Lettermen on Hand

Bulldog Baseball Team Opens Season Monday

NEW LONDON — Baseball coach Bill Beyer will be able to field a team of lettermen when the New London Bulldogs open their 1964 season at Hortonville Monday in a non-conference game. He will also be able to have two lettermen in reserve.

For pitching, coach Beyer will be relying strongly on Gary Glock, who saw action last year, and Jim McDaniel another senior chucker.

Along with the 11 returning lettermen there are also 21 other candidates bidding for a starting position with the team.

Play at Shawano

Along with the 7-game conference schedule the Bulldogs are tentatively set to play four non-conference tilts. Although not confirmed, the schedule calls for a doubleheader with Pulaski April 18 and a twilight game with Stevens Point May 5, plus the opening game with Hortonville.

The conference schedule calls for the Bulldogs to play at Shawano April 25, Menasha, to improve upon a 6-3 over-all '63 record, including 5-3 in Midwest Conference competition. Outdoor workouts have been limited due to the weather and Roberts is not definitely set on the remainder of the 10-man squad.

Others currently with a chance to make the team are Jeff Bartol, John Wells, Paul Whelan, J. B. DeRossett, Mike Geronimus, Warren Steele and Mike Lee.

Tebbetts Out For Season, Doctor Says

Redleg Manager
Conquailing in Arizona Hospital

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—A heart specialist said Wednesday that Bud Tebbetts will not return to his job as manager of the Cleveland Indians this season. Dr. Arthur V. Dudley said the 54-year-old Tebbetts was enjoying a normal convalescence from the heart attack he suffered last week, but added "He will not be back this season."

"It will be hard to keep him out, but that will be the responsibility of the doctors in Florida."

Dudley said the first four or five days after a heart attack constitute the danger period. "Tebbetts is past this," he said, "there is no evidence of further damage."

Tebbetts will remain in St. Mary's Hospital for another four weeks and will then go to his home in Florida for further care. He has been moved from an intensive care unit at the hospital to a private room.

"The important thing now is bed rest," the doctor said. "All he does is feed himself. The only visitor he is allowed is his wife."

Dudley expects Tebbetts will be able to have other visitors in about 10 days.

Maryland Gives Grant-in-Aid to First Negro Cager

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—A high school star from the Baltimore area has become the first Negro basketball player to sign a grant-in-aid with the University of Maryland.

Billy Jones, of Towson High School, also is the first Negro to sign a letter of intent to play basketball in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Darryl Hill, a Maryland half-back, became the first Negro to play on an Atlantic Coast Conference varsity football team last fall.

DOES YOUR DOG PREFER BLONDES?

Gentlemen dogs are supposed to. But you can never be sure about those sly dogs. They don't talk much. And that's too bad. Because a lot of dogs aren't fed properly and they can't even talk about that.

If you give him Rival though, talk isn't needed. Inside every can of Rival is every last thing a dog needs. Meat, vitamins, minerals, proteins, nutrients, the works. Regular beef or liver flavor. Feed him nothing but Rival and you'll have a happy, healthy dog who'll prefer blondes only if you're one.

Fisher Fans 10 as Braves Win, 5 to 2

Piche, Funk, Schneider Sent Down

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Braves' Eddie Mathews has shown a spurt of batting life, and just in time as Milwaukee is making final adjustments for the season opener next Tuesday.

Mathews, who started with a .209 plate average, belted a long double and triple and drove in one run as the Braves defeated the Washington Senators 5-2 Wednesday night in exhibition action.

Also impressive was last year's reliever, Hank Fischer, who made a bold bid for a starting assignment by fanning 10 and walking only one as he went the distance, giving up five hits. The young right-hander had a 4-3 record in 1963.

Piche to Toronto

And as Fischer rounded into form, the Braves dispatched three other pitchers to the minors. Ron Piche was sent to Toronto in the International League, and Frank Funk and Dan Schneider were assigned to Denver in the Pacific Coast League.

The cuts left the Braves with 26 roster players and two who do not appear on the roster. The Braves must trim one more player before opening their season in San Francisco.

The Braves had all their runs across the plate Wednesday night before three innings had passed.

Hank Aaron singled in the first off Washington starter and loser Claude Osteen, and Mathews' double off the wall in right scored the first Braves run.

Ed Bailey opened the second inning with a walk, but was forced after another out, Fischer singled and Felipe Alou doubled to score one run. Fischer and Alou got home when Don Lock's throw went into the Milwaukee dugout.

Mathews added his triple in the third and scored as Don Zimmer threw wild to the plate after fielding a grounder by Joe Torre.

From the fourth inning on, the Braves were held hitless by Osteen, Jim Duckworth and Don Rudolph.

Retires First Nine

Fischer retired the first nine Senators he faced, and it wasn't until the fifth, when Zimmer homered, that Washington scored. They got their final run in the ninth on a second single by former Brave Chuck Cottier, an infield out and a single by Fred Valentine.

The Braves were at Miami today for a game with the Baltimore Orioles. Warren Spahn was set for his final tuneup for Tuesday's date with the Giants at West Palm Beach, Fla.

Colts to Wear Black Arm Bands for Season

HOUSTON (AP)—The Houston Colts will wear black arm bands during the National League baseball season in memory of Jim Umbricht.

The big right-handed relief pitcher died Wednesday of cancer, 13 months after it was discovered. He was 33.

The Chicago native underwent surgery a month before the baseball season started last year and made a remarkable comeback with a 4-3 record.

During the second half of the 1963 season he was one of the National League's leading relief pitchers with a 2.61 earned run average for 76 innings while appearing in 35 games.

Russ Kemmerer, a former teammate now with Houston's Oklahoma City farm club, will give the eulogy at funeral services Friday afternoon. The body will be cremated.

Colt Manager Harry Craft, Coach Luman Harris, infielder

Bob Lillis and pitcher Ken Johnson will fly to Houston from the Colts' Cocoa, Fla. spring training camp for the services.

Houston's scheduled exhibition game Friday with Milwaukee at Cocoa was canceled.

George Kirksey, Colt executive vice president, said Umbricht remained in good spirits until the end and said he was determined to get back into uniform.

Colt General Manager Paul Richards said Umbricht was "one of the finest competitors I've ever known on or off a baseball field."

Colt officials said the players will wear black arm bands on opening day and the remainder of the season.

Last year's operation involved what doctors called a rare but lethal "black mole" tumor, a form of cancer which starts with a black mole on an arm or leg.

Closely Guarded

The disease began to appear in the chest area last season but Umbricht and Colt officials kept the development a closely guarded secret.

The cancer continued to spread and Umbricht, who weighed 210 pounds and stood 6-4, entered the hospital again March 16.

Umbricht was honored at a Philadelphia dinner early this year as the most courageous athlete of 1963.

In accepting the award, he said "some of us don't have time to slow down and take stock of ourselves."

"But six weeks in a hospital bed gives you time to think... and come out a better human being. I'm sure everything will come out all right."

Xavier Will Enter 17 Athletes in Madison Meet

USTFF Competition Slated For Saturday Afternoon

The Xavier High School track squad will make its 1964 debut.

The invitational meet, under the sponsorship of the state division of the USTFF, will feature competition in the 60-yard dash, 70-yard high hurdles, 880-yard run, mile, 880 relay, mile relay, high jump and shot put.

Member schools of the WIAA and WCIAA are eligible for competition. Some of the state's top high school track teams will be in the field. The field events commence at noon with the track events set for 12.30 p.m.

The Hawks competed in the now-defunct Edgewood Relays in 1963, and the engagement Saturday will take its place on the '64 schedule.

Coach Bob Pliska has selected 17 members to represent XHS in the competition. Actually Pliska had hoped to carry 19 representatives but previous engagements force co-captains Bob 'Rocky' Bleier and Ron Bixby to forego the competition.

A bespectacled 5-11 senior, Bill Timmers, is expected to lead the Hawk point bid. Timmers is slated for action in the high jump. He has reached 6-1 indoors in practice, 'sky is the limit.'

Pliska has selected a four-some of sophomores to carry the colors in the mile relay. They are Steve Milhaupt, Ron Dobrinski, Bill Nack and Bob Tennessee.

Juniors Doug Bergner, Tom Peotter and Jim VanderLinden will be anchored by another soph, Larry VanDyke, in the 880-yard relay.

Pat Toppins and Bob Favel, both sophs, are Pliska's choices in the mile, with Mike Toppins and Phil Bernhagen slated for 880 duty.

Jerry Seljan and Mike Becker, both lettermen, are entered in the hurdles with John Besch backing up Timmers in the high jump. Jim Ostertag may see action in the shot put class.

An evening show will feature some of the top trackmen in the state Independent track clubs, among which includes the Green Bay club, and top college and UW stars will comprise the field for the nightcap.

Then there's the contrast in their ages—Spahn is 43, Marichal just 26.

But the contrast ends when it comes to effectiveness.

Marichal notched 25 wins last season, a total that surpassed every pitcher in baseball except

Cash Jackpot for Second Bowl-O-Rama Passes $800

Entry Total Now Exceeds 400; Some Dates Becoming Jammed

The cash jackpot for the second annual Post-Crescent Bowl-O-Rama has rolled past the $800 mark as entries went over 400 Wednesday.

In addition to cash awards, bowlers will be taking a shot at a new 1964 2-door Rambler sedan, a number of trophies and four sport-type wrist watches in the tournament.

The new Rambler will be awarded to the first bowler rolling a 300 game scratch. The car has been put up as a grand prize by Sam Malofsky of Malofsky Motors, local Rambler dealer.

The first bowler with 12 strikes in one game also will be eligible for numerous other awards as the tournament is sanctioned by the American Bowling Congress and the Women's International Bowling Congress.

Chicago Group Enters Bid for AFL Franchise

CHICAGO (AP)—A syndicate of Chicago businessmen has applied for an American Football League franchise for Chicago.

Bob Nussbaum, investment broker who heads the eight-man group, estimated the capitalization of the syndicate at about $3 million.

He said the application, mailed to AFL headquarters in New York, also included plans for remodeling Soldier Field for the games to provide a seating capacity of 59,800.

Nussbaum said he has started negotiations for a Canadian football team to move to Chicago to provide "the nucleus of a solid, going team rather than relying on an AFL pool."

The right-handed slugger slammed his seventh home run and increased his runs batted in total to 23 Wednesday as Philadelphia trampled the Los Angeles Dodgers 11-4. He had three hits and four RBIs and is by far the team leader in both departments.

Allen's home run Wednesday was only one of many that dominated exhibition baseball action. Cleveland got three of them in trouncing San Francisco 14-4 for the first time in 10 spring games.

Willie Mays was struck on the right wrist in an attempted pick-off throw in that game and may be sidelined until Saturday or Sunday.

Julian Javier's two-run homer gave St. Louis a 5-4 victory over the New York Yankees while pinchhitter John Goryl gave Minnesota a 5-4 triumph.

1964 Schedule Approved by Dairyland Loop

Officials and team representatives of the Dairyland Baseball League approved the 1964 schedule at a meeting at Hofa Park Tuesday night.

Two inquiries as to possible membership in the league were received, but no decision was made on expansion plans.

A resolution was adopted into the by-laws stating that a team may add to the supplementary player list, five high school underclassmen who are over 14 years of age. This applies to second half play only.

League commissioner "Kelly" Weller issued a mandate stating that these underclassmen must wear protective helmets when they are participating in any action out of the dugout.

George Moriarty, Long-Time Player, Umpire, Dies

MIAMI (AP) — A long-time American League baseball player and umpire, George Joseph Moriarty, died at his home here Wednesday. He was 80.

Moriarty was signed to a contract by the Chicago Cubs in 1903 and after playing in the minor leagues, reached the majors when he joined the New York Giants in 1906. He played primarily as a third baseman.

In 1909, Moriarty was traded to the Detroit Tigers. He played with them through 1915 and the next year became manager of Memphis in the Southern Association.

Moriarty became an umpire in 1917 and worked at the profession until his retirement in 1940, except for the 1927-28 seasons, when he was manager of the Tigers.

Survivors include two sons, David J., of Miami, and Dr. George J. Jr., of Detroit.

Funeral services will be held in Chicago. A requiem mass is scheduled for Saturday at 9 a.m. at St. Ethel Church in Chicago.

Pastrano-Peralta Title Bout Rated Tossup by Bobo Olson

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Bobo Olson said today he rates the Willie Pastrano-Gregorio Peralta light heavyweight title fight a toss-up "unless weight-making has weakened Peralta."

"That's the big if in my mind," said Bobo, the former middleweight king who wants to fight the winner of Friday's 15-round championship contest at Municipal Auditorium.

"It's harder to make weight and keep your strength as you get older," said Olson, a light heavyweight contender at 35.

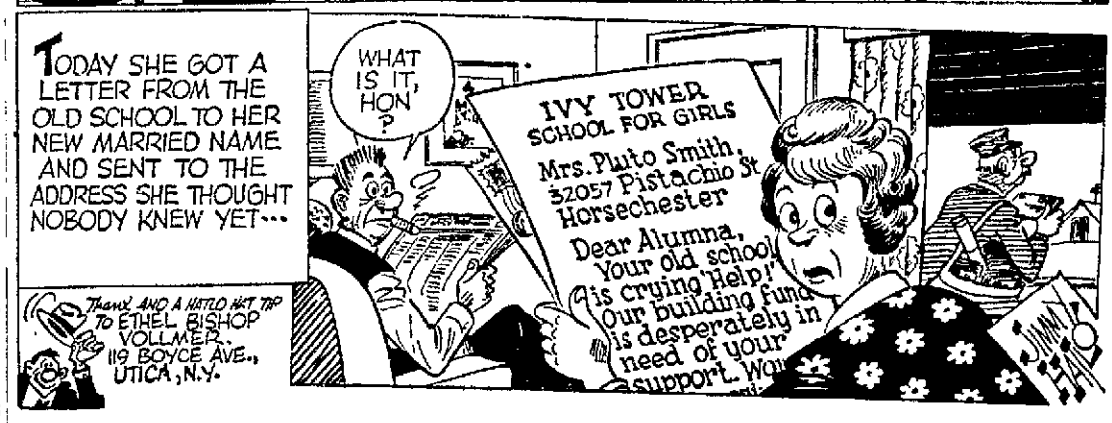

Peralta, according to his handlers, has been hovering around 176 for days. He has to make that 175 pounds at noon Friday.

"I feel great," said the Argentine, through interpreters, "I'll make the weight and I'll be strong. I came here to win the title and that's what I am going to do."

The six-foot challenger, who has broad shoulders and spindly legs, scaled 183½ when he drubbed Pastrano in a non-title 10-rounder at Miami Beach last Sept. 20. He weighed 178½ and 180½ when he outpointed Californian Wayne Thornton on Nov. 15 and Jan. 24 to earn the title fight.

Pastrano, according to trainer Lou Gross, has made 175 pounds twice this week.

Both fighters will limber up briefly today. Peralta finished his boxing preparations Wednesday with two leisurely rounds against sparmate Calvin Campbell. Pastrano punched the bags and did floorwork.

Thurmond Paces Win San Francisco Trims Hawks, Evens Playoff

ST. LOUIS (AP) — San Francisco evened its National Basketball Association playoff with St. Louis in a "dog-eat-dog" battle Wednesday night, and taking the biggest bite out of the Hawks was Nate Thurmond.

"Thurmond did it all — defense, offense, rebounds," said Warrior Coach Alex Hannum after his club had whipped the Hawks 111-109.

The victory tied the Western Division best-of-seven final playoffs at two games each and returned the home-court advantage to the Warriors.

The next game will be played in San Francisco Friday night with the teams returning to St. Louis Sunday. The final contest, if needed, will be played on the West Coast.

Boston can wrap up the Eastern Division playoff tonight when the Celtics and Cincinnati meet in Boston. The Celtics lead their series, 3-1.

Ara Parseghian Opens Spring Practice at ND

Squad Receives Inspirational Note From Former Player

BY JERRY LISKA
SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Clashmore Mike, the Irish terrier mascot, jumped up and licked the face of new Coach Ara Parseghian Wednesday and a new era of Notre Dame football was under way.

The welcome happened in snow-pelted Notre Dame Stadium as Parseghian assembled 85 players for the start of a spring practice which the former Northwestern head coach hopes will start the Fighting Irish back to long absent national glory.

Parseghian, first non-alumnus Notre Dame coach in almost half a century, stepped into his first day's work with a gesture reminiscent of the famed Knute Rockne.

Before the squad took the field, Parseghian posted a letter to the team from halfback Don Hogan, seriously crippled in an auto accident 1½ years ago.

Must Quit
The letter was Hogan's announcement he must quit active sports for the rest of his life.

"The doctors tell me I have arthritis," said Hogan, a brilliant Irish sophomore before his injury.

Hogan's letter continued: "If ever a practice seems too long or you get tired along about that fourth quarter, just think for one second that a guy named Hogan would give anything to trade places with you, and if he could, he would never give up."

"Our major problem is at quarterback," said Parseghian. "Until we see what develops at quarterback this spring, we will work on both pro-type and option quarterback offenses."

"We could wind up as a power-type club next fall if our running and passing develop, but these 20 practices this spring will tell the story."

Tammy Davis Injured, May Miss Meet

FREDERICK, Md. (AP) — Tammy Davis, holder of all U.S. indoor and outdoor hurdle records for girls and women, may be unable to make a bid for her first national women's title.

Coach Jack Griffin said that unless Tammy is given a clean bill of health by a physician, she will not compete in the National Women's Indoor Games at Akron, Ohio, this weekend.

Griffin said he didn't want Miss Davis to risk re-injury, and would rather have her wait until the June trials to select a team to compete against the Russians. The Olympic trials will be in August.

Miss Davis holds the girls' and women's indoor and outdoor record at 50 yards, the women's and girls' indoor record at 70 yards and the 80-meter women's outdoor record.

Last year Marichal and Spahn hooked up in a 16-inning duel considered one of the highlights of the season. Both pitchers went all the way, with Marichal finally edging the Braves veteran on a home run by Willie Mays.

Minoso Makes Chisox Squad

Begins Third Tour With Team; Mets Cut Bill Haas

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Minnie Minoso, a 41-year-old graybeard who possibly has been shaving almost that long, has survived baseball's unkindlest cut.

As the Chicago White Sox trimmed their roster Wednesday to get down to the opening day limit of 28, Minoso was signed to a contract for his 14th season in the major leagues.

Generally presumed to be older than his announced 41, Minoso will be back for his third tour with the White Sox, this time as a spare outfielder and the club's No. 1 pinch-hitter. He had been working out with the White Sox as a free agent.

The White Sox first acquired Minoso from Cleveland in 1951, ultimately traded him back after the 1957 season, reacquired him from the Indians following the 1959 campaign and then traded him to St. Louis in 1962.

While Minoso was added to the roster, three players were cut—pitchers Tom Hoagland and Bob Guzek and catcher Gary Mykkanen.

The New York Mets surprised by cutting first baseman Bill Haas, picked off the Los Angeles Dodgers' roster last winter in a special National League draft designed to aid the Mets and Houston Colts.

The Mets also cut outfielder Duke Carmel, infielder Pumpie Green and pitchers Dick Selma and Ron Locke.

Other players cut: Houston—Pitchers Jerry Morawski and Jay Dahl, outfielders Ivan Murrell, John Paciorek and Howie Goss and infielder Ernie Fazio.

New York Yankees—Pitcher Tom Metcalf, outfielder Elvio Jimenez and catcher Bill Madden.

Philadelphia—Pitcher Gary Kroll and first baseman Costen Shockley.

NBA Decides to Forego Expansion For '64-65 Season

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The National Basketball Association owners have decided to forego expansion for the 1964-65 season.

President Walter Kennedy announced Wednesday. The unanimous vote by the board of governors made up of the club owners, came despite firm offers by Kansas City, Chicago and Pittsburgh for a franchise. Two cities in the Southwest also expressed interest.

The board also instructed Kennedy to continue negotiations with a major network to televise weekend games next season.

Arthur Montgomery, chairman of the Atlanta-Fulton County Recreation Authority, said Wednesday the lease would cover at least 15 years.

Montgomery said identity of the team would be withheld until the 1964 season ends. He added that the ball club had pressed for a 30-year lease.

Montgomery said that a year-round crash program would begin next week to get the stadium ready for the 1965 season. The authority hopes to entice professional football, too.

Our Confused Primary

The results of Wisconsin's presidential primary pose more questions than they answer.

The most surprising thing about the election was the size of the vote garnered by Governor George Wallace of Alabama but, although most prophets predicted a 10 per cent share of the total ballots, advance indications of the higher percentage of close to 20 per cent were present. Everyone knew people who were going to cross over or who opposed the civil rights bill or who thought the whole thing a good joke on Governor Reynolds.

The figures indicate that a great many of the people who voted in the Democratic columns for Wallace usually vote Republican. They may have wanted to embarrass John Reynolds who tried to inspire a contest on the Republican side by inviting in potential candidates. They may have wanted to show concern and anger over the pending civil rights bill and increasing Negro agitation for privileges as well as rights. They may have reflected annoyance at the official Republican favorite son gimmick or a decision that a vote in the Republican column didn't mean very much.

But did they vote for Wallace because they would support a conservative presidential candidate or because they just wanted to have fun in an election they quite rightly thought wasn't going to indicate much of anything? And would the Democrats in Milwaukee County who voted for Wallace back a Conservative Republican presidential candidate against President Johnson?

The real trouble with the Wisconsin presidential primary—and especially this year—is that there is no way of knowing with any amount of accuracy exactly for what or against what the voters cast their ballots. Reynolds was not running for governor but as a favorite son pledged to President Johnson. Byrnes was not running for Congress but as a favorite son pledged to no one. Wallace stood for himself except that the Wallace portrayed in Wisconsin is not the same man as the Wallace who won the governorship of Alabama. In such a mixed up travesty of an election, one can hardly blame the voter for irresponsibility.

Or do the results show a really well-founded opposition to equal rights, to sound government and to the traditions of our nation?

There is only one thing certain about this primary. Everyone can—and will—claim victory.

Managing Higher Education

A succession of incidents recently has shown uncertainty and dissatisfaction with the existing method of operating the state's huge and vastly growing program of publicly financed higher education, at a time when it is crystal clear to everyone concerned that the program is one of the key ingredients of the tax-finance crisis which confronts the state government.

Now a subcommittee of the so-called "Committee of 25," a high calibre citizens group commissioned by the legislature to examine objectively the state's fiscal situation and prospects, has recommended that the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education, which is ostensibly the overseer of the state colleges and universities and related programs, be drastically reorganized.

The committee acted after hearing the testimony of an outside specialist in public administration who said experiences in other parts of the country have persuaded him that the present composition of the committee cannot be effective. He referred to the fact that a majority of the present board members are sitting as regents of the colleges, or the universities, or the county colleges, or the vocational schools, and thus are acting consciously or unconsciously as institutional delegates rather than as representatives of the public.

This will seem like a radical and undesirable proposal to the institutions involved, we can be sure. They will resist. But it should not surprise any interested person who views it with detachment and some knowledge of what has gone before. The Coordinating Committee was not intended as a final or even a most desirable plan for the supervision of this vital part of our state services. Instead, it evolved as a kind of gerrymander, a political compromise desperately contrived nearly a decade ago when it became apparent that Governor Kohler could not push through the single board of higher education law which he was convinced the state needed.

The governor was defeated then by the institutional lobby, which provided a memorable illustration of mobilized political power in the legislature. All parties were aware, however, that the fight had not ended. The committee alternative was temporizing. Now it appears that there may be a new chapter in the story, a new determination to set up an administrative system that will assure the best service for students, parents, taxpayers, and the men and women who operate and staff the separate and sometimes jealous institutions.

Regent John Thompson of the state college board, one of the most thoughtful men in the presently fragmented system, has said that the worst development would be a jurisdictional struggle among the higher education components at a time of inevitable expansion of facilities into new localities.

We agree. But the Coordinating Committee has shown no disposition to prevent such jurisdictional infighting. The recent record shows abundant examples of apprehensive rivalry. A complete consolidation of the several systems would avoid such hazards and follow an enlightened blueprint for progress drawn in 1955. Those legislative leaders who have shown a restiveness about higher education developments recently and worry about the projections of budget costs and tax implications should be the first to encourage the idea.

Brazil Might Help Its Neighbors

There is some feeling of encouragement in Washington that the forces which sent Joao Goulart scurrying out of the presidency of Brazil last week are a sign of moderation. The move may indicate a defeat for eager Communists in Latin America unless the new government in Brazil returns to the too narrow government of the "haves" which has plagued so many South American nations.

The new government faces tremendous social and economic problems. Sound solutions will not be easy either for helping change Brazil's serious inflationary trend or to sell programs to the millions of poor. Brazil is not one of the poorest Latin American nations but its per capita average annual income is less than $400. Equally important for stability in the whole region is what happens in several other countries with widely split political groups.

Bolivia faces the next expected crisis although others could break out in various places regardless of scheduled elections. President Victor Paz Estenssora, generally regarded as a moderate, comes up for reelection in June against a strong left-leaning organization seeking his political demise. How he fares will indicate whether Bolivia for the time being will stay on a steady course toward democratic reforms or whether it will swing left and perhaps then far to the right.

Peru has been seething with revolts of peasants believed to be largely Communist inspired. The low per capita income—less than $200 per year in both Bolivia and Peru—gives Reds the fuel they can use. The land reform program pushed by the Peruvian president has almost been ignored by Congress with pressure against it from both the conservatives and the Communists.

Meanwhile Chile has a pretty fair chance of electing as president next September Senator Salvador Allende, the candidate of the Socialist-Communist Popular Action Front, a familiar sounding name in left wing rebellions. Of all the nations in Latin America, Chile is now the most obviously leftist next to Cuba. But the coup in Brazil, unless it turns out to be far to the right, could dampen the enthusiasm of some undecided Chilean radicals.

The optimism in the United States when the Alliance for Progress was proclaimed, that democracy and economic health were but a few years away for all of Latin America is happily gone. There will continue to be revolts, coups and tugs of war in a great many of those poverty stricken and anachronistic nations. But the Brazilian overthrow was a step in the right direction, at least for the time being.

Just Who Is the Traitor?

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for April 16, 1864.

Mrs. Todd White, from Richmond, a sister of Mrs. Lincoln, has been permitted to grace the White House. When she got ready to go back to Richmond, President Lincoln gave her an order to Gen. Butler, at Fortress Monroe, to pass her and her baggage without examination, which order was obeyed!

It is proper to add that Mrs. Todd White, like every one of Mrs. Lincoln's family reiatives, is an out-spoken and active rebel, and that being vastly superior to Mrs. L. in tact, talent and adroitness, is capable of much mischief to the Union cause.

It is supposed that Mrs. Lincoln induced "Old Abe," as she herself calls him in public, to give Mrs. White a carte blanche to carry what she chose.

If the President cannot properly govern his own household, both he and that household ought to be sent where they belong, "beyond the lines of the Union Army."

Civil Rights Question Is Moral Rather Than a Political Issue

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Though I have infrequent opportunity to visit my home in Neenah, conscience compels my comments on the current Gov. Wallace controversy. Certainly, the views of states' rightists, along with their corollaries on Civil Rights, are not entirely new here. Our Congressional Representative, Mr. Van Pelt (Sixth District), has consistently recorded his opposition to Civil Rights legislation with "no" votes on both the Poll Tax Amendment, 1962, and the current Civil Rights Bill. His constituents deserve complete and carefully outlined reasons for his actions, particularly since he was the only Wisconsin Representative, and one of the few in all the northern states, to vote "no" on both issues.

But my purpose is to comment on a statement made by Gov. Wallace in his recent trip to Wisconsin. "We can keep our foot in the door of freedom with a good vote here." (Newsweek, Mar. 30) My immediate response was to ask what "freedom" meant to him. Was it the same freedom for which many Americans died in World War II, in Korea, and now in Viet Nam? Maybe not, since many Negroes were fighting alongside their white brothers and winning the same battles. On the contrary, Gov. Wallace's "freedom" strikes me more like the brand that Hitler offered Nazi Germany in its attempt to purify Europe of all Jews. Does Gov. Wallace offer our states and municipalities "freedom" to legislate against minority groups whether they be Negro in one place, Roman Catholic or Protestant in another, or Jewish in a third? Remember that each one of us belongs to some religious, or ethnic, or sociopolitical minority in our pluralistic nation. Does he offer us the "freedom" to pervert the United States Constitution, to abort the judicial system and the administration of law and justice, and to generally obstruct the democratic process?

In coming months of debate speakers will continue to obscure the issue of Civil Rights by clothing it in a shroud of states' rights. But I submit that Civil Rights stand above all political considerations, Republican or Democratic. It is essentially a problem of Christian morality and a failure of "Christians" to face it as such. On the basis of Jesus Christ one can build no case whatsoever for racial hatred and discrimination. So called "Christians" who lend their support either in the form of financial contributions, political endorsement, or individual votes to candidates intent on the preservation of social and economic systems of racial discrimination deny the very basis of the Christian faith. If we take the New Testament at all seriously, there can be no other conclusion.

A recent statement by President Johnson to a group of southern church leaders seems to be pertinent here: "The leaders of states and cities and towns are in your congregations, and they sit there on your boards. Their attitudes are confirmed or changed by the sermons you preach, by the lessons you write and by the examples you set" (The New York Times, Apr. 5). Would that our pastors preach and write and set the proper examples, that our churches might offer leadership in this moral issue.

Wisconsin Putting Both Parties Putting Emphasis on Election Of State Legislators

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The announcement from both Wisconsin political parties that they have organized special branches to seek out candidates for the legislature and to promote their campaigns is an encouraging sign of recognition of a frequently neglected or ignored aspect of state politics.

In both parties there is a declared intention to apply special effort in those legislative districts where incumbents are regarded as vulnerable according to their record of their last elections.

It requires no great study of the Wisconsin political map to surmise the practical importance of such plans. Taking the last state-wide election as an illustration, a small adjustment of the party vote could very well overturn control in the State Assembly, for example, where the Republicans have a small majority but where some of the Republican incumbents hold their credentials by tiny vote margins.

Similarly, the Republicans have an inviting opportunity to press harder in some of the districts marginally held by Democrats and to make their control of the legislature more reliable and to provide a margin for those occasional roll call defections every majority party must anticipate in the realities of legislative operations.

ON THE MERITS

Aside from such practical considerations, anyone who is concerned with the image and the integrity of the legislature as an institution will welcome a more positive attitude by the parties on legislative nominations and elections.

The importance of the question should not be difficult to comprehend. The political history of the state for the last six years has been related directly to the fact that the legislative and the executive branches have been in a constant, obdurate and irreconcilable conflict on virtually every question that has been put before them. The state has had government by compromise, by bluff and counter-bluff. Issues have not been resolved through deliberation and debate, but through the surrender of one party or the other after painful endurance tests and the threat of crisis.

Beyond that, there is the matter of quality. Probably the composite legislator, in training and capacity and character is a cut above the state constituency on the whole. Yet the careful student finds it difficult to avoid the impression that there are many men who were not chosen but who were sent to Madison by default. Among average politicians, the legislature is not as desirable a place as it probably was in earlier periods. Political parties tend to put their emphasis upon other offices. Legislators themselves put a low value upon their offices as shown by the eagerness with which many of them, in Milwaukee notably, grasp for other local places when they find the opportunity.

QUALITY

At a public meeting recently somebody observed, apropos the perennial argument about what is the proper numerical representation for Milwaukee, that the big city might find it more fruitful to do something about the quality of its representation instead of concentrating so tenaciously on the issue of quantity.

Aside from the constitutional equities, most close students of the legislature as an institution will sympathize with the idea. The indifferent quality of the Milwaukee delegation over the years—with conspicuous and distinguished exceptions — is one of the worst kept secrets of state politics.

Public attitudes and state of mind are obviously involved here, as in most other political problems. In district after district people appear willing to send to Madison to write their laws men they would hesitate to install as mayors of their home towns, although the quality of their legislative representative is more directly related to their welfare.

Being Misquoted Sign Of Great Importance

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Purely Personal Prejudices: To a creature large enough, or far enough removed, the sublimity of the human race would seem revoltingly absurd, for the differences that loom so great to us are imperceptible from a height — just as the world seems as smooth as an orange to an astronaut in orbit, who cannot tell the valleys from the mountain peaks. And which is "reality," his view of ours?

When we rise to an occasion, we proudly call that "our real self," but there may be more accuracy in Pascal's observation that "The strength of a man's virtue should not be measured by his special exertions, but by his habitual acts."

In politics, two groups can almost never consolidate unless and until they are animated by a passionate mutual detestation of a third.

Psychological states are not reversible: love can turn to friendship, and often does, but friendship can never turn to love—a fact that the amorous losers are pathetically reluctant to recognize.

A "good critic," to most of us, is one who makes us feel that those beneath us in taste are common, while those above us in taste are pretentious.

To be quoted is a sign of importance; to be misquoted is a sign of great importance. In our self-righteousness about the younger generation, we must be careful how we apportion the blame; for, as Vauvenargues said more than two centuries ago: "Les jeunes gens souffrent moins de leurs fautes que de la prudence des vieillards." ("Young people suffer less from their own mistakes than from older people's wisdom.")

A reader in California asks me to comment on the "Bea-the craze," but it has been this column's policy for 20 years never to comment on crazes of any kind for at least six months—and then one finds there is no need to.

The incidence of scandal is a geometric problem rather than a moral one: the larger the house, the more closets; and the more closets, the more skeletons.

The great bulk of classical literature deals with the subject of "character in decay"—and what is wrong with much of modern literature is not that it shows "decay" in the frankest and most clinical terms, but that it has no high and severe idea of what "character" is. It is not in the depiction of man's activities that these books are stultifying, but in their confused estimate of man's nature.

College Men To Tour State Paper Mills

Three-Day Program Planned in June to Back Industry Study

The Wisconsin paper industry today announced it is opening its doors for a thorough case study by college educators.

Wisconsin Paper Industry Information Service said a formal three-day agenda had been set up — June 18, 19 and 20, primarily as an introduction, and participating professors would be encouraged to undertake more extensive studies of the industry.

C. M. Green, president of Mosinee Paper Mills Co., Mosinee, general chairman of the information service, said "The formal program covers what we think will be of interest to the colleges, but there also will be informal panel sessions and face-to-face contact between our top executives and the educators" — and here, we feel, our guests will have the opportunity to gain true insight into paper manufacturing policies and objectives."

First in State
The case study is the first ever undertaken in Wisconsin — and probably elsewhere, at least on an industry-wide basis. It is deemed worthwhile to the schools, it probably will be repeated in the future.

Tours of representative industry installations will supplement formal presentations of such topics as manufacturing, finishing and converting methods, resource management, employment, marketing, finance and corporate organization.

The prime cooperating agency with the various mills which make up the membership of the Information Service is the world-famed Institute of Paper Chemistry, Appleton. Institute officials have worked closely with industry executives in scholastic aspects of the project so that, as Green put it, "The entire program academically will be as sound and profound as possible."

All expenses incidental to the tour — such as transportation, meals and lodging — will be paid for by the Information Service. The tour will begin and end at the Institute of Paper Chemistry in Appleton. Most in-field work and lectures will take place in the Wisconsin Rapids — Port Edwards area.

the other the food stamp plan, described as part of President Johnson's war on poverty.

In a session lasting until almost 1 a.m. today, an unprecedented hour except during a pre-adjourning period, Democratic majority angered Republicans for what they called ramrodding legislation down their throat.

Although most of the house membership voted on a straight party line on both bills, Wisconsin legislators departed in two instances.

On the wheat-cotton bill which passed 219-189, all Democrats except Rep. Robert W. Kastenmeier, Watertown, voted for the bill. All Republicans voted against it.

On the food stamp plan which passed 229-189, all Wisconsin Republicans voted against the bill except Rep. Alvin E. O'Konski, Mercer. He and all Democrats voted in favor of the measure.

Democrats claimed the wheat-cotton bill which would subsidize domestic textile mills so they would be able to buy cotton at the same world price paid by foreign countries, and would offset a depression in the American textile industry.

They also claimed the wheat section would head off a drop of several hundred million dollars of wheat farmers' income this year.

Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Green Bay, chairman of the House GOP policy committee, objected to the bill on a number of counts. He thought the wheat program and the cotton program should be considered in separate bills, and said the wheat program was not a voluntary one, and would penalize farmers financially without cutting down on wheat supplies.

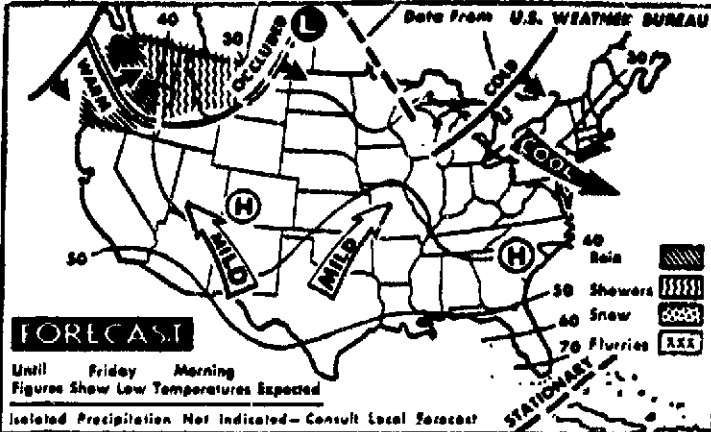

He also pointed out the cotton section of the bill could lead to an expenditure of federal funds of better than half a billion dollars yearly.

Subsidize Mills
Byrnes emphasized cotton already is supported twice by the government. The cotton farmer has a subsidy and the cotton exporter is also subsidized in order to sell cotton at a world price lower than the subsidy paid the cotton farmer.

The new cotton subsidy incorporated in the bill passed Wednesday night now will subsidize American cotton mills by providing them with an 8 1/2-cent subsidy on cotton purchased here to meet the lower price paid by foreign textile mills.

Democrats felt the food stamp bill, which allows needy people to buy discount stamps to be redeemed for full value at food stores, would do considerably towards the program against

Republicans contended, however, that the program could explode into a billion dollar expenditure. Republicans also felt the individual states should be required to pay half the cost, in this way providing a check against unnecessary issuance of the stamps.

Scattered Showers Are expected Thursday night in the northwest quarter of the nation and Florida. Cooler temperatures are predicted from New England to the Middle Atlantic states. It will be milder from the Rockies through the Great Lakes area with little change elsewhere. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Stock Market On Even Keel

Pending Strike Has Set Rail Stocks Off Moderately

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market remained on an even keel early this afternoon despite the possibility of a nationwide rail strike threatened for Friday. Trading was fairly active.

Although rail stocks were off moderately on average, some leading carriers had steadied and the loss for the entire group was not nearly as sharp as on Wednesday.

Leading steels and motors moved slightly higher. Airlines resumed their latest rally.

Cigarette stocks, helped by another published report of gains in cigarette smoking in a recovery from the decline on the government health report, posted a string of gains.

Nonferrous metals, farm implements and drugs were generally lower. Electronics and building materials were mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .2 at 303.9 with industrials up .6, rails off .5 and utilities up .1.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .80 to 824.99.

IBM recovered 4 points of recent losses. Up about a point were Polaroid, U.S. Smelting and Control Data.

American Telephone and Jersey Standard were among fractional gainers. Du Pont lost a point.

Americans Resent Intrusion Into Their Privacy, Freedom

WASHINGTON—Maybe what has just happened in the Wisconsin primary will give Congress pause. It may teach a lesson often forgotten—that a substantial segment of the American people resent intrusion into their private lives and their freedom to choose their associates, black or white or brown or yellow, on the basis of their own judgment and their own likes or dislikes.

For if resentment already evidenced across the northern states—not merely in the south—is beginning to be expressed in the form of votes at the polls, then a crisis of major proportions may come again to America.

The last crisis of this kind—governmental coercion in an attempt to achieve prohibition of the sale of intoxicating liquors—ended in a debacle. It was largely the fault of the prohibitionists, who could not see that their methods were wrong.

Today, the cause of "civil rights," which in many respects is a just cause, is headed for another debacle, largely because its proponents have chosen the wrong methods to win public support.

Symbolic Vote

It is easy enough to say that in Wisconsin mostly Republicans gave a symbolic vote for the arguments of Governor Wallace of Alabama. But there were unquestionably Democrats who felt the same way. The expectation at first had been that the Alabama governor would get only 5 per cent of the vote. He finally received 25 per cent of all votes cast. Indeed, in the Democratic primary itself he got 34 per cent.

The significant development is that, in a state as far from the south as Wisconsin—known for its progressive thinking—an election was actually conducted in which "civil rights" was an issue, and 25 per cent of the voters registered their protest against it.

On the same day, moreover, that the Wisconsin primary was being held, a tragedy occurred in Cleveland, Ohio, where an impassioned minister was killed as he dramatically threw himself behind a bulldozer. In that city, the mayor has been trying to halt the violent demonstrations in a school-segregation crisis. The trespassers on public-school property were trying to get the city to abandon the construction of certain schools. This extreme method of demonstration touched off sporadic violence and at least 15 persons were injured and 26 persons were arrested on charges of disorderly conduct or resisting arrest.

Leaders' Responsibility

The responsibility for these tragic happenings rests on some of the leaders in the "civil rights" movement, particularly on those leaders who misconstrued demonstrations like the famous "March On Washington" as seeming to give the stamp of approval to demonstrations of all kinds.

Today, many of the northern cities, including New York and Chicago, are conscientiously striving to handle the difficult problem of racial integration. But they find themselves not occupied merely with what the Constitution and the law require—namely, that there shall be no racial discrimination in citizenship rights. They are instead being stamped to correct "racial imbalance" by methods which introduce a counter-discrimination—as, for instance, against those white citizens whose children are being prevented from going to their own neighborhood schools. This is one of the demands of "civil rights" leaders in their boycotts and other demonstrations.

Also, the newspapers in Cleveland report that a local rifle club is being formed to protect the "civil rights" demonstrators. There are said to be about 16 such rifle clubs in the country, and their avowed object is to intervene wherever "police guarantees" are deemed inadequate.

How can public sentiment express itself against encroachments on private rights? The citizens of Wisconsin found a way, and so did the voters in Kansas City, Mo., this week when they voted on a city ordinance which dealt with "public accommodations." The ordinance was designed to enlarge the number of places in which discrimination would be prohibited, and went beyond the provisions of the pending bill in Congress. The measure was under vigorous attack by tavern owners, and the vote was about 50-50, as the ordinance won by a narrow margin.

Why, in a place as far distant from Alabama as Kansas City, would the citizens be divided evenly on this question if the issues were as clear as some of the supporters of the so-called "civil rights" legislation have described them? The problem in Kansas City, just as in other cities, is one that turns on the extent to which an effort to prevent discrimination results in a drive whereby governmental authorities control freedom of association and freedom of choice of customers in private business.

All this adds up to civic resentment, the first signs of which are beginning to appear in different sections of the country. The pending "civil rights" bill is only a first step in the crusade. The real crisis will come when the federal government tries to enforce the provisions of the proposed law not only in "public accommodations" but in the handling of employment in various kinds of businesses. Demands that racial quotas become paramount guidelines of employment can only provoke deep-seated antagonisms if the government agencies set up their own methods of de-

New Books

Lillian Ross Excels in 'New Yorker' Style

There is a definite "New Yorker" style, especially so in articles, profiles and reviews, and a lady who has the whole thing down pat is Lillian Ross, author of "Reporting," one of the new books at the Appleton Public Library.

In this collection from that magazine, she is intelligent but not intellectual, wry more than witty, a little tough, a trifle sentimental and more than a mite shrewd. She catalogs cosmopolitan commonplaces with anatomical accuracy; when she uses dialogue she is unerringly right; she has perfect taste; she is never showy, just a bit nasty.

She is also a great follower and in this reporting she follows

(Copyright, 1964)

the Miss America competition, a high school group visiting New York, the Junior League Ball and making of a Hollywood movie. In this last, the longest item in the book, Miss Ross is at her funniest and saddest.

His Hemmingway

Miss Ross also is celebrated for her profiles of celebrities. The three on view here are jeweler Harry Winston, Brooklyn-born matador Sidney Franklin and the late Ernest Hemingway. She contends that her famous hatchet-job on Hemingway was never meant to be one, but what she contends and what it reads like are two different things.

"Hissing Tales" by Romain Gary is a group of short stories by the author of "The Roots of Heaven," with just the right twist, surprise endings and trenchant, spare characterizations.

Irony is at its sharpest in the stories of the art dealer, dedicated to the destruction of fraud, who discovers a telltale flaw in his wife's perfect beauty; the terrible solution worked out by a concentration camp victim in post-war Brazil, and a humanist refugee from Hitler blessing his rescuers who care for him in a hideaway and take over his business long after the war is over.

Savage Satire

There also is some broad farce and savage satire, mostly directed toward American cold war tactics. Particularly memorable is the tale of a Russian journey with a taxi driver who intimidates the American tourists. These are all neat little exercises, with a Gallic flair.

Other new books on contemporary concerns include "Priest in the Piazza" by Bernard Bass, a light-hearted look at the Vatican Council; "The Politics of Population" by William Peterson, "Cities and Space" by Resources for the Future, "What Is Conservatism?" by Frank Meyer, "The Traitor Trade" by Joseph Hutton, "East and West" by Cyril Parkinson, and "Africa and Africans" by Paul Bohannon.

New books of history include "The United States and World War II," volumes one and two, by Albert Buchanan, "Royals Raiders" by North Callahan, "The Story of the Crusades" by Alfred Duggan, "Bandeirantes and Pioneers" by Clodomir Moog, "Gilbert Stuart" by Charles Mount, "I Flew With the Lafayette Escadrille" by Edwin Parsons and "Alexander Hamilton and the Constitution" by Clinton Rossiter.

Other New Books

Also new are "The King Incorporated" by Neal Ascherson, "The World's Warships" by Raymond Blackman, "Dragon Pink on Old White" by Phillip Bonosky, "What They Say in New England and Other American Folklore" by Clifton Johnson, "One of Those Children" by Elizabeth Neal, and "The New Complete Book of African Violets" by Helen Wilson.

New novels include "Assassination!" by Ben Abro, "Lady on the Coin" by Margaret Barnes, "Against Heaven's Hand" by Leonard Bishop, "The Horses"

by Claud Cockburn, "The Crime of Colin Wise" by John Evelyn, "Like Birds, Like Fishes" by Ruth Jhabvala, "At the Gates of Moscow" by Mendel Mann, "Out of the Blue" by Richard O'Connor, "Break the Young Land" by Theodore Olsen, "Martha, Eric and George" by Margery Sharp, and "Some Trust in Charities" by Jack Weeks.

Chimney Fire Stopped

CLINTONVILLE — The Clintonville Volunteer Rural Fire Department was called at 7:08 a.m. Wednesday to extinguish a chimney fire at the Sam Buchholz residence, route 1. The fire was brought under control quickly.

President Leads in Nation's Tribute at MacArthur Casket

BY RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
WASHINGTON (AP) — From under the great dome of the Capitol, where his body was placed with heart-tugging ceremony, General of the Army Douglas MacArthur travels today on his last earthly journey.

President Johnson, who led the nation Wednesday in paying highest homage to the old general, does him further honor today.

The President arranged to go to Washington National Airport and bow in respect as the flag-draped casket begins its air journey at 2:10 p.m. to Norfolk, Va., for final services and burial Saturday.

In between those ceremonies of official tribute, Americans from all strata of national life paid homage of their own in hushed procession through the Capitol rotunda where the body lay in state.

Visitors went through without interruption all night. The peak came about 6 p.m. when the stream was at the rate of about 60 a minute.

Tourists Present
It tapered off later, but even in the 5 a.m. chill there were never fewer than three persons walking past the flag-draped casket.

Some were obviously night-shift workers on their way home — nurses, waitresses, bus drivers and others.

Some appeared to be tourist families passing through Washington. There were children in some groups even in the small hours of the morning.

One contingent of deaf mutes filed by about 3 a.m., exchanging comments in sign language.

The crowd picked up again after the sun was up. Apparently many people were coming through the Capitol before going to work.

One early group consisted of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and six of his children.

Amid Wednesday's mists and

Journey By Train
Down from New York, where MacArthur had lain in state in the renowned old 7th Regiment Armory, the funeral train bore the widow Jean, the son Arthur, 26, and in a flower-banked baggage car, the simple GI-issue coffin. At three points along the route—Trenton, N.J., Odenton and Aberdeen, Md. — military units stood in solemn salute, their colors dipped and their bands playing such hymns as "Lead Kindly Light" and "Faith of Our Fathers."

Soon after the train came to a stop here, the President strode slowly into Union Station.

Setback for Khanh as Reds Win Victory

TAN AN, Viet Nam (AP)—A Communist victory only 15 miles south of Saigon has dealt a major setback to strongman Premier Nguyen Khanh's plan to clear the Viet Cong from Long An Province, on the doorstep of his capital.

Viet Cong guerrillas overran a Vietnamese self defense post at 3 a.m. Wednesday and killed 28 South Vietnamese. Most of the dead, including two civilians were riddled in their beds.

Thirty-six men were wounded and 37 others were missing, believed captured after the hit-and-run battle in which the Viet Cong seized 115 weapons and blew up three watchtowers.

South Viet Nam's 7th Division sent in a large force to stalk the guerrillas, and heavy mortar fire was reported in the area today.

American sources said the guerrillas apparently were aided by agents working inside the post at Go Den, 30 miles north of this provincial capital.

These Communist undercover men were reported to have signaled the attack by racing into the barracks and spraying the sleeping troops with bullets. The Viet Cong attacked in force seconds later.

Emergency Talks Pressed in Effort to Prevent Rail Strike

Wirtz Wants to Continue Negotiating to Midnight Deadline if Necessary

BY NEIL GILBRIDE
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor L. Willard Wirtz pressed emergency negotiating sessions today in an effort to head off a nationwide rail strike at midnight.

After a night session running into the early morning hours, Wirtz met with union representatives again at 10 a.m. EST. Railroad negotiators were to join the session an hour and a half later.

The labor secretary indicated that he planned to keep negotiations going "right on through" to the strike deadline if no agreement was reached.

He had reported "no progress" when the night session ended at 3:15 a.m.

H. E. Gilbert, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen who was absent from yesterday's sessions, came to the 10 a.m. meeting.

200 Roads Involved
Gilbert declined comment on the prospects of averting a strike. "I just got here," was his answer to questions from newsmen.

Charles Luna, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen was expected this afternoon.

Five unions and nearly 200 railroads are involved in the dispute.

As the all-night sessions ended, Wirtz indicated that President Johnson was gravely worried about the prospect that a

Railroads Post Embargo Notices
WASHINGTON (AP) — Most U.S. railroads have embargoed all freight effective at 12:10 a.m. Friday, the Association of American railroads said today.

The embargo because of the threatened nationwide railroad strike serves notice that the railroads will not accept freight for loading, transporting, interchange or reconsignment.

The association said that most railroads will not schedule passenger trains that would be unable to reach their destination by the 12:01 a.m. strike deadline.

It said that in the case of trains already en route, efforts will be made to move them to points from which travelers may obtain alternative transportation.

Need Remains, Grasse Says
Harvey Grasse, chairman of the highway commission, said "there is still the same need for highway program there was before the vote."

Howard Koop, head of the Department of Administration, said "nobody in his right mind could say that the voters are seven to one against highway construction. The governor still thinks it is needed and wants to do something about it."

The State Senate majority leader, Robert Knowles of New Richmond, said the vote showed voters were against a higher gasoline tax, believed the present highway system was adequate and the major highway construction pace satisfactory.

Truck Crash Cuts Phone Service
PLEASANTON, Calif. (AP) — The collision of two trucks led to interruption of telephone service for several hours at Pleasanton Wednesday.

A truck pulling two cement hoppers and another carrying seven pickup trucks collided in an underpass. A telephone pole was knocked down and wires fell on nearby railroad tracks. Moments later, a train passed and severed the wires.

The drivers escaped serious injury.

Government Calls Conditions Ripe to Conclude Walkout

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Premier Theo Lefevre's government announced today it is opening negotiations at once with Belgium's 12,000 doctors and dentists who have been on strike for nine days.

The announcement said conditions were ripe for ending the strike.

Interior Minister Arthur Gilson sat down with leaders of the 12,000 physicians and dentists. Both sides minimized the importance of the meeting, saying it dealt primarily with emergency medical arrangements that are functioning during the strike.

The government radio said, however, that something is moving and that the two sides might get to the heart of the dispute.

Some strikers, particularly general practitioners in rural Flemish areas, resumed house calls and seeing patients in their offices.

Strike leaders in Brussels declared, however, that the doctors would fight on to prevent implementation of changes in the socialized medical law which would set a scale of fees for treatment of persons covered by the state health insurance system and open doctors' treatment records on such patients to government inspection.

Each side waited for the other to make the first move to reopen negotiations.

Premier Theo Lefevre's Catholic-Socialist coalition government was so confident of eventual victory that it began looking for some way to save the faces of the doctors and not leave them permanently embittered.

Government sources said the Cabinet was bound to stand fast because it would risk a general strike if it surrendered to the doctors.

Some striking physicians have taken up temporary residence in France, West Germany, Luxembourg and the Netherlands.

A few have threatened to stay away if the controversial act is not watered down or scrapped.

The strike is in its ninth day.

General Election For British Will Be Held in Fall
LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home announced tonight the British general election will be held in the fall.

A statement from the prime minister's office did not set a precise date, but it is expected to be Oct. 8.

The statement said: "In order to remove present uncertainties about the date of the general election, the prime minister thinks it right to inform the country of his decision not to ask the queen to dissolve Parliament before the autumn."

Gov. Scranton Isn't Candidate For Nomination
HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton today made what he described as "one final effort" to convince supporters that he is not a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

But he did not close the door irrevocably because "no American has the right to take that position."

At a news conference, Scranton said he would, if the GOP convention deadlocks, accept a draft that is "not engineered."

However, the governor said he wanted to make it crystal clear that he is not interested in the nomination for himself and that he is not playing a cagey game to secure it when the Republicans meet in July to pick a candidate at San Francisco.

Scranton said the reason for this unusual news conference was that he was becoming increasingly worried about the number of people who have been rallying behind his possible candidacy.

Brother's Appeal for Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., joined the Senate civil rights debate today with a declaration that John F. Kennedy's "heart and his soul are in this bill."

"If his life and death had a meaning," said the assassinated president's youngest brother, "it was that we should not hate but love one another; we should use our powers not to create conditions of oppression that lead to violence, but conditions of freedom that lead to peace."

Maiden Speech
It was the maiden Senate address for the young senator and he conceded he spoke on the legislation with some hesitation for "a freshman senator should be seen, not heard; should learn, not teach."

He said in his prepared remarks that he had planned to make his first speech on issues affecting industry and employment in his home state "but I could not follow this debate for the last four weeks — I could not see this issue envelop the emotion and conscience of the nation — without changing my mind."

Kennedy, whose other brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, helped draw up the rights proposals, said he believed "the basic problem the American people face in the 1960s in the field of civil rights is one of adjustment."

"It is the task of adjusting to the fact that Negroes are going to be members of the community of American citizens, with the same rights and the same responsibilities as every one of us."

Brazilian Congress May Exclude Leftists
RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Military and congressional leaders agreed today on a sweeping law to purge extreme leftists from Brazil's Congress, government and armed forces and sent it to Brasilia, the capital.

The new law was demanded by the generals who overthrew President Joao Goulart last week. It was reported that, as drafted after a series of meetings in Rio de Janeiro, the law would temporarily suspend rights guaranteed by the constitution.

Election of a new president was delayed until Friday or Saturday because of the negotiations on the antisubversion measure.

Ground Bubbles but Fears of Volcanic Eruption Subside
ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—The ground started bubbling up before the eyes of startled Anchorage residents, then water began gushing out.

For those who had lived through earthquake and tidal wave damage, the new upheaval brought apprehension.

"I hope it isn't a volcano," said Mrs. Robert L. Hanson.

It wasn't.

Roger M. Waller of the U. S. Geological Survey, said underground water pressure probably had built up in the spring thaw and pushed up the soil until it fractured and bubbled out Wednesday.

The result was a bulge about 50 feet across. Residents said the ground had risen 10 feet, pushing up trees as it went.

Nikita Launches Bitter Attack on Chinese Leaders

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) —Premier Khrushchev accused the Communist Chinese today of "irresponsibly playing with the destiny of millions of people."

He predicted their "spasmodic efforts to subordinate world communism will end in shameful failure."

In one of his strongest statements on the Peking regime, Khrushchev told a Soviet-Hungarian friendship rally concluding his 10-day visit to Hungary:

"Under the cover-up of Marxism-Leninism, the Chinese leaders are trying to push the Communist movement into a swamp of great-Chinese chauvinism."

"Their adventurous policies weaken the fight against imperialism. But their spasmodic efforts to subordinate the Communist movement will end in shameful failure."

2 Prominent Judges In Oklahoma Accused Of U. S. Tax Evasion

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) —Federal indictments have charged two prominent judges, who together have served 56 years on the Oklahoma Supreme Court, with evading payment of $25,000 in income taxes.

The indictments returned Wednesday by a federal grand jury named Justice Earl Welch, long a leader in Oklahoma Indian affairs, and supernumerary Judge N. S. Corn.

Welch, 72, is senior member of the state's highest court with 32 years continuous service. Corn, 80, went into semiretirement in 1958 after 24 years as a Supreme Court justice.

Politicians Differ on Meaning of Primary

Reynolds Received All Tangible Prizes From Wisconsin's Democrats

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Spokesmen for civil rights groups agreed Wednesday night the size of the vote received in Wisconsin's presidential primary by Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace showed their organizations must work harder.

But among political figures, there were almost as many different answers as there were contributors to the discussion of the quarter of a million votes given the segregationist governor.

All of the tangible prizes in the Democratic primary went to Wisconsin Gov. John W. Reynolds, a favorite son pledged to President Johnson.

Reynolds received 508,597 votes, according to the unofficial Associated Press count, and won the entire 46 votes Wisconsin will cast at the Democratic national convention. Reynolds got 47.8 per cent of the total vote and about 65 per cent of the Democratic vote.

25 Per Cent
Wallace received 261,148 votes, or about 25 per cent of the total and 35 per cent of the Democratic ballot.

Another 294,724 votes, or 27.6 per cent of the total, went to unchallenged Republican favorite son Rep. John Byrnes of

Green Bay, who will receive the state's 30 votes on at least the first ballot at the Republican national convention.

Wallace's total was 2 1/2 times the figure Reynolds had anticipated he might get from "fanatics and bigots," and it was 10 times the number of votes Wallace said he might get. He had centered his campaign on attacks on the pending federal civil rights bill and claims that the federal government was encroaching on private lives.

Meet Wallace
Wallace was met by a high school band playing "Dixie" and 3,000 cheering well-wishers who waved Confederate flags and banners as he returned to Montgomery Tuesday night.

"I assure you," he told the crowd, "the leadership in both parties and the liberals in Washington have had their eyeteeth shaken."

He also appealed for support for his slate of candidates for unpledged electors in Alabama's Democratic primary May 5. He is sponsoring the unpledged ticket which has refused to promise in advance to support the Democratic presidential nominee.

In reaction from Washington, the White House said Wednesday night the Wallace vote was "not in the slightest" a repudiation of the administration's civil rights program, according to presidential press secretary George Reedy.

Primary Outcome
White House sources praised the primary outcome and said two out of three votes in any situation is good and one to which there certainly would be no objection if that were the nationwide average in the upcoming presidential election. Johnson has not yet announced his candidacy.

Postmaster General John Gronouski, a former Wisconsin tax commissioner, said the results were a resounding triumph for Reynolds "and for the progressive liberal programs he advocates." Gronouski returned to Wisconsin to join the Reynolds campaign last weekend, and read a telegram from Johnson who saluted the Wisconsin governor as a patriot and leader.

Bill Endorsed
Gronouski said Wisconsin voters "strongly endorsed the civil rights bill" by giving 75 per cent of their support to Reynolds and Byrnes. "The people of Wisconsin voted against bigotry and racism by a 3 to 1 margin—That is the most significant and heartening fact about Tuesday's primary."

Democratic Rep. Clement Zablocki said many voters fell for Wallace's "lies" about the civil rights bill. He said that in addition to support from "misinformed voters," Wallace also was backed by "radically bigoted ultraconservatives."

Democratic Sen. William Proxmire said Wallace "lost" and "lost big."

Open Primary
Sen Gaylord Nelson, also a Democrat, said in a statement issued for the Senate that many Republicans took advantage of Wisconsin's open primary law and crossed over into the Democratic race to vote for Reynolds. He said this was a warning that if Republican officials opposed civil rights, many in the party would not go along.

Rep. Henry Reuss of the 5th District in Milwaukee said "Republican irresponsibility clearly played a part in the Democratic primary."

Wisconsin Republican Chairman Talbot Peterson said at Appleton the vote for Wallace was a "crushing defeat" for Reynolds and President Johnson "no matter how they try to explain it."

Byrnes said he didn't think "there was any great civil rights significance in the primary results." And Rep. Melvin Laird, R-Wis., denied Republicans had voted heavily for Wallace. He said most Wallace votes were cast in the strongly Democratic precincts in Milwaukee.

SEC Planning Controls on Floor Trading

FDA Recommends Prosecution for Drug Distributors

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

CONTROLS: The Securities Exchange Commission announced Wednesday it plans to place rigid controls on floor traders in the New York Stock Exchange.

The announcement apparently ended a long argument between the exchange and the commission, which had criticized floor trading as "a vestige of the private club atmosphere" that marked exchanges years ago.

New Rules

The proposed new rules, accepted by the exchange, would prohibit a broker from trading for his personal account while executing orders for his customers.

If normal procedure is followed, the new standards would be formally adopted about May 15 and would become effective 30 to 60 days after that date.

KREBIOZEN: The Food and Drug Administration has recommended to the Justice Department that distributors of Krebiozen be prosecuted, a spokesman said Wednesday.

In the long and heated controversy over the drug, its sponsors claimed it was effective in combating cancer. But the FDA announced in September that its studies had identified Krebiozen as nothing more than creatine, an amino acid plentifully available from meat in the normal diet. The agency said it found it was ineffective in the treatment of cancer in animals.

In November, the agency cited the product's principal sponsors for alleged interstate shipment of Krebiozen under false claims and other misrepresentations, giving them an opportunity to show cause why they should not be prosecuted.

U.S.-RUSSIA: President Johnson is described as having noted with some satisfaction a "more normal situation" in American-Soviet relations.

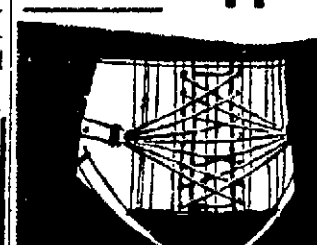

This word was relayed to newsmen Wednesday by U.S. ambassador to Moscow Foy D. Kohler after he had a 50-minute meeting with Johnson.

Kohler cited as an example of more normal relations the recent cultural exchange agreement and negotiations on an American-Soviet consular conventions.

ATLANTA, April 5: In a blazing exhibition of total performance, ace driver Fred Lorenzen piloted his specially modified '64 Ford to a stunning victory in the Atlanta "500" before a cheering crowd of 75,000 spectators.

This victory marks the 11th time that Ford has captured a NASCAR stock car event of 500 miles or more starting in May, 1962.

In the past two years, tough, dependable Ford-built cars have carved out an incredible history of victories in virtually every kind of automotive event possible—from stock car races to economy runs, from rallies to endurance tests.

This is the dramatic way to show that Fords have changed... and the sure way to be certain they keep on changing.

Ford enters special cars in open competition, in addition to its extensive laboratory and test track programs, because competition provides an intensity of testing that no proving ground alone can provide.

House Passes 2 Bills Wanted by Johnson For This Election Year

Food Stamp Program Was Part of 'War on Poverty'

WASHINGTON (AP)—From the sometimes fractious House of Representatives, President Johnson had two legislative plums today.

They were:
The big and controversial wheat-cotton subsidy bill; a top priority election year measure on his desk and ready for his final signature.

House approval of the food stamp program, a key part of his declared "war on poverty." This goes to the Senate, where it must await action in the dim future after the civil rights bill is disposed of.

Hot Session

The House acted on both measures after a hot, bothered and bewildering session that began at 11 a.m. Wednesday and didn't end until 12:44 a.m. today.

The food stamp plan passed handily by a 229-189 margin in spite of a long campaign of delaying action by Republican opponents. It got the support of 216 Democrats and 13 Republicans, while 163 Republicans and 26 Democrats were opposed.

But the wheat-cotton bill was a cliffhanger, approved 211 to 203. A switch of five votes would have changed the outcome. That vote came well after midnight under a procedure that limited debate to one hour and banned any amendments.

A tense hush came over the chamber as the last stragglers were being recorded in the "well" of the House, a circular area in front of the speaker's chair. Suddenly, Republican

Republicans charged that big city Northern Democrats had entered into an "unholy alliance" with Southern conservatives, trading their support for the food stamp bill in return for support of the cotton-wheat bill.

The food stamp program expands and makes permanent a pilot operation. Under it, needy families would buy food stamps with the portion of their income they would normally spend for food.

The stamps would be redeemable at the grocery for more than the cash paid in, and would buy just about any food item. The idea is to increase the variety and food value for poverty stricken families, some of which are now getting a direct dole of surplus food stocks owned by the government—powdered milk, dried eggs and the like.

Valley Joins In Defeat of 4 Referendums

Project 66 Vote Beaten Severely In 4-County Area

Fox Valley voters joined the rest of the state Tuesday in a resounding defeat of four referendum questions.

Waupaca, Outagamie, Winnebago and Calumet counties' electors gave the severest beating to a gasoline tax increase to speed up highway construction.

The vote was 6,584 yes and 62,470 no for an almost 10-to-one vote in the Valley.

In the state, with 3,245 of the 3,552 precincts reporting, the vote was 130,342 yes, and 779,475 no.

By counties, the vote was: Waupaca, 954 yes, 8,098 no; Calumet, 529-5,093; Winnebago, 2,665-26,910; and Outagamie 2,436-22,379.

Slightly less ringing, but still overwhelming was the Valley's defeat of three proposed constitutional changes.

A proposal to boost the mill tax for forestry purposes made the best showing in the valley with 27,060 yes and 37,252 no.

Calumet County defeated the proposal by the largest percentage with a 1,918-3,281 vote. Outagamie was 8,473-13,173; Winnebago 12,240-15,337; and Waupaca 3,929-4,869.

Of the state's precincts, 3,245 reported a 386,114-464,122 vote.

The property valuation referendum lost in a 18,665-30,301 vote. Totals were Outagamie 7,369-13,765; Winnebago 7,116-18,484; Waupaca 2,584-4,908; Calumet 1,596-3,114.

retain North Central Airline service.

Otto, who represents Clintonville in the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) area airport investigation, said in a letter read to the city council Tuesday night that such a campaign "could be helpful to urge them to give their wholehearted support in assisting Clintonville in retaining air service."

Otto explained petitions for review on CAB examiner Edward T. Stodola's recommendation Clintonville retain its air service. He said both the CAB's Bureau of Economic Regulation and North Central Airlines have requested a review.

Extensive Brief

He said if the CAB decides to review Stodola's recommendation, "there will be the necessity of another extensive brief to support the initial decision and subsequent oral argument in Washington, D. C."

"I am convinced," Otto said, "that on the record there is no doubt that the City of Clintonville should continue to receive service at Clintonville, and if this matter is decided upon the facts and the record and according to the rules of evidence and law, then we will prevail."

"I am convinced," he said, "that any court would uphold the examiner's decision based upon the record."

However, Otto warned of the pressures of public opinion and politics on administrative agencies.

He said "it is imperative... that we maintain our passenger boardings at as high a level as possible."

"The importance of Clintonville citizens writing letters to their senators and congressman," Otto said, "cannot be over-emphasized."

Post-Crescent Columnist Speaks At Chamber of Commerce Dinner

Post-Crescent Women's Editor

The same keen wit and delightful humor that Ann Landers daily spills into her Post-Crescent column brought cascades of approval and appreciation from Chamber of Commerce members and guests at their annual dinner Wednesday evening at the Conway Hotel.

The old-fashioned advice to the lovelorn column of 25 years ago has gone down the drain with bathtub gin, Miss Landers said. The deluge of mail received every day asks advice on many subjects other than love.

People today, she commented, want more of everything except calories and taxes. Every letter received, no matter how illiterate or trivial, receives a personal reply. She believes that anyone who takes the time to write deserves an answer.

Miss Landers is quite clear about taking her work seriously. She doesn't write to "roll 'em in the aisles". Her column is designed to help people with problems. If it makes them laugh occasionally, so much the better. Humor makes advice seem less pompous. She is sharply aware of the responsibility that comes from the faith placed in her, and, saying it is impossible to be an oracle, knowing everything about everything, turns to experts for answers.

Professional Advice

Professional advice from lawyers, doctors, businessmen and psychologists are as close as her telephone. She does not try, she says, to substitute for the clergy, the doctor or anyone else. Hundreds of times a month she urges writers to seek professional aid from those who can help with alcoholism, marriage counseling, mental health facilities or legal aid, all in the writer's local community.

Giving advice to the readers of the 565 newspapers in which her column appears is a major undertaking. Her staff of nine,

working at the Chicago Sun-Times, includes one woman who does nothing but open mail. She spends $25,000 a year on postage, stationary and other basic expenses. She spends 10 or 12 hours a day on the job.

The diminutive speaker says she loves her work. If she didn't, she wouldn't do it. "My husband works full time now and I don't have to make a living." Writing a column is a fascinating and exciting business, she explains. She hears from just about everyone—people on suburban estates and in city slums, the intelligent and the unbelievably ignorant, the funny and the heart-breaking. Letters come from the poorly educated and those so deaf with the language she must look up the words.

Letters from low income writers are the most honest, she said. They send frank and earnest cries for help. Every batch of mail contains a surprise, she said. Her writers are the "most warm-hearted, irascible, critical

Chilton Firm Wins Contract

Hedrich Construction Will Improve Brillion Sewage Treatment

BRILLION—Hedrich Construction Co. of Chilton has been awarded the contract for construction of sewage treatment plant alterations and a sewage lift station.

The firm had a low bid of $56,228.

The contract for the electrical system was awarded to Keil-Werner Electric, Inc., Neenah, with a low bid of $3,290.

The project entails additions to the present disposal plant to improve facilities there. An interceptor sanitary sewer was installed along Spring Creek last winter to bring in sewage coming from the northwestern part of the city.

Work on the plant alterations and lift station is expected to start about April 15, according to City Clerk Lynn Williams.

Waupaca Studies Dutch Elm Disease Control Methods

Reports at Small Cities Conclave, From Other Municipalities Sought

WAUPACA — Dutch elm disease, the city's debt limitations and the city's engineering reports were discussed Wednesday by the city council.

Mayor Lloyd Matheson asked aldermen attending the Small Cities Conference meeting in Ripon to report on the Dutch elm disease program there.

Ald. Edward Wacek, Ernest Anderson, Edward Spanbauer and Alfred Jarnick said spraying is not used in Ripon. They reported spraying as a method of preventing the spread of the disease creates new problems.

The Ripon method is to immediately cut down and burn infected elm tree and to use fertilizer and water to strengthen healthy trees.

Trim Trees

Mayor Matheson said the city will have a ladder truck which can be used to trim trees on city property, and, if no other service is available, they also can trim trees of property owners with the cost charged to the owner.

The council tabled the discussion after Mayor Matheson said the board of public works will hire an assistant street superintendent next week. The new assistant and Nels Rasmussen, street superintendent, then will visit Kenosha to learn how Kenosha stamped out the disease.

Financial statements on the city's indebtedness were distributed to each alderman. Mayor Matheson reported the city's debt will be about $272,000, excluding the school district's general obligation bonds, at the end of 1964.

He said the city again is planning to borrow about $80,000 for public works projects this year.

The statements, prepared by Mrs. Dell Ward, city clerk, indicated the city's indebtedness at the end of 1963, including the school district bonds, totaled $336,924. The school bonds totaled $355,000. The school debt is retired by the school district.

Raze Buildings

The statement listed promissory note issues of $140,000 and $30,000 in 1961, $50,000 and $70,000 in 1962 and $55,000 in 1963 for a three-year total of $325,000.

Mayor Matheson told the council three buildings, in addition to the Delavan Hotel, should be razed. Letters will be sent to the property owners. One of the buildings is near the Water Street and the third is on North Street.

Mayor Matheson invited all the council members to attend the next meeting of the city planning board when engineering surveys will be discussed. He said it should be attended by the public because much is at stake in zoning and subdivision planning.

Election Canvass

For mayor, Lloyd Matheson, 981; Marlin Looker, 19, and Eric Lindskoog, 13, for city clerk, Mrs. Dell Ward, 855, and Mrs. Edna Murray, 120, and Municipal Justice Whalen, 953.

Aldermanic results were Ernest Anderson (1st) 206, Keith Glover (2nd), 109, two-year term, and Edward Spanbauer (2nd) 112, one-year term; Edward Wacek, (3rd) 93, and Glen Sheveland, 78; Douglas Johnson (4th), 220, and Alver Lindskoog, 162, and Robert Strebe (5th), 126 to Bernard Rickel, 36.

Tom Holly was elected Fourth Ward Justice of the peace by receiving three write-in votes.

Addressing the audience of 250 persons in the high school gym, Erickson said "now is the time to do your work, now is the time to decide on the college you wish to attend." He urged students to keep the "now" in mind in all their work. Potential is not a good word. Production is better, Erickson said. If you are an athlete, now is the time to put forth your best effort, not have the potential and the attitude that you will wait until college to try and do better, he added.

U. S. to Grant Chilton Aid for Sewer Plant

Letter to Council Says $57,000 Will be Given for Work, if Contracts Approved

CHILTON—The federal government will grant the city $57,000 for rejuvenation of a sewerage plant, a letter from a government spokesman stated.

Government monies will not be available for a $16,000 storage building and the influent sewage system, the council learned Tuesday night.

Total cost of the project will reach approximately $190,000 and will start as soon as contracts are signed and approved by federal agencies.

In order to receive the grant-in-aid, the contract accepted must be approved by the federal government.

Expires June 15

The grant expires June 15, and plans must be final by that date.

Vincent Reinkober, utilities commissioner urged the council to approve building of the storage building with the present project.

The council, however, decided to drop plans for the building at the present time to cut costs. Ald. George Winkler said in the future the city could build this building on its own.

Reinkober said the building is needed now because the No. 1 well building is being used for storage, and as soon as the well goes into operation storage will not be possible. A truck is presently being parked on the 100,000 gallon water tank.

Softener Work

The council also approved an expenditure of $1,306 for the rejuvenation of the old softener used for the No. 1 well and $6,970 for softener materials to be used when the new well goes into operation.

June 1 has been set by Public Works Director Russell Kallupa as the day when the new well will go into use.

sharp-tongued, lovin'est cross section in the world."

Three Types of Readers

Miss Landers says she has three kinds of readers—the perpetually irritated, who object either to the problem or the advice; the secret, who never admit they read but always know what the column says, and the slavish, who frankly admit they never miss it.

About half her mail comes from men, most of whom fall in'to the secret reader group. They write because they are worried, and almost all are worried about one thing — women. They are concerned about their mothers, their mothers-in-law, but usually their wives or their girl friends. Often it is a combination of the last two.

Men's attitudes toward her column have greatly changed in the last 10 years, she said. They tell her she sounds as if she knows the score, and then go on to say that they are successful in business but their personal lives are a mess; they can run a board of directors, but can't cope with their kids, or they can communicate with others, but not with their wives. They are so busy making a living, she says, they have failed to make a life.

One of the most telling and tragic features of our times, Miss Landers believes, is the breakdown of American integrity. She cited the TV quiz scandals, saying we should mourn not for the cheaters, but for the average person who saw nothing wrong with the cheating.

Thousands of Quizzes

People face thousands of such quizzes every day, in supermarkets. One-fourth of us will not steal anything, she said; one-fourth will steal everything, and the rest vary according to temptation and the chances of not getting caught. In only a handful of colleges today is cheating not a common practice. Students can buy lecture notes, file exams and doctorates for a given price. Executives travel first class when the company foots the bill, tourist when they pay their own way. Those who wouldn't steal from their friends think nothing of taking a half-empty day from an employer.

About one-fourth of Miss Landers' mail is from teen-agers, and presents a good idea of the state what young people are thinking about. She is often asked, she said, whether teens today are worse than when their parents were growing up. She cannot say they are the same. They have the same urges, but the opportunity for mischief provided by the automobile has changed everything. It is a chance to get away, it provides status and is a portable bedroom. More kids get in trouble at an earlier age today than ever before.

Unmotivated, unproductive, disturbed kids are the result of parents' unhappy marriages and too much money. All kids get out of gifts is the habit of receiving, she said. Too many know the price of everything and the value of nothing. If she could give American parents one bit of advice, Miss Landers would tell them not to give their children everything. Let them want and let them earn. They'll respect both parents and themselves for it. Teens are still children, and they need to be told "no."

"Teen-Agers and Sex"

She believes her book, "Teen-Agers and Sex" serialized in the Sunday Post-Crescent, the most important thing she has ever done.

Before she began her advice column nine years ago, Miss Landers, in private life Mrs. Jules Lederer, said she had no idea how many stumbling, frightened people needed help; how many dragged their migraines and ulcers to work with them, how many homemakers drink alone and how many men and women cannot get through a day without tranquilizers.

Life is tough for everyone in one way or another, she commented, advising that no one envy a neighbor. "You never know what goes on behind closed doors and drawn curtains."

She compared life to a grindstone, saying that whether it polishes or reduces to dust depends on what the person is made of. Trouble is the great equalizer, the common denominator of living that makes a person grow up and identify with others.

Everyone wants love, recognition, acceptance, peace of mind and peace in the world. These will come only from loving and understanding the inner man, Miss Landers concluded.

Appleton Youths Lead State Model Legislature Delegation

Robert Taggart Will be Governor; Beth Mounts Is Assembly Speaker

Appleton will take the reins first an illegal act subject to a fine of $500 or one year in jail, to lengthen the governor's and lieutenant governor's terms to four years and require that they be affiliated with the same party and set up more stringent testing requirements for drivers' licenses.

With Robert (Chip) Taggart as governor and Beth Mounts as Speaker of the Assembly, the Appleton delegation will hold an influential political position in the model youth legislature which will convene in Madison Friday and Saturday.

Sixteen Appleton teen-agers will try their hand at the inner workings of state government in the YMCA-sponsored Youth in Age in Wisconsin from 21 to 18 years of age.

Probing at serious problems, the Appleton "legislators" will introduce bills to establish a minimum voting age of 21, to help the teen-agers with governmental procedures — may be convicted of driving while under the influence of alcohol, to make illegal birth after the Legislators throughout the country have been known to transform the ideas of youth legislatures into law.

Appleton young people participating in the legislature, in addition to "Gov." Taggart and "Speaker" Mounts, will be senators Jay Tilkens, Jane Robinson and Caren Chumbley and assemblymen Judi Werner, Kristi Seifert, Jean Sitterson, Era Bennett, Grace Barlow, Sandy Schuh, Malcolm McIntyre, Mark Lowell, Robert Schneider, Nicholas (Chip) Retson and Mounir Nimatallah.

Program Director
Mrs. Maxine Vanervenoven, women and girls' program director, and Robert Tucker, associate youth director, will accompany the group to Madison.

The delegates will travel by bus with the Oshkosh delegation. The brief legislative session will convene at 10 a.m. Friday. Gov. John Reynolds and Youth Gov. Taggart will address the House and Senate will reconvene Friday evening after the governor's banquet at the Park Motor Inn. The governor's reception at the Madison YMCA and a dance will follow the evening session.

Morning and afternoon legislative sessions are scheduled for Saturday. Taggart will speak at 4 p.m. Saturday to conclude the model legislature meeting. He will sign or veto bills passed by the legislature, and explain his reasons for any vetoes.

State Delegates
About 150 Tri-Y and Hi-Y and Hi-Y members from throughout the state will participate in the Youth in Government program. They prepared for the legislative session at a prelegislative meeting in Madison at which they learned parliamentary procedures and jargon.

Oshkosh Assemblyman William Steiger, R, is chairman of the program. Bills to be introduced by the Appleton "legislators" are:

—The bill to reduce the minimum voting age, by Mark Lowell.

—The bill on illegitimate births, to be introduced by Jean Sitterson.

—The bill to amend the state constitution concerning the governor and lieutenant governor, by Caren Chumbley.

Other Bills
—A bill to make a 30-day jail term mandatory for drivers convicted of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol, by Malcolm McIntyre.

—A bill to require that each driver take a written driver's test, an eye and reflex examination and a road test every 10 years, by Nicholas Retson.

—A bill to make it mandatory that all drivers who are 60 years old or older will become 60 within six months take the standard road test, and that they take it again every five years, by Jay Tilkens.

—A bill to make the period from noon to 3 p.m. on Good Friday a legal holiday, by Judi Werner and Kerry Ashman.

Salad Favorites... All in One Cookbook

Mrs. Charles Wruck, right, Clintonville High School home economics teacher, and three members of the school chapter of Future Homemakers of America discuss sales strategy for the new cookbook on salads. Mrs. Wruck and 10 other home economics teachers in area high schools have recipes published in the book and most FHA chapters are selling the book to raise funds for various club activities. The Clintonville High students are, from the left, Karen Teske, Amy Fredrick, standing, and Sandra Knitt. (Laib Photo)

Collection Includes Recipes of 11 Home Economics Teachers

Post-Crescent Food Editor

There's an interesting new cookbook on salads and appetizers available in the Fox Valley area... it's full of Wisconsin recipes with every one of the 2,000 recipes in it a favorite of a high school home economics teacher somewhere in the United States. To make the cookbook even more interesting, 11 of those teachers are from our own area high schools... Seymour, Chilton, Brillion, Clintonville, Waupaca, Marion, Shiocton, Shawano, Wild Rose and two from Wittenberg High.

Student members of various Future Homemakers of America chapters are selling these attractive cookbooks right now. The cost is a low $2.95 considering the quantity of those well organized salad recipes. Besides, proceeds from the sale boost each member's FHA points in the club record book and raise funds for chapter projects. Most of the groups are planning to help finance delegates to the state convention through the cookbook sale.

The sale has become an annual event, really. This 1964 salad edition matches two earlier books in a trilogy... one on meats and a second on desserts. They all have a spiral binding and firm cardboard covers in attractive color.

This salad book really covers the field. Name the salad and you can find it. The book starts off with several pages of what I call "sensible salad talk" on how to dress a salad, how to make the right choices and several excellent guides, even including a specific calorie count.

So for some good eating, the recipes from teacher favorites in our own area are chosen for today. Many of them are gelatin salads, but there also are two similar fruit salads, a wonderful Onion-Dill dip and a Pennsylvania Dutch dressing that is superb with fresh spinach or lettuce leaves.

STRAWBERRY CREAM SQUARES

Mrs. Beverly Wruck
Clintonville High School

2 pkgs. strawberry gelatin
2 cups boiling water
20 ounces frozen strawberries
2 cups crushed pineapple
3 ripe bananas, finely diced
1 cup nuts
1 cup dairy sour cream

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add strawberries, stirring occasionally until fruit thaws. Add pineapple, bananas (firm ones as well as ripe) and nuts. Pour half mixture in 8 x 8 x 2 pan; chill until firm. Spoon an even layer of sour cream over firmly chilled gelatin layer. Stir and gently pour remaining gelatin over sour cream; chill until firm. Serve in squares alone or on lettuce or other greens.

If desired, the nuts may be combined with the sour cream instead of the fruit-gelatin mixture. Also, the use of bananas and nuts is optional and both may be omitted. Another variation is the combination of sour cream with cream cheese, if desired; measure half cup sour

PARTY SALAD

Mrs. Lois Sadogierski
Waupaca High School

1 pkg. (3-oz.) lemon gelatin
2 pkgs. lime gelatin
4 cups boiling water or pineapple juice-water mixture
8 ounces cream cheese
2 cups grated American cheese
2 cups cottage cheese
1 can crushed pineapple, drained (No. 2½ can)
½ pint whipping cream

Dissolve lemon and lime gelatin in water or mixture of heated water and pineapple juice. While mixture is still warm, add cream cheese and mash with fork until dissolved. Refrigerate. When partially congealed, add remaining cheese and crushed pineapple. Whip cream; fold into mixture. Pour into oiled salad mold. Refrigerate until firm. Salads in Wonderful Variety

Salads go a long way in menu planning. There are salads one can plan a meal around, salads that make ideal main course accompaniments, and salads that stand by for quick refreshing snacks.

Some lend themselves graciously to party menus for high style entertaining... as does this pretty Party Layer Salad. Bright-colored tomato aspic with bean sprouts forms a base for the tangy cheese layer. This is a combination which offers a two-tone color appeal with twice as much eating enjoyment. Definitely eye-catching, this salad fits successfully into any company meal, and it owes its success to convenient-to-use canned food ingredients.

PARTY LAYER SALAD

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
2 cups canned tomato juice
½ cup chili sauce
1 can (1 lb.) bean sprouts
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
½ cup water
1 can condensed consommé
½ cup mayonnaise
½ cup crumbled blue cheese
Tomato Aspic Layer: Sprinkle gelatin over one cup tomato juice in saucepan to soften; heat over low heat until gelatin is dissolved, stirring. Remove from heat. Add remaining tomato juice, chili sauce and ½ cup liquid drained from bean sprouts; chill until partially thickened. Stir in drained bean sprouts and onion. Pour into an 8 x 8 x 2 inch pan; chill until almost firm.

Cheese Layer: Sprinkle gelatin over water in a saucepan. Heat over low heat until gelatin is dissolved, stirring. Add consommé; chill until partially thickened. Stir in mayonnaise and cheese. Spoon over tomato aspic layer. Chill until firm. Serve cut in squares. Recipe makes 12 servings.
